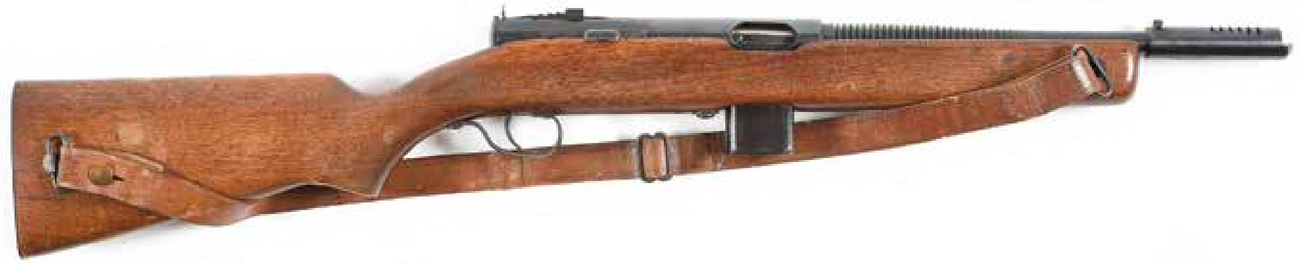
1002 - (N) HIGHLY DESIRABLE WORLD WAR 2 ITALIAN BERETTA MODEL 38A MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).

Manufacturer: Beretta
Model: 38A
Serial No. I4132
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 14”
FFL Status: NFA

Very nice presenting Beretta Model 38A machine gun with no manufacturer’s markings on top receiver tube. Barely discernible change to the sheen of the metal indicates they were professionally removed. Visible numbers matching on receiver and barrel shroud. One original 40 round magazine included. Small locking screws which retain main screws not present at trigger guard. No effect to serviceability. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine to near excellent professional refinish with some plum color to hardened piece forward of charging handle and safety lever. Magazine well hardware and buttplate do not appear to be refinished. Non-matching numbered stock has been repaired by professionally fitting a 8” long triangular piece at the toe, pinning it in place with evidence of glue at buttplate. Slight gap between wood and buttplate at toe. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is very fine, shiny lands, lightly frosted in the grooves. Bolt is extremely fine. Wood lightly sanded with some scattered dings and handling marks. Very attractive. A wonderful World War 2 sub-machine gun, righteously considered one of the best of the World War 2 era. These guns are accurate, controllable, durable, and reliable. Selective fire gun with two triggers, one for full-auto, and the other for semi-auto fire. Several collectors this cataloger knows have stated the World War 2 Beretta 38A machine guns are the best 9mm machine guns they have ever fired. Whomever acquires this gun will certainly enjoy taking it to the range. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-001 12,000 - 18,000



1003 - (N) REFINISHED DALLAS COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPT HARRINGTON & RICHARDSON REISING MODEL 50 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Harrington & Richardson
Model: 50
Serial No. 11268
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 13.75"
FFL Status: NFA

Extremely fine smooth lustrous refinished Harrington & Richardson Reising Model 50 machine gun with 13.75" barrel with compensator. One 12 round magazine included. Nice vintage light brown leather sling included. The Reising Model 50 was fielded in limited numbers to the Marine corps during World War II when there were insufficient Thompson machine guns to meet military demand and has the intrinsic accuracy advantage of firing from a closed bolt on the first shot. Police departments took a significant number of these Reisings into their inventories during and after World War II. This particular specimen was at one time in the Dallas County Sheriff's Department, and is stenciled, "SHERIFF'S DEPT" above "36" in white letters on left side of buttstock, and cleanly stamped on left side of receiver, "DALLAS CO . SHERIFF DEPT 36". CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine smooth lustrous blue refinish with some slight softening of the lettering on the top of the receiver. Wood is fine with numerous light handling marks and a little loss of finish in places. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is very good with strong rifling with quite a bit of shine. Bolt face extremely fine. This is a select-fire machine gun. The Reising Model 50 is a popular well-made .45 ACP entry-level machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-012 5,000 - 7,000

1004 - (N) ORIGINAL BRITISH STEN MK II MACHINE GUN WITH PARTS KIT (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: British
Model: Sten MK II
Serial No. 26829
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 7"
FFL Status: NFA

Fine British Sten machine gun marked "ENGLAND" on left side of trigger housing and "Sten MK II" on top of magazine housing. No front sight present. Rectangular brass sling swivels at barrel shroud and butt end of shoulder loop. Parts kit without tube, barrel, or front sight. 4 original 32 round magazines are included with this lot. The Sten machine gun is a very simple and straightforward machine gun made mostly of metal stamped parts. It was far less costly ($10.00 U.S. in 1942) and quicker to produce than any of the previous sub-machine guns the British had fielded, and were produced in great numbers for World War II. Includes a Sten "T" stock, World War II magazine loader. PROVENANCE: Copy of original Form 3 with transfer from Dan Shea, Long Mountain Outfitters, and inventory sheet from Ellis Prop liquidation listing this gun by serial number. CONDITION: Overall appearance quite fine although finish coverage just about nil revealing dull gray exposed metal with some light brown patina right where the tube would be grasped. The barrel and shoulder loop have remnants of black enamel paint flaking away to reveal brown patina. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is extremely fine, shiny and bright. Bolt face is fine. This is a select fire machine gun. Parts kit is in very good condition overall. The Sten is a regular at machine guns shooting events. Simple, dependable, taking common ammunition with parts and magazines readily available. All the hallmarks of a good entry level machine gun for the shooting enthusiast. This gun exemplifies its World War II heritage by its condition and shows just how dependable they are.THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-046 5,000 - 7,000

1005 - (N) VERY FINE ORIGINAL GERMAN MP-44 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Germany
Model: MP44
Serial No. 5082o
Caliber/Bore: 7.92mm Kurz
Barrel Length: 16 - 1/4"
FFL Status: NFA

Extremely fine condition, original matching ERMA manufactured MP44. Visible numbers appear all matching including charging handle, buttstock assembly, hand grip assembly and bolt. Nazi proof marks on numerous parts with "WaA" proofs as well. Underside of receiver eagle over "280" indicating ERMA manufacture along with "cos" indicating Mertzwerke, which was a sheet metal firm subcontractor. This weapon was manufactured in 1944 and indicated on the left side of receiver. Nazi eagle proof cartouche visible on left side of buttstock. The MP44 series of weapons was the first assault rifle design which uses an intermediate cartridge; the 7.92x33mm cartridge was not so powerful as the 8x57mm full power rifle round but significantly more powerful than the 9mm Parabellum pistol round. This rifle was a highly effective improvement over the standard bolt action rifle because not only was is semi-automatic with a large magazine capacity but it also could provide automatic fire fulfilling a soldier's needs in many situations. The fact that the cartridge was smaller in length and in weight meant that the solders could carry more ammunition readily available. Includes three original MP44 marked magazines, all manufactured by "fxo" (C.G. Haenel). CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine, approaching near excellent original finish overall with some typical wear to the high edges and some thinning. Wood has some light handling marks and a few bruises. Action is very smooth. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face is also near excellent. This is a select fire machine gun. The MP44 was in an important historical development in the field of military weapons and the condition of this one makes it an outstanding opportunity for the World War II collector/investor. From the estate of noted cartridge collector and World War II veteran William H. Woodin. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-05-011 20,000 - 30,000

1006 - (N) HIGHLY DESIRABLE ORIGINAL MATCHING WWII GERMAN MP-40 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Steyr
Model: MP-40
Serial No. 7008k
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 10”
FFL Status: NFA

Really nice original German MP-40 manufactured by “bnz” (Steyr) in 1943. Visible numbers are matching throughout including barrel, which also has original and rare eagle over 623 (Steyr) with “ar” over “bnz” shield logo. Other parts noteworthy of being matching include sight hood, receiver tube, bolt, rear sight, lower receiver cup, grip frame and swing-out shoulder loop. This gun exhibits the later manufacturing technique of having trunnion retained by indentation on top and bottom of receiver tube. Barrel resting bar not present, but these are readily available. Other specimens of guns made at Steyr during this same serial number range have had bakelite barrel resting bars. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is fine to extremely fine, original finish with a soft brown patina on exposed sheet metal parts with more of a grey-brown patina on the grip frame. Upon disassembly and examining the inside of the receiver tube one finds far nicer finish remaining. Just as one would expect a combat field-used machine gun to be. Mechanics are crisp. Bore rifling is extremely fine, shiny and bright. Bolt face is very fine. There is a small spot of weld just at lower edge of the ejector port which no doubt was where this gun was deactivated at one point. This is a full-auto only machine gun. Please take note that although in a deactivated legal status there does not appear to be any damage to the chamber whatsoever. Apparently, the bolt was just welded closed by touching weld at the ejection port. The MP-40 needs no introduction to the World War II collector or recreational machine gun enthusiast. Considered by many to be one of the best entry-level historical machine guns, it is slow firing, from an open bolt, with parts, magazines and ammunition readily available. In the interest of retaining this guns attractiveness as a matching combat used gun, this gun has no been altered from as found. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 5 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE DEACTIVATED MACHINE GUN. THIS GUN MAY BE REACTIVATED UPON APPROVAL OF APPLICATION TO THE BATF. Morphy’s can facilitate legal re-activation through a local FFL/SOT manufacturer we work closely with should the buyer desire quick and legal activation after winning this gun at auction, but prior to transfer. 1007 - (N) EXCEEDINGLY FINE WEST HURLEY MODEL 1928 THOMPSON MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Auto-Ordnance
Model: 1928 Thompson
Serial No. 455A
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 12 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

Fine condition low serial number specimen as manufactured by Auto Ordnance Corporation in West Hurley, New York. Classic Cutts compensator with Thompson bullet logo on top of compensator, with logo also forward of rear sight. Typical right and left receiver markings. Receiver serial number is the only visible serial number. Includes one West Hurley marked 50 round drum and three 30 round GI magazines. Buttstock is from “M1” model of gun with sling swivel. This is a National Firearms Act item and requires BATF approval prior to transfer. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish extremely fine with nearly all of its lustrous blue finish on metal parts. Some slight high edge wear at the rear sight and where the charging handle rides within the receiver. Vertical foregrip and pistol grip also extremely fine with the slightest of handling marks. Buttstock exhibits a few light handling marks and is a somewhat lighter color. Mechanics are crisp, bore is extremely fine, shiny and bright. The Thompson in this configuration with its compensator is in its iconic classic American profile. When you go out on the range with this gun, people will surely gather around. A great entry level specimen of the American classic. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-037

1009 - (N) OUTSTANDING EARLY VARIANT ORIGINAL GENERAL MOTORS U.S. GUIDE LAMP MANUFACTURED M3 "GREASE GUN" MACHINE GUN WITH ACCESSORIES (CURIO AND RELIC).
Manufacturer: U.S. Guide Lamp
Model: M3 "Grease Gun"
Serial No. 209588
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 8"
FFL Status: NFA

Very well accessorized example of the M3 grease gun with cocking lever on the right side of receiver. Marked on left side of magazine housing "SUB-MACH GUN/CAL 45 M3". Also marked with "U.S. NO." above the serial number and "Guide". Original crossed cannon proof mark very clear above serial number. This is an early specimen which does NOT have the protective fence around the magazine detent button. No oiler present. Includes three 30 round magazines, M3 manual, one spare Buffalo Arms complete bolt, and clamp-on flash hider. PROVENANCE: Copy of original Form 3 transferring from Daniel Shea, Long Mountain Outfitters. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine to near excellent smooth gray original finish, with a noticeable arch of loss of finish to gray patina where the charging lever rotates across the receiver. Factory welding on this gun is very nice, another indicator of an earlier production gun. Two magazines are gray finished with the third having a deep lustrous blue. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face extremely fine. A very attractive specimen, made even more so as an early variant with additional accessories. Scarce item to find in this fine condition. An American World War 2 classic that is fun at the range. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-035 22,000 - 28,000

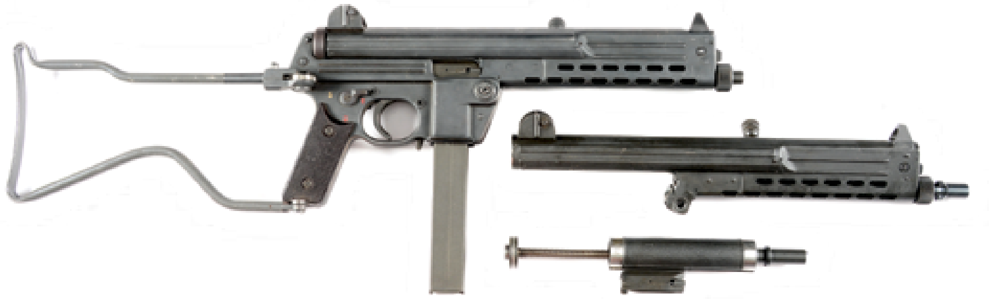
1013 - (N) EARLY WALTHER MPL MACHINE GUN (PRE-86 DEALER SAMPLE).

Manufacturer: Walther
Model: MPL
Serial No. 13253
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/4”
FFL Status: NFA



The Walther MP (Maschinenpistole) started production in 1963, offering two variants, the MPK and the MPL, the K standing for “Kurz” (Short) and the L standing for “Lang” (Long). The Walther MPL was the precursor to the HK MP5. It is made with a distinctively large trigger loop for hefty gloved German hands. The Walther MP series was issued to German police units and received several contracts for countries in South America. This MPL was manufactured by Walther in 1965. “65” stamp followed by an antler stamp are present on the left side of the receiver, indicating production in Ulm, Germany. Eagle over “N” nitro proofs are present on the receiver, upper assembly, and barrel, with Walther acceptance stamps on the receiver and bolt assembly. Barrel is import stamped “INTER AMERICAN SACTO, CA GERMANY”. Side folding wire stock, gutter & peep sights, and two piece black plastic serrated grips. Upper assembly, barrel, and bolt assembly, all match with the serial number “13352”, while the receiver is serialized “13253”. This specimen is complete with a spare upper assembly, spare bolt assembly, spare magazine, and an additional barrel fitted with an Heckler & Koch tri-lug suppressor adapter. PROVENANCE: Copy of original Form 3 from Weapons Curiosa. CONDITION: Metal components retain the majority of their original phosphate finish, showing small scattered scratches to the finish, as well as some small areas of wear from operation and use. Some small arsenal markings are soft, with the remainder being sharp and easily legible. Mirror bore, with well defined lands and grooves throughout. Two piece black plastic grips exhibit some nicks and minor chips from handling. A nice example of a high quality and reliable Walther MPL machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. 1014 - (N) NICELY ACCESSORIZED GERMAN WORLD WAR 2 ERMA MP-40 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Erma
Model: MP-40
Serial No. 3955N
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 9 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

With an estimated 1,100,000 MP-40 submachine guns manufactured during the course of World War 2, one does not have to wonder why the MP-40 is so synonymous with Germany’s Third Reich in nearly all forms of modern day media. Easily recognizable even to the uninitiated, the MP-40’s presence in movies such as Indian Jones and video games like that of Call of Duty, continue to garner it interest, even with the youth of today. A claim not many firearms, especially those of the mid-20th century, can claim. This example was manufactured by Erma Werke in 1943. This gun was acquired from a large TV & movie prop rental house, confirmed by the consignor and other indicators including the serial number on the receiver being lined out, and the second being that the bore is threaded towards the muzzle, which was done in order to accept an internal blank firing adapter. The lower assembly is marked “MP40/ ayf 43” above the serial number, followed by “cos” for Merz-Werke. Merz-werke “cos” proof is also present on the bottom of the receiver, just ahead of the magazine well. Eagle over “280” and eagle over “WaA44” waffenamts are present throughout. Left side of barrel is import stamped “CADMUS INO”. Matching numbers include the receiver, rear sight assembly, barrel, barrel nut, resting bar, lower assembly, trigger guard, folding stock, bolt, and firing pin. Front sight hood is of the MP-38 variation and does not match. This example comes well accessorized, with the accessories including one complete barrel assembly, one incomplete barrel, a contemporary black leather sling, four total magazines, and a “VIGN” marked magazine loader. PROVENANCE: Copy of original Form 3 with transfer from Dan Shea, Long Mountain Outfitters, and inventory sheet from Ellis Prop liquidation listing this gun by serial number. CONDITION: Metal components retain good amounts of their original arsenal applied blue finish, exhibiting wear and thinning all around that shows through to gray and brown patinas, as well as scattered marks from use. Protected areas on the bottom of the receiver retain more plentiful amounts of original blue finish. Bore exhibits oxidation, but retains well defined lands and grooves throughout. Bakelite resting bar shows some minor chips and nicks, but is otherwise good. This is a nice example of an Erma manufactured MP-40, that on top of being a great shooter, will allow the new owner to own a piece of Hollywood movie magic in the form of an outstanding Class 3 selection. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. 15,000 - 20,000

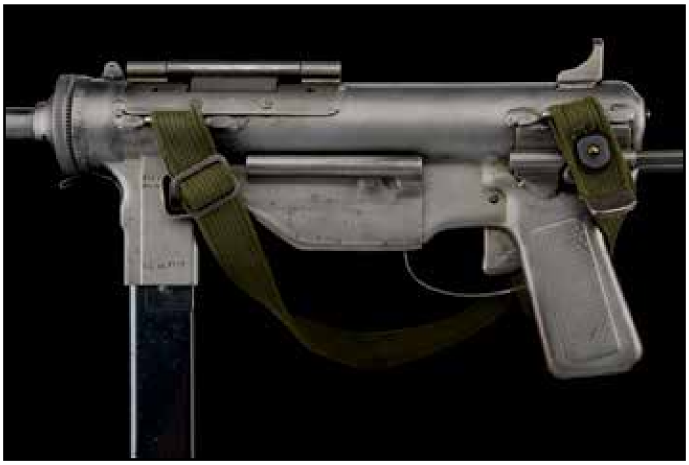
1030 - (N) FULLY TRANSFERABLE MEDIA CORP REGISTERED ITHACA MANUFACTURED M3A1 "GREASE GUN" MACHINE GUN (FULLY TRANSFERABLE).
Manufacturer: Media Corp
Model: M3A1
Serial No. B112
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 8"
FFL Status: NFA



Seldom encountered as fully transferable guns this U.S. M3A1 "Grease Gun" is immediately recognizable as different from the earlier M3 model by the lack of a lever to cock the bolt. Also distinguishable from the left side from the M3 model due to the protective sheet metal "box" around the magazine release designed to prevent inadvertent release of the magazine. On the M3A1, the bolt is cocked by the firer opening the cover over the ejection port and pulling the bolt back using a deep recess in the front of the bolt. If the cover is closed, whether the bolt is cocked, or forward, a catch inside the ejector port cover holds the bolt in place for safety. The cover must be open for the gun to fire, which it does from an open bolt. Flash hider present at muzzle. One lustrous finish original 32-round magazine is included with this gun. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine original smooth grey finish with some light handling marks and loss of finish turning to a pleasing grey patina. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny, and bright. The Grease Gun is a highly sought collectible machine gun from the World War II era. It is slow-firing, controllable, and accurate. A very fun gun to shoot, and magazines are readily available at nominal cost. A great gun for the American military machine gun enthusiast. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4. JWK 2020-11-057 10,000 - 15,000

1032 - (N) EXCEPTIONAL HIGH ORIGINAL CONDITION J. P. SAUER MANUFACTURED GERMAN MP-44 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Germany
Model: MP-44
Serial No. 7317p44
Caliber/Bore: 8mm Kurz
Barrel Length: 16 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

One of the finest condition specimens we have ever seen from this rarely encountered manufacturer, this extremely fine and attractive MP44 is marked “ce” on underside of receiver forward of magazine well indicating J. P. Sauer as the final assembler. Visible numbers are matching including operating rod and bolt. Nazi proof marks on numerous parts with “WaA” proofs as well. Underside of receiver eagle over “280” indicating ERMA manufacture along with “cos” indicating Mertzwerke, which was a sheet metal firm subcontractor. This weapon was manufactured in 1944 and indicated on the left side of receiver. One original 30 round Nazi marked “MP-44” magazine included as well as a reloading die set, 400 boxer primed brass cases, and 18 bags of 100 each 123 grain projectiles. 24 original boxes of steel cased ammunition is also included. The MP44 series of weapons was the first assault rifle design which uses an intermediate cartridge; the 7.92x33mm cartridge was not so powerful as the 8x57mm full power rifle round but significantly more powerful than the 9mm Parabellum pistol round. This rifle was a highly effective improvement over the standard bolt action rifle because not only was it semi-automatic with a large magazine capacity but it also could provide automatic fire fulfilling a soldier’s needs in many situations. The fact that the cartridge was smaller in length and in weight meant that the soldiers could carry more ammunition readily available. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is near excellent original finish. Wood is very attractive, un-sanded and original finish. Mechanics are crisp. Action is very smooth. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face is also near excellent. This is a select-fire machine gun. The MP44 was an important historical development in the field of military weapons and the condition of this one makes it one of the best we have ever carried to auction. If you have an MP-44 already, this one would almost certainly be an upgrade, both in condition and likely also in terms of manufacturer. 1035 - (N) WEST HURLEY THOMPSON SEMI-AUTOMATIC CARBINE WITH HARD CASE (SHORT BARRELED RIFLE).
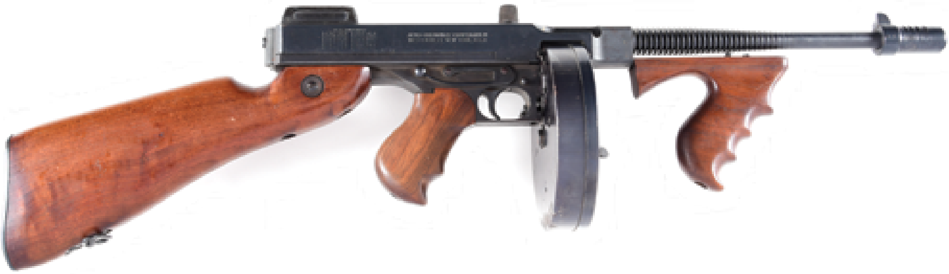
Manufacturer: Auto Ordnance
Model: 1927A1
Serial No. 3449
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/2"
FFL Status: NFA



Semi-automatic Thompson carbine as manufactured by Auto Ordnance Corporation in West Hurley New York in 1977. Classic Cutts compensator with Thompson bullet logo on top of compensator, with logo also forward of rear sight. Typical right side receiver markings, with left clearly marked "SEMI-AUTOMATIC". Buttstock is from "M1" model of gun with sling swivel. This is a National Firearms Act item registered as a Short Barreled Rifle and requires BATF approval prior to transfer. At first glance, this gun could be mistaken for a machine gun. The knurled cocking knob and longer barrel are the only apparent external indicators. Accessories include one West Hurley marked contemporary drum, original 16-1/2" barrel without compensator, one 20 round "WPS" marked magazine, Three 30 round "Seymore" magazines, original 1921A1 owner's manual, 1927A1 takedown guide, brass cleaning rod, and reproduction "Dillinger" hard case specifically made for this model with original paperwork. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish extremely fine with nearly all of its lustrous blue finish on metal parts. Some slight high edge wear and brown patina on left side high edge of receiver. Vertical foregrip and pistol grip also extremely fine with the slightest of handling marks. Buttstock exhibits a few light handling marks and is a somewhat lighter color. Very attractive. Drum has significant deep pitting at lower back and functionality is not guaranteed. Plan on getting a stick mag or having this drum tuned up. Mechanics are fine on this gun which fires from a closed bolt. Bore is extremely fine, shiny and bright. The Thompson in this configuration with its compensator is in its iconic classic American profile. For those of you who love the Thompson but live in a State which does not allow machine guns, but does allow Short Barreled Rifles, here is your opportunity to acquire an iconic American firearm whose profile is recognized worldwide. This ensemble is a time capsule from the late 1970's. 10 round drums are commercially available if your State limits magazine capacity. 1040 - (N) FABULOUS EARLY PRODUCTION ICONIC WW2 GERMAN MG-42 MACHINE GUN WITH HORIZONTAL STRAIGHT CHARGING HANDLE (CURIO AND RELIC).
Manufacturer: Germany
Model: MG-42
Serial No. 2404
Caliber/Bore: 8mm Mauser
Barrel Length: 20 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

The earliest manufactured MG-42 this cataloger has ever evaluated for auction, this Gustloff 1943 manufactured MG-42 machine gun is marked “dfb” with 1943 date in the clear (not coded) on the left side of the receiver. Nazi proof “WaA 4” on receiver for Gustloff as well as other Nazi proof marks on various parts on this gun. Barrel extension is marked “ar” (Mauser), with un-numbered replaced 8 mm barrel. Nazi “dfb” marked bolt is consistent with rest of gun. Accessories include one 7.62X51mm (.308) barrel, feed tray, and top cover conversion set along with some steel non-disintegrating link belts. However, what truly sets this gun apart from so many others is that it retains the original style horizontal charging handle. The first MG-42 guns produced utilized this style handle. It is a historically documented fact that Erwin Rommel observed a demonstration of this “new” machine gun model, and recognized the advantages of its fast-firing qualities over the MG-34. Rommel used his influence to get early production MG-42 guns for his Afrika Corps, and these guns would have had this style charging handle. Relatively soon after adoption, production designers changed the handle to the familiar vertical style. The new style was easier to apply muscular force to and also were less likely to be damaged due to the changed profile. Waffenmeisters changed out the old handles for the new as they could and as a result very few of these original model charging handles are found today. One can discern Nazi eagle cartouche on wooden butt which is without reinforcement wire wrapping. Adding reinforcement wire wrapping was another directive published to waffenmeister in the field as the butts tended to crack under use. Another seldom-seen early feature are the grip panels on this gun, which are of lightweight white metal. Note also the front sight has a provision for adjustable windage and elevation. Bipod is post-war without adjustment knob. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine original finish thinning to gray patina with scattered scratches, and little dings. Grip frame mostly grey patina. Reinforcement wire not present on butt with some cracks which do not affect serviceability. Mechanics of are fine. Bore and bolt are near excellent as is exterior of .308 barrel which has NATO caliber designation marking. This is a full-auto only machine gun. Any who are considering bidding on this gun know what a great machine gun would be to take to the range, but this cataloger would recommend the gun is better relegated to being a showpiece and an example of the early production specimen that it is. It may be a very long time, if ever, before a specimen such as this one surfaces again on the collector market. An enduring icon in its original form! For the forward-thinking advanced collector/investor. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. 1049 - (N) FANTASTIC SACO LOWELL U.S. MILITARY M-60 MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Maremont Corp.
Model: M60
Serial No. 78536
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x51mm NATO
Barrel Length: 24"
FFL Status: NFA

This is a Saco-Lowell manufactured M60 machine gun. National Firearms Act electronic registry shows manufacturer simply as, "US". Receiver is marked, "GUN, MACHINE / 7.62-MM, M60 / SACO LOWELL SHOPS / U.S.". There are NO other markings on the receiver of this gun; verified after close inspection after disassembly. We may be looking at a Curio & Relic eligible U. S. marked M-60 here folks! There were at least 14 trunnions which escaped from the factory prior to 1968 which were then built up into guns, and at least 7 were registered during the Amnesty. All the evidence indicates this is one of these guns. This gun came from the estate collection of a collector known for his expertise and discerning eye within the collecting community. The M60 machine gun was the staple for US forces during the Vietnam War and into the contemporary Army era. Instantly recognizable by veterans and as seen in films, its steady rate of fire combined with the ability to quickly change barrels make it a very popular machine gun. Only external serial number is at left side of trunnion. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish near excellent. Feed tray near excellent with some gray patina in feedway. Inside of receiver shows only slight use. Top cover has slight loss of finish. Composite furnishings near excellent. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. There is no doubt that this is an investment grade specimen, and an incredible opportunity for the advanced American military historian and machine gun enthusiast. Very desirable S & H Arms registered auto sear lower paired with an original Fabrique Nationale, Belgium upper assembly. Upper receiver is marked as imported by “Gun South” with markings below original FN Herstal markings on left side of receiver. “CAL 5,56 mm (.223)” and HOWCO DIST. INC. LAUREL, MO. USA also on left side of receiver. Upper and lower assemblies match in serial number. This sear can be removed and moved into another gun. 4 position smooth-sided aftermarket aluminum lower marked “S, 1, 3, and A”. Serial numbered auto-sear visible when lower is removed from upper. No magazine present, but common M-16 magazines fit. The FN-C model is immediately recognizable from the spring tension cover on the charging handle slot. Each time the charging handle moves to the rear it raises the cover against light spring tension. When the charging handle moves forward the cover closes again. An innovative way to keep the action closed from foreign material getting into the action. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is near excellent black anodized finish on lower near excellent black hardcoat and blued finish on remaining parts. Composite parts near excellent with some slight handling marks. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face is extremely fine. This is a select-fire machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4. JWK 2020-11-051 12,000 - 18,000

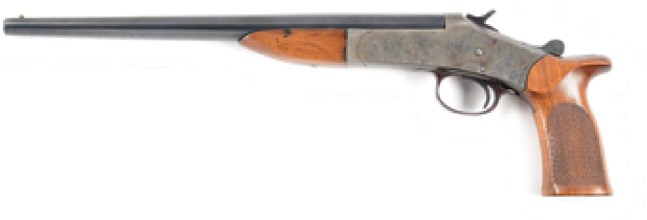
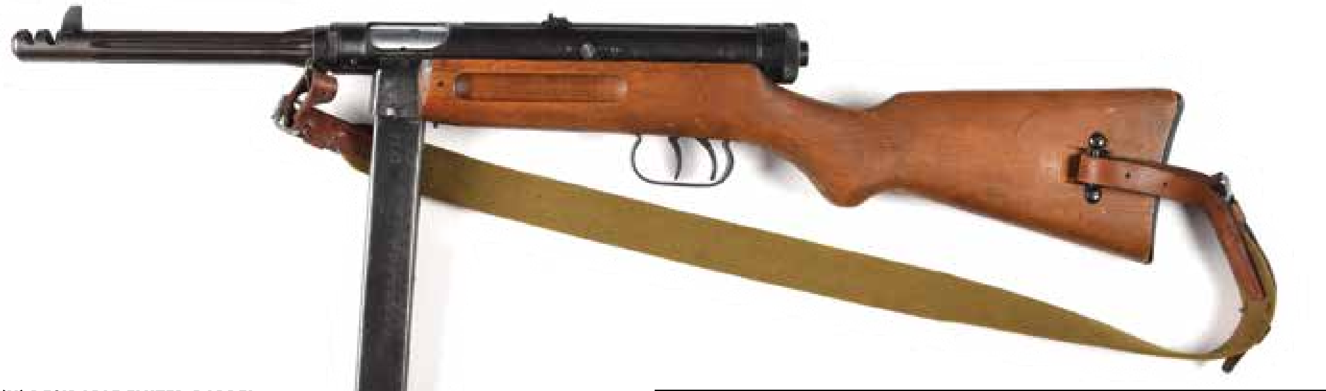
Model: Handy Gun
Serial No. 33653
Caliber/Bore: .410 Bore
Barrel Length: 12 - 1/4”
FFL Status: NFA

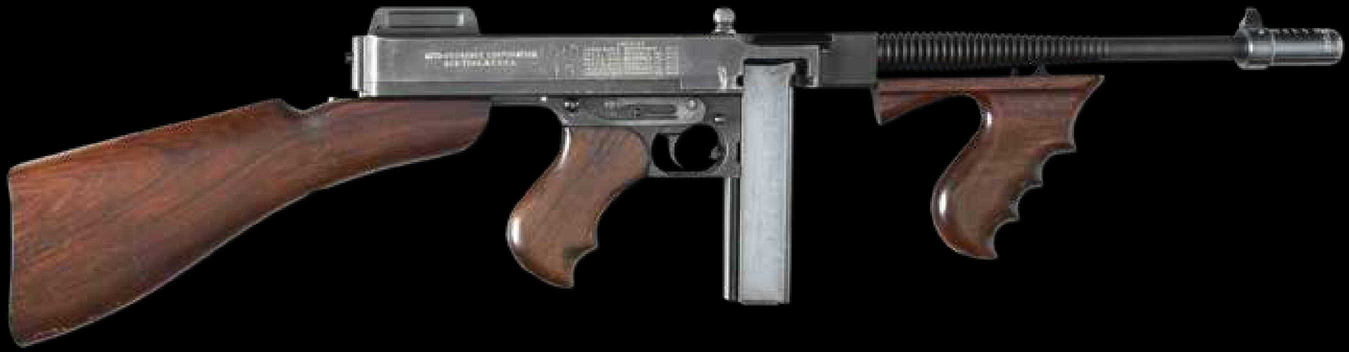


Beginning production in 1921, a total of 54,000 Handy Guns were produced before the National Firearms Act in 1934. Due to their numerous (albeit small) variations, these were found to be popular firearms during their time, and are still found to be quite popular with collectors today. Case colored frame retains the remnants of “H&R Handy-Gun” on the left side. Barrel is marked “410-12m/m CHOKE” over the chamber. Chamber measures 2 - 1/2” with a full choke. Barrel, hammer, trigger, and trigger guard have been reblued. Wood furniture consists of a smooth walnut forend with checkered walnut saw handle pistol grip. CONDITION: Frame retains some of its case colored finish, showing heavy wear with areas of pitting all around, as well as heavy wear to the H&R markings. The barrel retains the vast majority of its reapplied blue finish, showing areas of pitting beneath the finish. Bore is shiny and bright throughout. Walnut furnishings are good, showing some smoothing to the checkering and some scattered handling marks. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM WILL INCUR A $5.00 TRANSFER TAX IF TRANSFERRED ON AN ATF FORM 4. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 CLASSIFIED AS “ANY OTHER WEAPON”. MLW 500 - 1,000



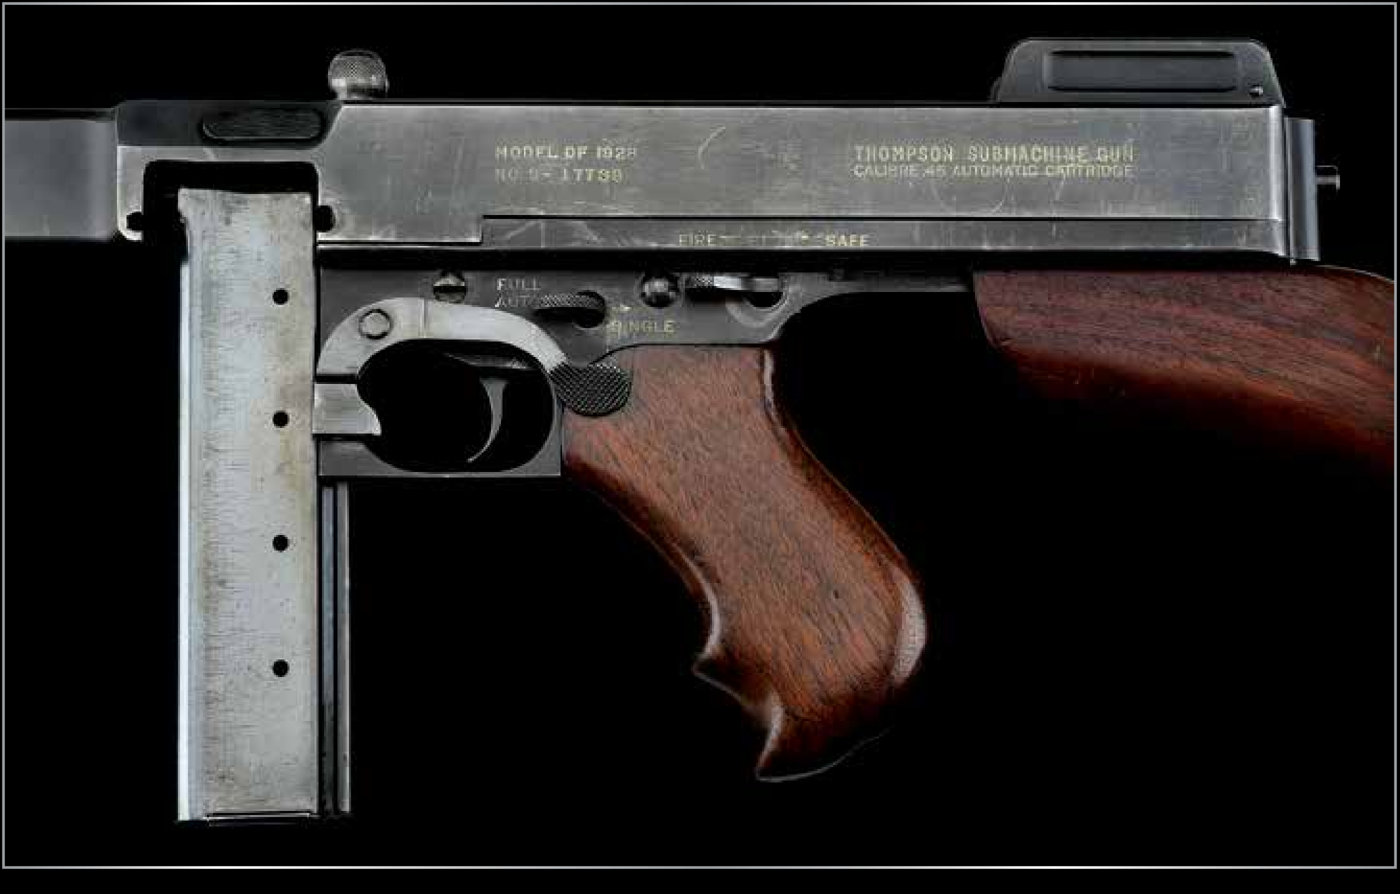
1056 - (N) DESIRABLE FLUTED BARREL BERETTA MODEL 38/42 MACHINE GUN WITH NAZI MARKED STOCK (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Beretta
Model: 38/42
Serial No. CK 8944
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 8”
FFL Status: NFA

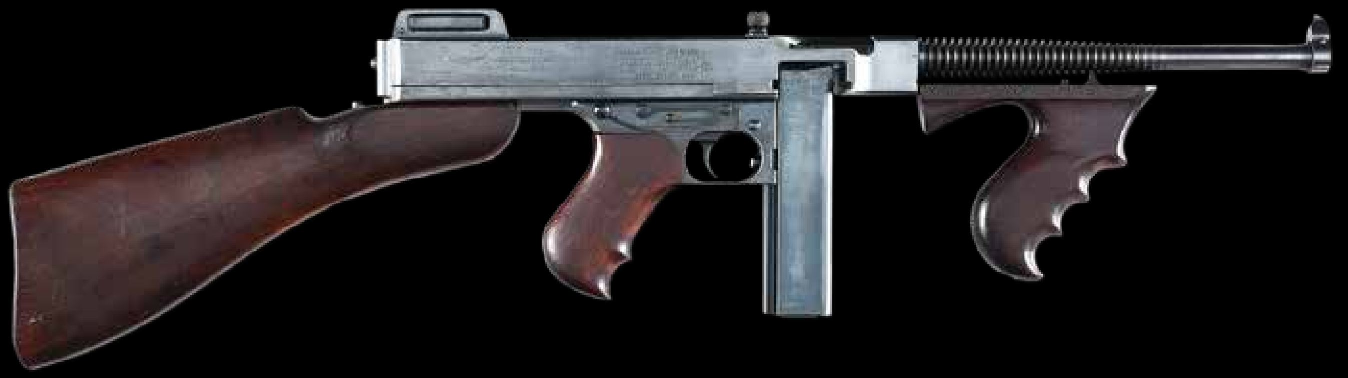
Very attractive Beretta 38/42 with lightly struck WaA 162 (Beretta under German supervision) Eagle proof just forward of rear sling attachment point. Visible numbers are matching including barrel, receiver and stock. One original 40 round magazine, and an Eastern European web and leather sling are included. Also included is a copy of the original registration paperwork, and a letter indicating this weapon was acquired by an American Soldier stationed in Belgium during World War II. Although registered as SN 8944, there is a prefix “CK” above this serial number. This can be requested correction through the BATF upon paper transfer application. Magazine has a lightly hand-etched non-matching serial number on left side. Gun is marked on top of receiver “M.P. “BERETTA” Mod. 38/42-Cal.9”. This specimen has a fluted barrel with compensator cuts forward of the front sight to counteract muzzle climb. Based upon other specimens this cataloger has observed this gun was completed at the factory not long before the transition to the “smooth” barrel models. A number of these guns were taken into service by German troops late in the war, and although MP-40 production had ceased in favor of MP-44/STG-44 production, had there been further need of 9mm machine pistols, the Beretta 38/42 was what the German forces would have procured. Selective fire gun with two triggers, one for full-auto, and the other for semi-auto fire. These Beretta guns are accurate, controllable, durable, and reliable, and the model 38/42 was regarded with particular favor by the troops that employed them. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine combination of original and refinished parts. Receiver tube, barrel, magazine housing safety, and trigger guard are original finish with little scattered areas of light oxidization and some gray patina at contact points of safety and charging handle cover. Buffer button and butt plate have a dull gray refinish. Matching numbered stock is outstanding, unsanded, with some very slight handling marks and a couple tiny chips where the wood meets and is proud of the buttplate. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt is extremely fine. A very attractive wonderful World War II sub-machine gun, righteously considered one of the best in World War II service and exceptionally fun to shoot at the range. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-015 12,000 - 18,000



1057 - (C) FANTASTIC RARE SAVAGE MANUFACTURED AUTO ORDNANCE COMMERCIAL 1928 THOMPSON MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Auto Ordnance
Model: 1928 Thompson
Serial No. S17738
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 11 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

Superb condition Savage manufactured 1928 Thompson with New York address on right side of receiver. “S” prefix serial number with “S” proof mark on barrel on left side next to receiver. “Cutts” marked compensator without bullet logo and adjustable Lyman rear sight with vertical foregrip. Matching numbers between upper and lower assemblies. Hand-stamped mark between New York address and patent numbers on right side of receiver “MPD / 515” which indicates Memphis Police Department former ownership. These commercial finished Savage manufactured guns were taken into service by police departments. One each lustrous blue finish Bridgeport 20 round and 30 round magazines are included, as well as a plastic hard case. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish, just outstanding with over 96% original Du-Lite blue finish, as is correct, with lustrous finish on compensator, magazine latch, selector, safety, and rear sight leaf, and less lustrous blue trigger frame and receiver. Some loss of finish at high edges and where cocking knob rides in actuator slot. Cocking knob has finish in recessed areas with bolt appropriately devoid of finish. Wood is exceedingly nice with only some slight handling marks and retains a beautiful brown color. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Magazine finish is near excellent. This is a select fire machine gun. Pretty much impossible to upgrade the condition of this rare Savage Thompson, of which there were only 150 specimens of this variant ever manufactured. Finding one in this condition would make a fantastic addition to any advanced gun collection and shooting it upon occasion would not appreciably diminish its collector value. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2019-11-042 30,000 - 45,000





1058 - (N) LOW THREE DIGIT NUMBER COLT THOMPSON 1921A MACHINE GUN (CURIO AND RELIC).
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1921A Thompson
Serial No. 569
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

Very fine condition low serial number specimen of a Colt 1921 Thompson retaining original 1921 internal parts, and correctly cartouched buttstock. Note early markings at selector, square actuator slot, and no Cutts compensator as is correct on such an early Thompson. Matching upper and lower assemblies “JHB” inspection mark very clear on right side of receiver with crisp clear lettering and sharp edges throughout. Base of barrel where it meets the receiver with crown over “BM” “45 nitro-proof”, and buttplate has been carefully hand stamped, “PROPERTY OF HOWARD TURNER”. One each lustrous blue finish Bridgeport 20 round and 30 round magazines are included, as well as a plastic hard case. The Colt Thompson without compensator is the scarcer of the original 1921 models to find as many had a Cutts compensator added later. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine lustrous original blue finish with scattered light handling marks and some thinning to the finish to a gray patina, particularly at the actuator slot and stock attachment points. Buttplate has much less finish and has turned a brown and gray patina. Wood is extremely fine with a rich brown color and some very light handling marks. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is extremely fine, shiny and bright with the grooves showing a little darkness. Bolt is extremely fine. This is a select-fire machine gun. These very early Thompson machine guns surface for sale very, very, rarely, and for an advanced collector this is a welcome opportunity. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO & RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2019-11-041 40,000 - 50,000

1062 - (N) VERY ATTRACTIVE DESIRABLE WORLD WAR II GERMAN ARMY ERMA EMP MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).

Manufacturer: Erma
Model: EMP
Serial No. 8711
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 9 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

Extremely fine presenting Erma EMP has commercial eagle over ”N” proof marks on top of bolt handle and on top of rear receiver. Visible numbers match clearly visible on receiver and magazine housing. Wooden stock is marked just ahead of forward hand grip with capital “H” which indicates German Army (Heer) issue. Originally produced commercially in the 1930’s as a police weapon, these are a high quality milled steel machine guns. A significant number of these guns were subsequently taken into military service and used in the invasion of France by German troops. A significant number also found their way to Spain during the Spanish Civil War then subsequently found their way into France coming from the other direction. Selector to right of trigger guard is marked with “E” & “D” for semi and full auto fire. One 20 round German 9mm Parabellum magazine and one 30 round Spanish 9mm Largo magazine are included with this lot. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance is near excellent lustrous blue finish with exceptionally clear markings. Barrel shroud may have a bit of touch up refinish. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face Extremely fine. Wood is very solid and serviceable with numerous moderate dings, bruises and handling marks. This is a very attractive piece, especially noting its proof marks of an often overlooked and extremely well made and fun to shoot German World War II machine gun. This cataloger has called this model a “sleeper” in conversations discussing German machine guns. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. 1063 - (N) VERY ATTRACTIVE GERMAN WORLD WAR I BERGMANN MP-18/I MACHINE GUN (FULLY TRANSFERABLE).
Manufacturer: Bergmann
Model: MP-18/I
Serial No. 2381
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 10”
FFL Status: NFA

The MP-18/I “Maschinenpistole 18/I”, designed by Hugo Schmeisser and manufactured by Theodor Bergmann, was the first sub-machine gun to be fielded by an army and used in combat. While some may attest that the Italian Villar-Perosa was technically the first sub-machine gun to be used in battle, the Villar-Perosa was designed to be used as a light machine gun mounted on aircraft, and was only later adapted to be utilized by infantry in the trenches of World War I, unlike the MP-18/I, which was designed for infantry use from its conception. Issued to Sturmstruppen “Assault Troopers”, who were trained in advanced infiltration tactics, the MP-18/I proved to be an efficient and effective weapon, and served as the basis for multiple later sub-machine gun designs. This fine specimen, is marked “M.P.18,I/ 2381” over the chamber, with “THEODOR-BERGMANNABT.WAFFENBAUSUHL” on the left hand side of the receiver. German Imperial Reichsadler is present on the bolt, just ahead of the charging handle. Reactivation marking is present on the bottom of the receiver. 1 piece walnut stock with finger grooves on either side with perforated barrel shroud. Barleycorn sights, with graduations from 100-200 meters. Matching numbers include the receiver, front & rear sights, muzzle cap, receiver end cap, receiver latch, receiver latch bracket, return spring guide, bolt, extractor, charging handle, trigger guard, trigger bar assembly, main forend hinge, and main hinge screw. Buttplate matches, but appears to have been renumbered at one point in time. Included with this gun, is an original period leather sling, one original snail drum magazine with MP-18 adapter, one reproduction snail drum magazine, as well as one original magazine loader and one reproduction loader. CONDITION: Metal components retains fine amounts of their original blue finish, exhibiting areas of wear and thinning that show through to a pleasing patina all around. Arsenal markings are sharp. Exceptional mirror bore that exhibits strong rifling throughout. Stock appears to be an old refinish, showing some minor scattered handling marks, as well as some light scattered flaking to the varnish, which is most prevalent at the toe. There is a small crack to the rear of the receiver end cap. Leather sling shows age cracking all around, as well as a tear. This is an extremely attractive example of an MP-18/I submachine gun, that served Germany’s elite troops during the Great War. PROVENANCE: Stern Collection. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4. MLW 18,000 - 25,000

1065 - (N) ATTRACTIVE ARSENAL REFINISHED RARE M1 MODEL THOMPSON MACHINE GUN FROM WORLD WAR II ERA (CURIO AND RELIC).

Manufacturer: Auto Ordnance
Model: M1
Serial No. 21833
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/2"
FFL Status: NFA

Very nice Auto Ordinance Bridgeport M1 Thompson with Savage manufactured upper, and lower numbered 172146 with white textile "3-11" on bottom of trigger guard. Includes 1 30 round Seymore magazine and 1 20 round Crosby magazine included with this lot. Gun has typical right and left receiver markings with fixed peep sight, smooth un-finned barrel, and non-detachable buttstock. Rear sling swivel has been relocated from its original position at the bottom of the buttstock to the top of the buttstock. Many soldiers preferred having the sling attachment configured this way during World War II. The M1 model Thompson machine gun was produced for only a short time before the less costly and less time consuming transition to the M1A1 with a fixed firing pin bolt. "GEG" and "RLB" inspector proofs still visible on left side of receiver with typical manufacturer's address markings. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine grey green arsenal refinish with very little scattered brown patina on upper receiver. Lettering is clear. Wood is extremely fine, lightly sanded with the bottom sling swivel hole expertly fitted with a wooden patch, and otherwise with some light handling marks to the wood furnishings. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is shiny and bright with some light frosting towards the muzzle. Bolt face near excellent. Great opportunity for the dedicated Thompson collector. A scarce model to find in any condition, and this specimen presents very nicely. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. 1066 - (N) ATTRACTIVE SAVAGE MANUFACTURED 1928A1 MACHINE GUN AS REFURBISHED AND REGISTERED BY NUMRICH ARMS CORP (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Thompson
Model: 1928A1 Thompson
Serial No. S27235NAC
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

This is a very attractive Savage manufactured (“S” Prefix) 1928A1 Thompson with non-matching numbered upper and lower assemblies, 4 slot Cutts compensator on a smooth barrel, vertical forend, flip-up rear Lyman sight with Bridgeport address on right side of receiver. 1 20 round and 1 30 round SW Co magazines are included. Serial number followed by “NAC” on left side of receiver indicates this gun was registered by Numrich Arms Corporation. Lower assembly is serial number S-527235 with added “NAC”. Numrich assembled and refurbished many Thompsons when they imported them from Britain after World War II. Matching uppers and lowers as they could, but making sure they ended up with as many complete guns as possible in any case. Buttstock has never had sling swivels fitted and is particularly attractive. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance are near excellent as refinished, an attractive smooth gray blue with some loss where the actuator meets top of receiver. Wood is near excellent, exceptionally attractive. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face is extremely fine. These Savage manufactured Thompsons are acknowledged as extremely durable and of uniformly high-quality manufacture. If you have a Colt Thompson, you should consider acquiring a Savage as well which you can take to the range and shoot to your hearts content without concern. This specimen is one of the most attractive this cataloger has seen in this category. A fine example. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. High condition Marlin Rockwell's further development and improvement of the earlier "digger" machine gun to make it more versatile and appropriate to specialized applications for tanks and aircraft. For this final (and best received) model, the signature reciprocating arm under the barrel gas block was redesigned to be an in-line gas piston system. I called this gun a "digger" in the title, but this is an intentional misnomer. Soldiers under field conditions immediately recognized this as an improvement which allowed the gun to be employed lower to the ground providing less of a target silhouette. Cooling fins on the barrel were also a welcome feature which enabled longer periods of sustained fire before "cooldown" breaks. This gun is marked on top of receiver as well as on non-matching barrel "MARLIN ARMS CORPORATION NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT CAL-30 U.S.A.". Marked on upper trigger bar, "USN 7947". Marlin Rockwell took over the manufacturing rights to the Colt Model 1914 digger from Colt in 1916, and began producing this improved design in 1917. The sliding door on the right side gives easier access to the action and is an immediate telltale sign of a Marlin digger. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance is extremely fine deep lustrous blue finish thinning to gray patina at the high edges with a bit of pitting at the front lower right edge of the receiver plate and a bit of brown pitting on the barrel. Mechanics are crisp and positive. Bore is extremely fine, shiny and bright with strong rifling. Bolt face is extremely fine. Wood hand grip is extremely fine with light handling marks. This is a scarce model of a very popular machine gun design and will no doubt find a deserving place in the collection of a World War I enthusiast who wants to shoot their guns as well as display them. An extremely attractive and very "modern looking" for its day machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. 1068 - (N) VERY SCARCE AND SOUGHT AFTER STEYR MP-34 MACHINE GUN IN .45 ACP (PRE-86 DEALER SAMPLE).

Manufacturer: Steyr-Solothurn
Model: MP-34
Serial No. 1259
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 7 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

This is a Steyr manufactured MP-34 in .45 ACP which was originally sold as part of a small contract to Guatemala. It is import marked on the left side of the receiver, “INTER AMERICAN SACTO CA”. The stock serial number, 1243, and bolt serial number, 1274, do not match the receiver serial number 1259. This .45 caliber version of the MP34 is immediately recognizable as different from the far more common smaller caliber versions because the large magazine housing designed to accommodate the .45 magazines does not incorporate the provision for stripper clip loading. One original 20 round magazine is included with this lot. This particular models only safety is a slot milled into the top cover to hold the bolt to the rear in the same manner which would be later be incorporated into the MP-38 and MP-40 machine guns (among others). The Austrian Steyr firm manufactured MP-30 and later MP-34 machine guns for domestic police and military, and also for export to other nations including; Portugal, Greece, Japan, South America, and others, including a few to the United States. They were produced in a number of calibers according to the preference of the purchaser, including 7.65 Luger, 7.63 Mauser, 9mm Parabellum, 9mm Steyr, 9mm Mauser, and 45 ACP. Of these, the .45 version is the most sought by collectors within the United States. Unfortunately, it is also one of the most seldom encountered here. The MP-34 is an exceptionally well-made machined steel machine gun. This particular gun was imported from Guatemala as part of a group consisting of 7 guns and 6 magazines (all they had). It was imported in 1979 by Roger Cox as part of a collaborative effort between the Law Enforcement Ordnance Company of Athens, GA and InterAmerican Import/Export Co of Sacramento, CA. The consignor of this gun personally packed it and the others for shipment in Guatemala, and later purchased this gun for a nominal sum and has had it until now. The consignor also related to this cataloger that a New York City police precinct had ordered several of these guns in .45 in the 1930’s new from the factory, together with six magazines per gun with three cell magazine pouches. Unfortunately for the collector market, these were all taken out and dumped into the ocean years ago when they were deemed obsolete and no longer needed. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is good original finish with scattered areas of pitting ranging from minor to moderate, with the worst being at the top cover latch and on top cover forward of the rear sight. The finish is thinning to a gray patina at the high edges in particular with more of a brown patina on barrel shroud and buttplate. Bolt handle exhibits a gray brown patina. Stock exhibits moderate dings and handling marks with a small 3/8” long wedge shaped chip missing on right side just above trigger guard, but still remains very solid and serviceable. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is good, with quite a bit of shine, starting to show pitting. Long bolt has never been welded and is extremely fine. This is a select-fire machine gun with “E and “D” selector. Any shortcomings of condition this gun has are overcome by the highly desirable caliber. These guns are so few in the United States that this gun is worthy of consideration for a top-quality extensive restoration. It is one of the last of the high-quality milled steel machine guns being produced prior to World War II and a sought after collectible machine gun. 1069 - (N) FINE AUSTRIAN STEYR MP-30 (MP-340 PREDECESSOR) MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Steyr-Solothurn
Model: MP-34
Serial No. 11653
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Steyr
Barrel Length: 7 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

This is an Austrian Steyr MP-30 machine gun marked with “W” Austrian Eagle and “37” proof on left side of receiver below hinge of top cover. Top rear of butt plate on non-matching stock has unit markings “AJR.10 64”. This indicates, Alpen Jaeger Regiment Nr. 10, 64th weapon. This was part of 5th division Steiermark, Steirisches Alpenjager regiment, under Field Marshall Conrad V. Hotzendorf. These weapons were manufactured for both police and military and could be ordered in a variety of calibers, including 7.65 Luger, 7.63 Mauser, 9mm Parabellum, 9mm Steyr, 9mm Mauser, and .45 ACP (for export). This is an exceptionally well-made machined steel machine gun. The MP-30 went through and evolution and eventually became the MP-34 o (for Osterreich) after the union between Germany and Austria in 1938. At this point the guns (as well as the personnel) in Austrian military service were absorbed into the German military. Subsequent production standardized to the 9mm Parabellum cartridge by late 1940, but there were enough existing guns and ammunition in 9 MM Steyr and 9 MM Mauser for them to remain in service with police, or to be fielded with security forces at static bases such as airfields where consumption of large quantities of ammunition was not anticipated. This gun has no caliber designation under the sight leaf, but the consignor has shot it in 9mm Steyr (9x21mm), and ammunition is included with this lot. This gun incorporates a loading guide milled into the magazine housing which allows the magazine to be snapped into place on the bottom of the housing retained by a latch, and the charged through the top of the housing using stripper clips. The Austrians were very keen on the use of stripper clips to load their weapons dating back to their Steyr-Hahn pistols. Visible numbers non-matching on this gun between receiver, bolt, and stock. Stock has the distinctive sweep and profile particular to the MP-30. Safety forward of the trigger guard also indicative of the MP-30. 1 original 32 round 9mm Mauser magazine included. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is fine original finish with scattered areas of light pitting, with much more significant loss of finish with and brown and gray patina to the buttplate. Bolt handle exhibits a gray brown patina. Stock exhibits moderate dings and handling marks but still remains very solid and serviceable. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is good, turning dark in the grooves. Long bolt has never been welded and is extremely fine. This is a select fire machine gun with “E and “D” selector. A very nice example of this model which presents very well. One of the last of the high quality milled steel machine guns being produced prior to World War II and a sought after collectible machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-032

FFL Status: NFA

Great VOERE American International Company 180 Machine Gun Ensemble including gun, vertical forend 16" barrel assembly fitted with Richard Dean Kelson suppressor tube (currently non-functional, but none-the-less registered), 17" barrel fitted with original factory Laser-Lok laser sight, barrel assembly with horizontal forend, three original metal pan magazines, four magazine driver mechanisms, and a Power Technology Inc. scope type laser light model SC400 (1986 manufactured). No charging apparatus present. Electronic apparatus non-functional, but if they were charged they might well work. The suppressor is a vacant tube with no internals, but it IS a registered suppressor and will require transfer as such. Barrel serial number with horizontal forend does not match receiver number. Other barrels unumbered. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is near excellent original finish throughout with loss of finish to a gray patina to the bolt. Silencer external finish near excellent with the internals retention screw hole broken out to the front. Laser-Lok casing somewhat discolored at both ends. Gun mechanics are crisp. Bores of all three barrels near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt is fine. Composite buttstock has an old repaired crack which goes completely around furnishings. Repair is absolutely solid. Other composite furnishings and wood vertical foregrip near excellent. This is a select-fire machine gun. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS MACHINE GUN IS TRANSFERABLE ONLY TO ACTIVE FFL/SOT DEALERS ON AN ATF FORM 3 BUT MAY BE RETAINED BY SOLE PROPRIETOR FFL/SOT HOLDERS WHEN THEY RELINQUISH THEIR LICENSES UPON BATF APPROVAL. 1071 - (N) RARE EARLY GERMAN CONTRACT BERGMANN MP-34 (PREDECESSOR TO 35/I) MACHINE GUN (CURIO AND RELIC).
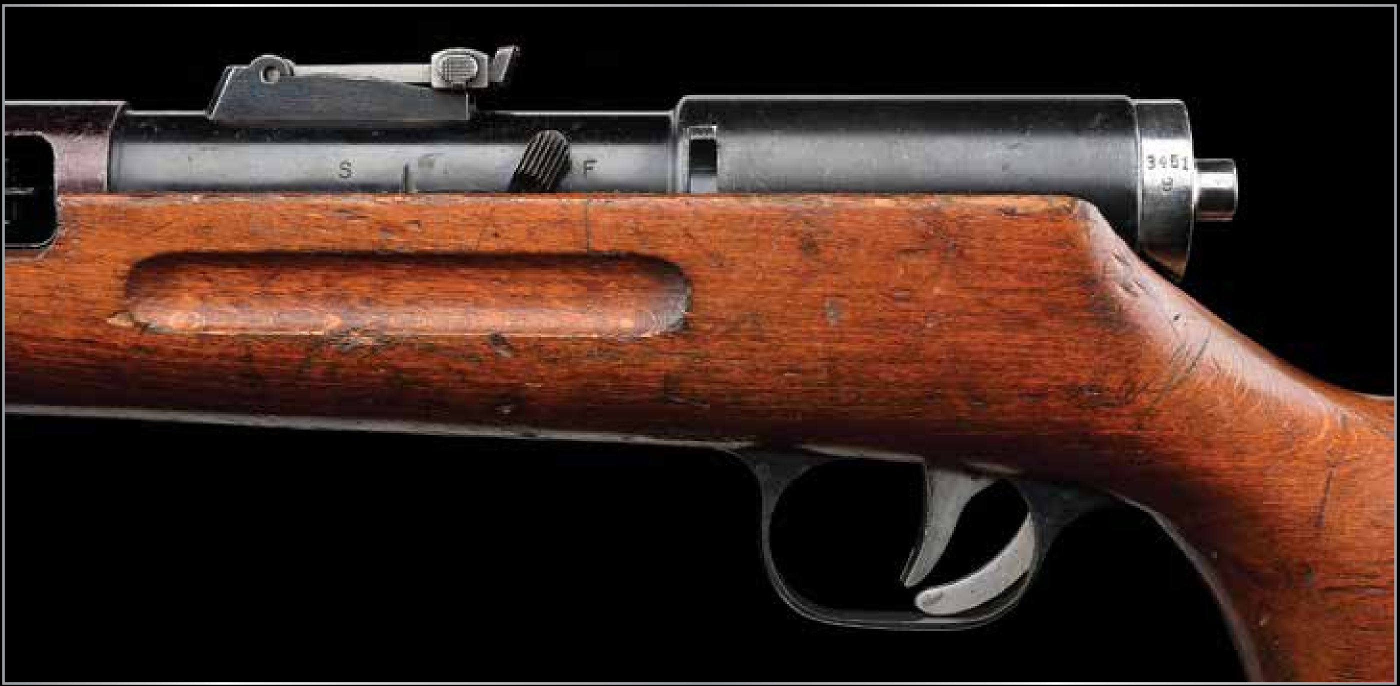
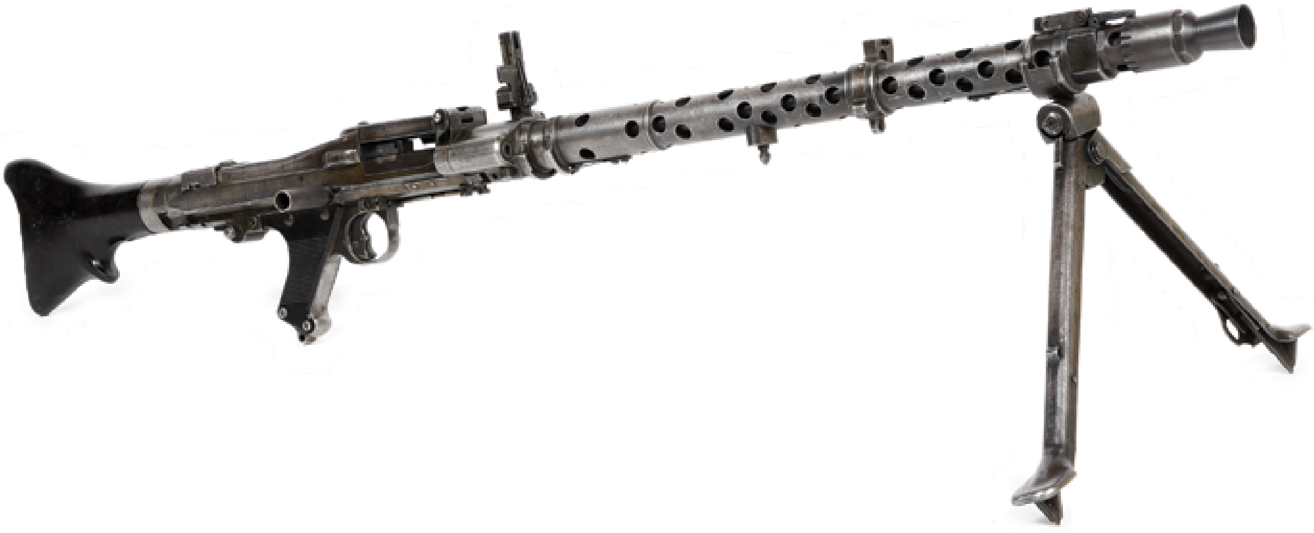
Manufacturer: Bergmann
Model: MP-35/I
Serial No. 5431
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 7 - 3/4”
FFL Status: NFA

This early Bergmann MP34 (predecessor to the 35/I) machine gun was commercially manufactured for German use prior to World War II. Likely used in either police, and/or later in military/SS service. This specimen is devoid of makers markings of any kind on the metal with only the serial numbers as noted below in evidence. Receiver is number 5431 on right side. This early specimen has an all walnut stock numbered “3549/a” just to the rear of the rear sling swivel with “sch” on the pistol grip. The bolt charging handle is numbered “3451/e” and has discernible eagle proof. The bolt body and barrel match in numbered “4698/a”. It was not uncommon for parts to become mixed between combat used weapons. Functionality was key. Stocks of this particular model had a tendency to crack at the wrist and hence are often found mismatched in number. The gun incorporates some very interesting features for a pistol caliber machine gun, such as 2 trigger select fire system where the firer can squeeze off solitary rounds one after another by squeezing the forward trigger to the rear and then releasing it after each shot. If the firer desires fully automatic fire they need only to squeeze the forward trigger all the way to the rear which actuates a lever (2nd trigger) at the rear of the trigger guard which provides automatic fire. The other highly interesting feature of this model is a quick release barrel feature. Depressing a detent button 3 - 1/4” to the rear of the front of the forend will actuate a lever allowing the muzzle and barrel assembly to rotate 90 degrees and be easily withdrawn from the shroud for cleaning. Other features include a safety lever at the left side of the receiver below and slightly to the rear of the adjustable rear sight, and a bolt removal catch which allows the bolt to be fully withdrawn for cleaning. The bolt itself is a relatively heavy piece which cocks the weapon in a way reminiscent of a bolt action rifle for the first shot. 1 original 32 round magazine is included. The Germans themselves adapted/repurposed other 9mm magazines to fit this model after 1942, and this cataloger has a source should they be desired. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine original finish with some scattered areas of brown patina exclusive of the barrel which has near excellent original finish on the body with the muzzle thinning to a gray brown patina. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is shiny and bright with soft-edged lands and frosting 3/4” towards the muzzle. Bolt appropriately in the white and extremely fine. Wood has typical light handling marks and presents very well. This is a select-fire machine gun. The MP-34 became the MP 35/I with only slight modifications and both models were used in second line service, with notable documented use by SS units including rail police and concentration camp guards. This cataloger is aware of one specimen identical in markings and features which was taken from a concentration camp and brought home to the United States. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. JWK 2020-11-34 15,000 - 20,000





1072 - (N) FINE GERMAN WW2 MG-34 MACHINE GUN (PRE-86 DEALER SAMPLE).
Manufacturer: Germany
Model: MG-34
Serial No. 2212c
Caliber/Bore: 8mm Mauser
Barrel Length: 24 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

Very attractive and mostly matching German World War II MG34. Although NFA registry indicates “GROSSFUSS” as the manufacturer, this guns receiver, shroud, and handgrip assembly cup are all matching and were manufactured by Waffenwerke Brunn (dot) in 1943. WaA proofs confirm this, and correction to registry may be requested incidental to paper Form 3 transfer should the buyer desire this. Top cover also matches serial number and was indeed manufactured by Grossfuss (bpr). Buttstock cup and bakelite buttstock are serial 463i. Buffer cup is serial 6973f. Bipod is unnumbered, dfb 1943. Bolt is unnumbered. Barrel non-matching. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is very good, about 40% mostly thinning to a pleasing even gray patina with more finish remaining forward of the AA sight post, turning a brown patina in places. Actually presents a very nice “combat used” appearance. Firing residue at muzzle and within bore indicate that this has been a good running gun, and this cataloger knew the consignor and witnessed this gun firing at the range. Generally, if the shrouds match the receivers, and the wear patterns indicate it, the MG-34s run well. Mechanics are fine. Bore is dark with firing residue. This is a select-fire machine gun. A great example of the iconic class machined steel German belt fed machine gun from WW 2 ready to take to the range. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS TRANSFERABLE ONLY TO ACTIVE FFL/SOT DEALERS ON AN ATF FORM 3 BUT MAY BE RETAINED BY SOLE PROPRIETOR FFL/SOT HOLDERS WHEN THEY RELINQUISH THEIR LICENSES UPON BATF APPROVAL. 1073 - (N) FANTASTIC TERRY DYER MANUFACTURED HECKLER AND KOCH HK-21 BELT FED MACHINE GUN (FULLY TRANSFERABLE).
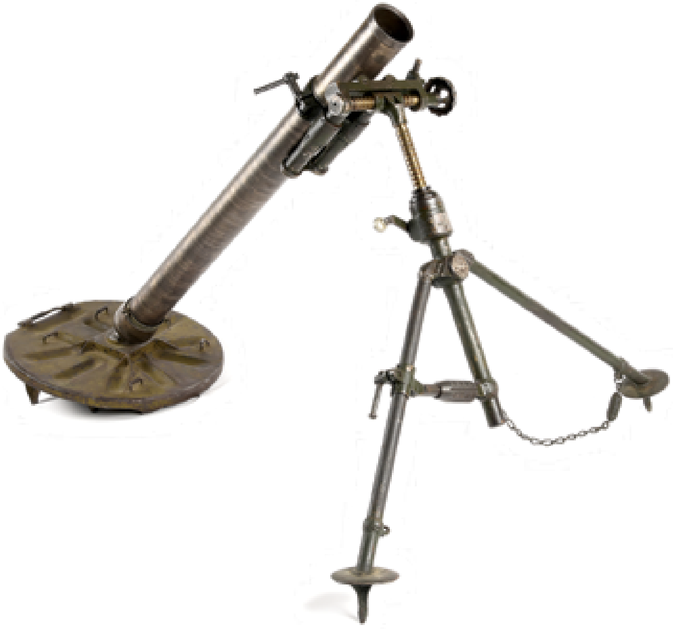
Manufacturer: HECKLER & KOCH
Model: 21
Serial No. A049140
Caliber/Bore: .308 Winchester
Barrel Length: 17 - 11/16"
FFL Status: NFA

This is a Fleming HK-21 registered receiver machine gun which was built by Terry Dyer and test fired. NFA electronic registry indicates manufacturer as "Heckler and Koch", but the actual original registered machine gun manufacturer was Fleming Firearms according to consignor. The consignor states he has had the receiver since it was new and "never chambered a round in the gun". Marked HK21 on top of receiver with serial number as well as having the serial number on the flat of the receiver above the feed shuttle. Three position selector marked "S,E,F" is numbered "201", with buttstock hardware numbered "816". Three cardboard boxes containing fifteen belt segments are included with this lot. Special features of this gun include a heavy quick-change barrel. This is a registered receiver machine gun. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is near mint as manufactured combination of smooth gray and black hard-coat finish. Green composite furnishings near excellent with exception of butt-end itself which has some brassing to the edges. Mechanics are crisp. Bore and bolt near excellent. This is a select fire machine gun of the highest level of performance and quality. Just about impossible to improve on this belt fed firing platform. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4. JWK 2020-11-009 25,000 - 30,000

1074 - (D) ORIGINAL WORLD WAR II RUSSIAN MODEL 1943 82MM MORTAR (DESTRUCTIVE DEVICE).
Manufacturer: Russia
Model: 1943
Serial No. 20985
Caliber/Bore: 82mm
Barrel Length: 48 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Destructive Device



Original World War 2 vintage Russian 82mm mortar. Accessories include round baseplate with multiple numbers, and Soviet Russian bipod. The Russian 82mm mortars were close copies of the U.S. 81mm mortar; perhaps “copy” is not quite fair, as there was very little difference between the basic 81mm mortar designs of several countries. All were based on the earlier French Brandt Model 27/31 mortar design. What is interesting and clever is that by standardizing their heavy Battalion level mortar in 82mm, the Russians could utilize the captured munitions of other countries which used 81 mm mortars, but the other countries with 81 mm mortars could not utilize captured Russian ammunition. Tension spring chain between the bipod legs is an interesting “shock absorption” feature of this mortar. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is very good olive drab on tube with light pitting under the paint. Bipod is very good with green paint chipping away with to reveal a gray patina. Baseplate also very good with brown patina. Mechanics of bipod are fine. Bore is extremely fine with some light pitting. THIS IS A NATIONAL FIREARMS ACT ITEM AND REQUIRES BATF APPROVAL PRIOR TO TRANSFER. THIS ITEM IS FULLY TRANSFERABLE ON AN ATF FORM 3 OR 4 AS A DESTRUCTIVE DEVICE AND IS ALSO CURIO AND RELIC ELIGIBLE. Serial No. U670
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 10”
FFL Status: NFA

High quality American made Smith & Wesson Model 76 machine gun with “U” prefix serial number. First guns were produced late in 1968 and have a “T” prefix. Once the initial “T” prefix guns were manufactured, the factory produced guns which had a “U” prefix serial number for the civilian and law enforcement market. These guns exhibit the highest standards of fit and finish as to be expected from this maker. This is a select fire machine gun with an ambidextrous safety/selector, hard composite pistol grip with swing-out rubber covered shoulder loop. Firing characteristics are ergonomic and this gun is both controllable and accurate. One 36 round Swedish K magazine included with this gun. The S&W 76 is easily disassembled for cleaning, has good durability, and is relatively inexpensive it making is a great entry level machine gun, and also has appeal to the more advanced machine gun enthusiast. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish near excellent original matte gray-blue finish with loss of finish where selector contacts receiver and a stray handling mark discernable only upon closest inspection. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face extremely fine. This is a select fire machine gun. Spare magazines are readily obtainable for this great, reliable, and fun to shoot machine gun. A great “First” machine gun! Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1921 Thompson
Serial No. 5662
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 10 - 1/2”
FFL Status: NFA

Many high condition Thompson machine guns have passed through this cataloger’s hands over the years. The condition of this gun both in excellent bore and outstanding original finish place it within the top three of all of them. Certainly among the very best of all original Thompson machine guns on the collector’s market. Outstanding specimen of a Colt 1921 Thompson with unmarked Cutts compensator and original 1921 internal parts and correct anchor cartouched buttstock. Typical markings on receiver with visible serial numbers matching. “JHB” inspection mark very clear on right side of receiver with crisp clear lettering and sharp edges throughout. One matte finish original “New York, NY” 50 round drum is included as well as 4 original early 1920 patent date 20 round magazines in an original blue lined hard case. This gun in this configuration is THE most iconic and recognized profiles of an American icon. The Thompson machine guns are recognized symbols of the 1920’s prohibition era as well as later and into World War II. Natrona County Sheriffs Dept, Casper, WY originally purchased gun. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is near excellent deep lustrous blue original finish with some slight loss of finish where the stock slides onto the receiver, and at the high edges of the buttplate. Wood is exceptional, slightly proud of the butt plate with a rich brown original finish and very light handling marks. Drum has extremely fine dull matte finish with slight wear to gray patina at high contact points. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt is near excellent. This is a select fire machine gun. Among the best condition of all 1921AC models on the collector market. A rare opportunity for the advanced Thompson collector. 1079 - (N) SCARCE CASED TIPPMAN FULLY AUTOMATIC FUNCTIONAL MINIATURE REPLICA OF BROWNING MODEL 1919A4 BROWNING AIR COOLED MACHINE GUN (CURIO & RELIC).
Manufacturer: Tippman Arms Co.
Model: 1919A4
Serial No. AL123
Caliber/Bore: .22 LR
Barrel Length: 11"
FFL Status: NFA

Very desirable and scarce Tippman manufactured scale miniature of the classic Browning 1919A4 machine gun. The Browning design needs no introduction to military machine gun enthusiasts. This is a fully functional scaled down replica which is quite a rare item as only a few were made and registered as fully transferable machine guns. Accessories include tripod with T&E mechanism, 2 ammo boxes, and original wooden crate with operators manual. Stirrup pintle bolt is a standard bolt. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance is near excellent original finish with evidence of some firing. Top cover and retaining latch have a plum color as does feed shuttle. Internal parts are appropriately "in the white" and polished. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face near excellent. Wooden crate is also near excellent condition but one leather carrying strap is slightly pulled away from its retaining screw. This miniature is just an amazing attractive little gun which would look great on display and since it already has been fired, can be taken out to the range upon occasion without having any great affect on its investment value. Belts in both cloth and plastic can still be acquired, and as a .22 Long Rifle machine gun, this gun is a lot easier to move around than the full-sized .30 caliber gun. Tremendously attractive scale miniature of the classic venerable M2 Browning .50 caliber machine gun. Accessories include, ammunition box bracket, scale tri-pod with T&E mechanism. 2 miniature ammo boxes with 1 cloth belt and original factory wooden crate with operators manual. This Tippman miniature is one of very few Tippman factory built full functional and transferable machine guns. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance is near excellent, unfired with near mint original factory finish on metal and wood parts. Mechanics are crisp. Bore is near excellent, shiny and bright. Bolt face near excellent. Belts have never been loaded with ammunition. Feed shuttle retains original factory plum color as does the exterior guide rails next to cocking handle. Original wooden crate is in excellent condition. Leather carrying handles are excellent, supple, and pliable. Workmanship, finish and appearance is simply outstanding. These guns are works of machinist art in and of themselves, and as scale replicas are exceptional pieces. The fact that they are fully automatic machine guns which fire .22 magnum ammunition in this case only adds to their tremendous appeal to both the military and full-auto enthusiasts. Sure are a lot easier to move around than the full-sized originals, and a lot less expensive to shoot should one choose to do so. 1092 - (C) INCREDIBLY SCARCE AND DESIRABLE WORLD WAR I GERMAN MAUSER SHORT "KURZ" MODEL 1918 T-GEWEHR 13MM BOLT ACTION ANTI TANK RIFLE WITH BIPOD.
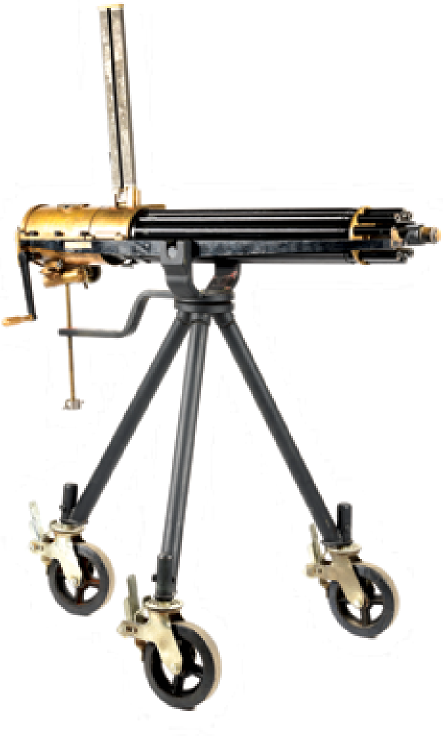
Manufacturer: Mauser
Model: Tankgewehr
Serial No. 86
Caliber/Bore: 13.2mm
Barrel Length: 36"
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

This is the earliest model of the infamous German T-Gewher anti-tank rifles. The first Tank Abwehr Gewehr weapon to be developed by Mauser had a 36" long barrel that had a wall thickness of 8.5mm at the muzzle. The weapon weighed approximately 40 pounds with an overall length of 63". Further testing and development revealed that the wall thickness of the barrel could be reduced and the barrel length increased for additional muzzle velocity. The early weapon was designated as the Kurz (short) model. Only approximately 300 of these Kurz models were produced. This gun is dated 1918 on top of the receiver under the standard Banner Mauser marking. Marked "KURZ" on the left side of the barrel. Matching serial number of 86 throughout. Single shot, bolt action. Proper style "tubular" bipod. CONDITION: Very good with a pleasing patina overall, approximately 30% original blue in protected areas and on the trigger guard. All markings are sharp and clear. Sharp stock cartouches. Wood is very good with dings and handling marks, shows wear as would be expected on a gun of this age and size. No breaks or cracks in wood, although there is a small piece that is missing from the very front of the right side of the stock. Fine mechanical function. Bore is fine with sharp, well defined rifling. This is an amazingly scarce model, the only "Kurz" or short model of this historic World War I bolt action rifle ever observed in the American collector market. If some other collector has another one of these early models in the United States, please call or email Morphy Auctions and let us know. JWK 2020-11-056 10,000 - 15,000

1093 - (M) VALLEY MACHINE COMPANY REPRODUCTION FULL SIZE .45-70 GATLING GUN.
Manufacturer: VAlley Engraving
Model: Gatling Gun
Serial No. 82883
Caliber/Bore: .45-70 Government
Barrel Length: 32"
FFL Status: Modern



This full-sized reproduction .45-70 Gatling Gun manufactured by "Valley Machine Co" and so marked on right side rail, along with serial number 82883 visible in unpainted rectangular area of steel receiver rail. Balance of steel rails have a nice black paint coverage. Barrels are 32" long. Gun measures 53" long, and sets 48" high without magazine, 68" high with magazine, on a really neat contemporary custom built rolling tripod. What unexpected ease it is to move this item around on the 8" diameter wheels of this tripod. Large brake levers at each wheel hold steady when one wants this to stay put. 1 stick magazine with spring loaded follower is included. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish extremely fine with nearly complete coverage of black enamel paint on steel parts with a pleasing patina on brass parts. Mechanics are fine and the 10 barrel cluster rotates and the bolts remain in battery just as they should. Gun has been fired significantly but rifling remains strong in the barrels. These Gatling guns are great fun at the range especially if one can get a steel drum filled with water or a telephone pole sized tree to shoot at. .50 caliber machine guns punch holes but .45-70 will make a steel drum move! 1094 - WEST GERMAN TACTICAL MP5 CASE MANUFACTURED BY HOFFBAUER IN 10/89.

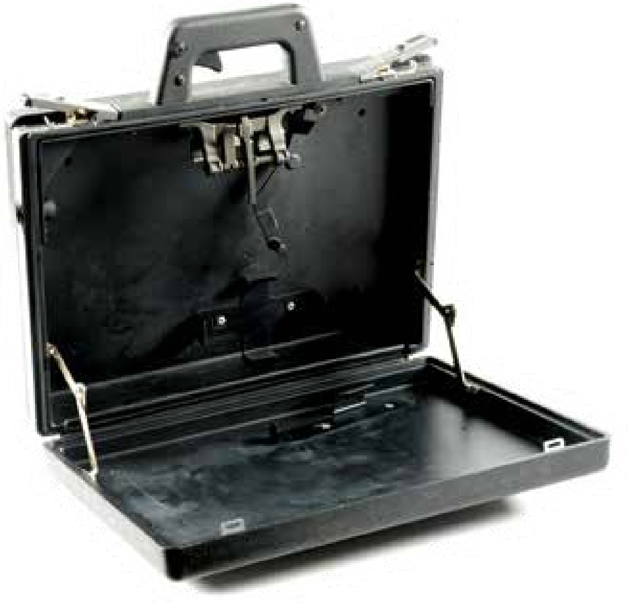
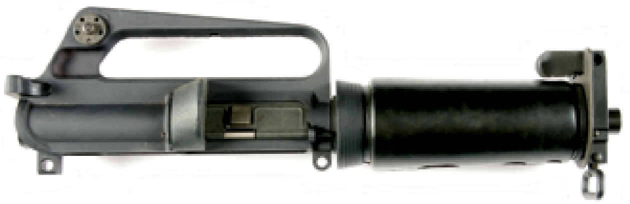
This briefcase is designed to mount an MP5k inside with the barrel mounting into a small port on the left side and a clamp system with brass deflector to secure the gun and deflect fired brass into the bottom of the briefcase. When mounted, a safety mounted on the handle is slid back and the trigger can be depressed, actuating a lever that pulls the firearm trigger. Additionally, there is an clamp internally to carry a spare magazine. The case itself is manufactured out of pebble textured composite plastic with some metal reinforcement, with date and manufacturing on inside of panels. Accompanying is a pair of photos of the briefcase being used and an article on operational briefcases from the July 1999 Small Arms Review. CONDITION: Excellent. There are some traces of markings from usage, including some silvering to metal and some marks on plastic interior. Exterior has some marks from use and storage. Operates correctly. This is an absolute must have for the true HK collector. 2,500 - 3,500



1095 - A RARE COLT DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY CONTRACT 9MM UPPER ASSEMBLY.

Bolt with 9mm heavy insert, trimmed dust cover with brass deflector. Straight blowback operation. CONDITION: Very good, with a few marks from handling and operation. Bore is very good with strong rifling. A neat example of US Department of Energy weapons! EW 1,000 - 2,000



1096 - INCREDIBLEY SCARCE AND FABULOUS CONDITION ORIGINAL JAPANESE TYPE 96 MACHINE GUN LOADING TOOL, TWO ORGINAL 30 ROUND MAGAZINES AND 15 STRIPPER CLIPS

Very exciting offering of two near mint condition original Japanese Type 96 machine gun magazines. 15 original brass 6.5 Japanese rifle stripper clips, and an exceptionally rare original Japanese Type 96 machine gun magazine loading tool serial number 112. These items came from a consignor whose Father was a World War II Veteran and acquired these items off of a Japanese troop ship during World War II. He bagged the gun that went with them too, but unfortunately, that item went to the bottom of a lake many years ago. Fortunately, these items were retained so they are now offered here. The loader is a later model, without oiler for applying oil to cartridges. Original textile marker number remnants indicate is was issued with a Kokura manufactured Type 96 gun in the 47 thousand serial number range perhaps “47275” as a guess. This serial number would place the gun has having been manufactured in the April-May of 1941 timeframe. The loader operates by unfolding the handle, snapping a magazine into place and then taking a standard loaded 6.5 rifle stripper clip and placing it into the channel; then actuating the handle. Efficient. The Spring clip which held the handle in place while folded is broken off, but the forward-thinking consignor retained the broken piece, and it is included. The two original 30 round magazines are unmarked and unnumbered. CONDITION: Loading tool very good original finish with scattered areas of brown patina thinning to grey at high edge contact points. Wood of handle near excellent. Magazines near excellent original lustrous black finish under original preservative grease coating, just as found, with a few spots of light brown on one magazine. Should clean up well. Stripper clips are as found, with some green/brown tarnishing, yet very serviceable. If you have read this far you already know what a sensational offering this is. When have you ever seen the like of it!? JWK 2020-11-054 3,000 - 6,000

1099 - POLISH WZ.43 (SG-43) PARTS KIT.
Serial No. RK-881

Designed and manufactured by the Soviet Union during World War II to replace their outdated Model 1910 Maxim machine guns, the SG-43 proved to be a reliable addition to the Red Army's arsenal. After World War II, many Soviet Union satellite countries either had SG-43 machine guns exported to them or received the licenses to locally produce them. This being a prime example of a Polish manufactured Wz.43 (SG-43). The receiver has been torch cut into 4 pieces. Receiver cover is marked with a "6" within a circle over "7.62mm/ CKM-wz.43/ 1955r/ RK-881". Other components include the bolt, bolt carrier, barrel, flash hider, rear sight assembly, spade grips, ammunition tray, and shield. Complete with an unidentified tripod. CONDITION: Metal components are for the most part good, retaining large amounts of their blue finish and exhibiting some scattered areas of oxidation. Barrel's bore is good, and retains well defined lands and grooves throughout. Smaller components like top cover, rear sight, bolt, and bolt carrier are excellent and still in their sealed importer plastic bags. Tripod shows chipping and wear to the paint and areas of oxidation. A nice assortment of Polish Wz.43 accessories. -MLW- 500 - 1,000

1102 - J. H. KEENEY & CO. 1918 BAR CUTAWAY MODEL.

WW2 era J. H. KEENEY & CO. 1918 BAR CUTAWAY MODEL. Oversized 95" cast metal classroom demonstrator of the famous Browning 1918A2 Automatic Rifle for educating soldiers during WW2 in the inner workings and operation of the rifle, including the open bolt operation, magazine, feeding, etc. Rifle actually "functions" when bolt is cycled, demonstrating the open bolt working and pulling the round out. Red paint to highlight areas of operation. Does not extract the current round or pick up another round from magazine when inserted. Mounted on a storm-grey wooden box with interior cavity, presumably for storage, and two upright pipes for holding the gun upright, stenciled "WORKING MODEL BROWNING / AUTOMATIC RIFLE / CAL. 30 M-1918-A2" and a small plaque for J.H. Keeney & Co and their address. J.H. Keeney is widely known for their manufacture of amusement rides. During World War II, they were commissioned by the US government to produce these models in an effort to help with field use of the model weapon. Magazine has cutouts on right side as a cartridge / magazine spring viewer, and an extra loose dummy round. CONDITION: Some rubbing to high edges and some chipping to paint, still retaining the majority of the paint. Receiver looks to be repainted over some imperfections and pitting. Some spots of old patina and rubbing to metal, particularly visible on magazine, barrel. Left side shows more wear than rifle. Dummy rounds are very good, showing some wear. Display crate pipes replaced, balance of crate very good with some oxidation to metal fittings and some rubbing and chipping to paint, honest wear. 1103 - (C) CIA DEER GUN SINGLE SHOT PISTOL.
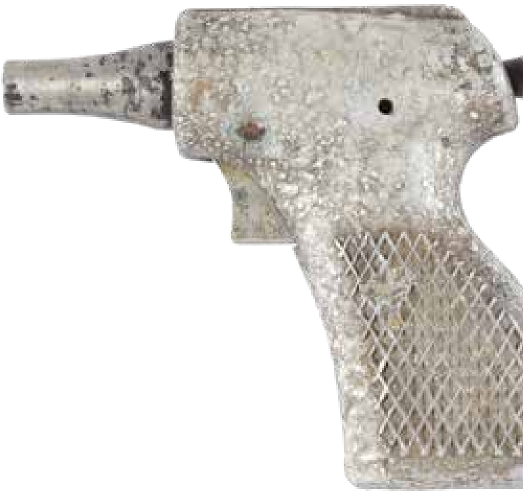
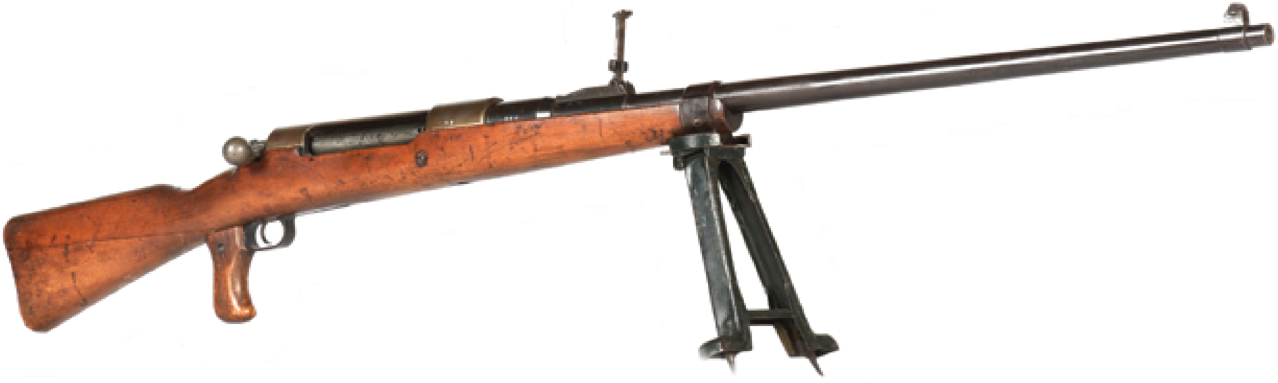
Manufacturer: American Machine & Foundry
Model: Deer Gun
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 2”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

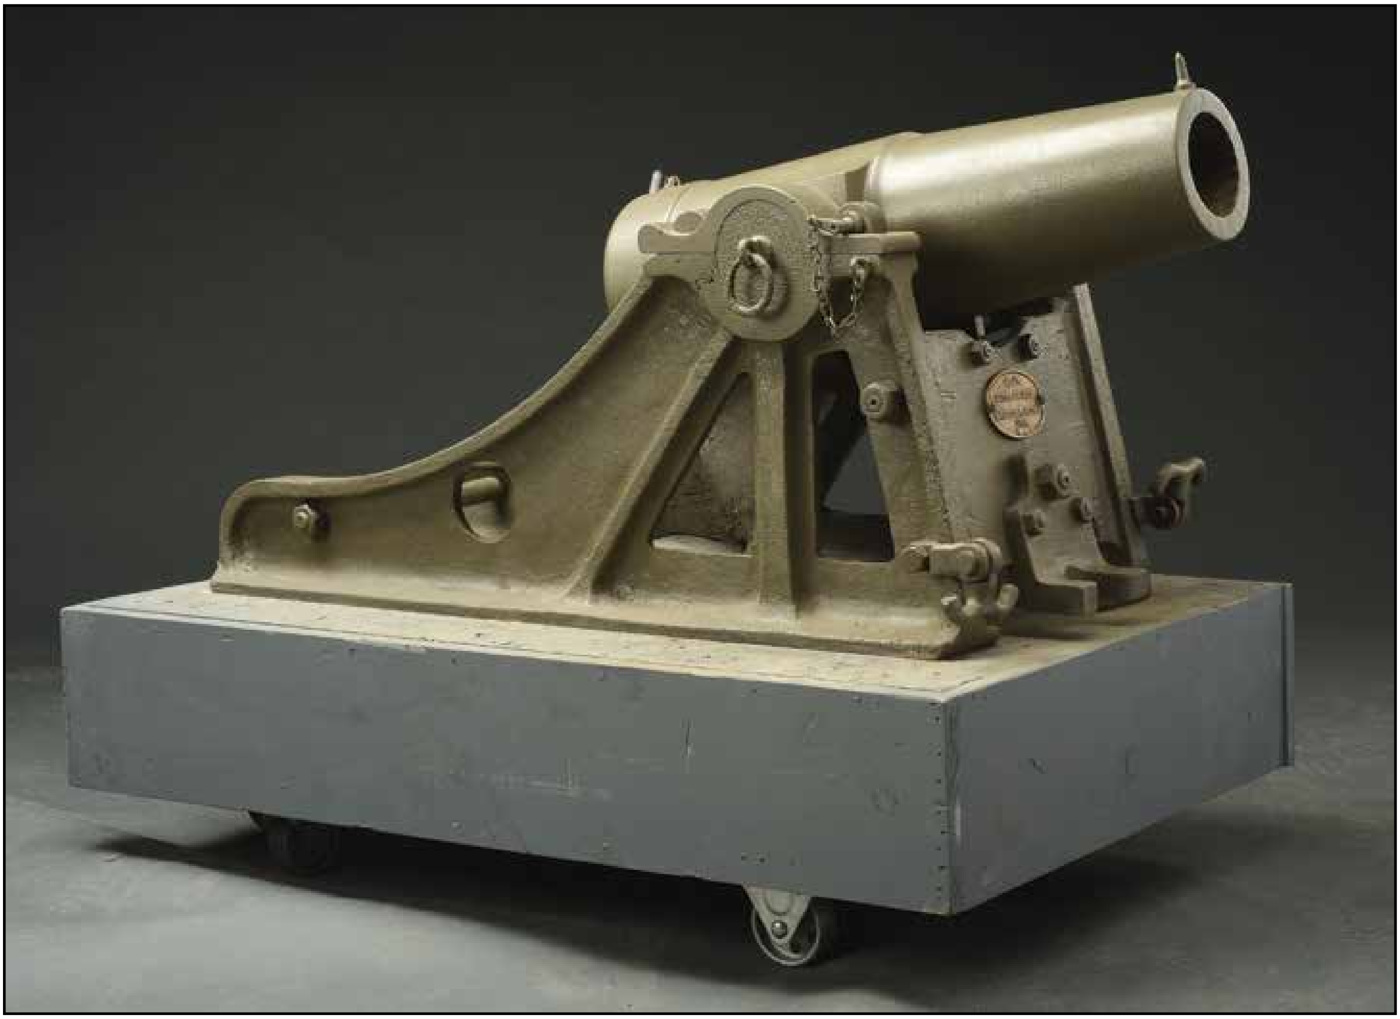


Manufactured 1964. Produced by American Machine & Foundry Company, it is a single shot 9mm pistol. Made to serve a similar purpose to the infamous “Liberator” pistols of World War II. 1,000 “Deer” guns were made with the intent of being air dropped to South Vietnamese guerrillas during the Vietnam War. It has been said that they were never actually sent to Vietnam, and their existence has been denied by the CIA. Only a handful of these very rare guns have survived, with the majority of production having been destroyed. Completely unmarked as one would expect for a Clandestine Operations destined firearm. CONDITION: Almost relic condition with the action rusted solid. There is some corrosion to the aluminum grip. Barrel has pitting and is dark. Trigger and action are not functional and need gunsmith attention. TDW 4,000 - 6,000



1104 - (C) SCARCE AND DESIRABLE WORLD WAR 1 GERMAN MAUSER 1918 T-GEWEHR 13MM BOLT ACTION ANTI TANK RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Mauser
Model: Tankgewehr
Serial No. 5938
Caliber/Bore: 13mm
Barrel Length: 41”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

Standard configuration, with a 1918 date on the receiver under the banner Mauser logo. Proper two-piece buttstock with pistol grip. Numbers are matching on the barrel, receiver, bipod base, stock, bolt release, trigger guard, and rear sight. The bolt body is not numbered, but is properly proofed under the bolt handle. The bolt parts are matching to themselves, but not the rest of the gun. Accompanied by an original MG08/15 stamped bipod, which were used interchangeably between the two types of guns. CONDITION: The gun retains a pleasing patina, mostly a dull metal color, with some light surface rust here and there. Markings are worn but legible. Some light pitting in areas. Bolt body has some moderate pitting that looks to have been smoothed down at some point. Blue on the trigger guard and bolt release. Bore has strong rifling. Stock has dings and handling marks, with good proof marks. Fine mechanical function. Bipod retains most of the painted finish but shows age. GR 4,000 - 6,000



1105 - ATTRACTIVE MODEL 1895 WATERTOWN ARSENAL MANUFACTURED 3.6" FIELD MORTAR IN ORIGINAL STEEL MOUNT ON WOODEN ROLLING DISPLAY STAND.
Attractive green painted Watertown arsenal 3.6" breech loading mortar as manufactured in 1898 with original brass data plate on steel mount. Serial number "41" matches on tube and mount with "JWR" inspectors initials. One original banded projectile is included with this lot. This was a friction primed "bag gun" breech loading mortar developed for the U.S. Army. Used mostly for coastal and fixed fortification defense. There were only 76 units build between June of 1890 and early 1904, procured in several batches. Four were sent via Tampa, FL to Cuba for the Spanish American War, and four were shipped and used in the Philippines during the insurrection. They were deemed obsolete in 1919 and many were scrapped or otherwise became decorative or memorial pieces. Only 12 or so mortars including this one made it into the hands of private collectors. The gun can be fired. CONDITION: Green repainted finish on metal parts with brass data plate turning a pleasing dull patina with fuse primer brass thumb piece presenting a more polished appearance. Bore is well worn and pitted and would benefit from being re-lined if one desired to shoot this wonderful antique piece of US history. Steel breech block excellent in the white and very clean. A great piece for the turn of the century ordnance collector. JWK 2020-11-053 12,500 - 15,000

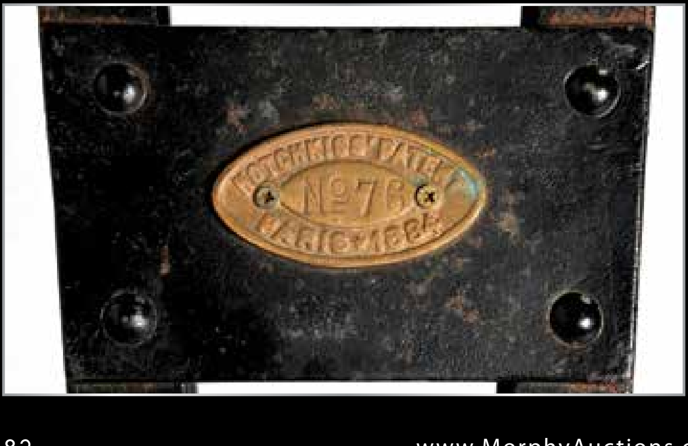
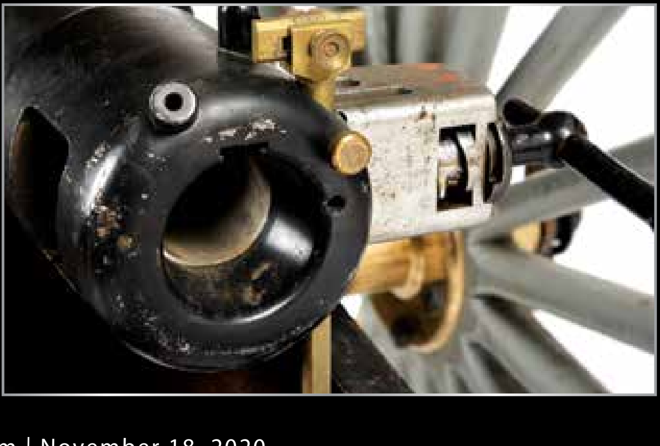
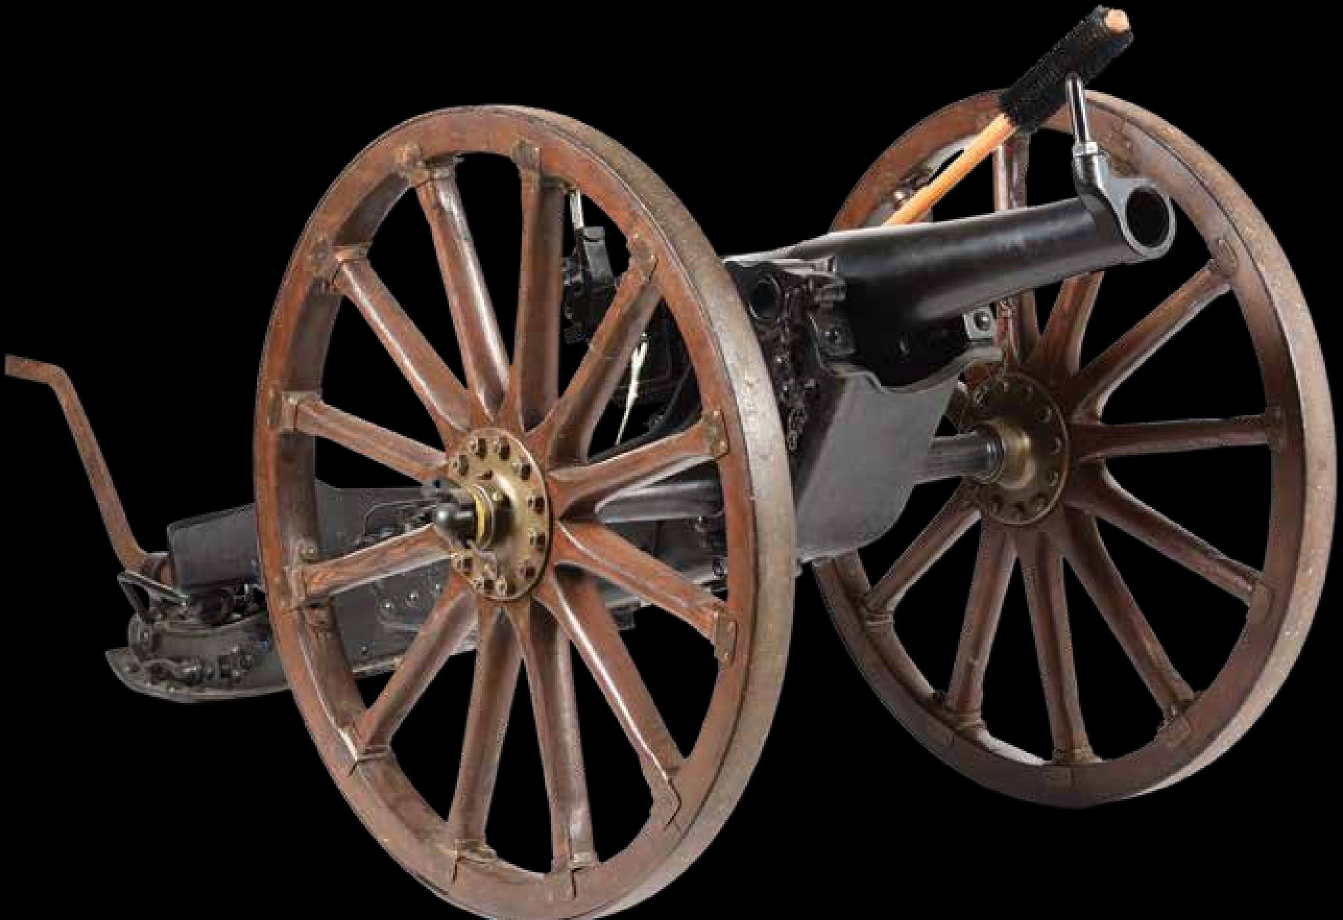
One 10” and one 4-1/4” unattached adjustment wheels are included. Original Hotchkiss data plate on trail. Tube measures just over 46” long muzzle to breech. Muzzle to end of trail is 82”. Beautiful wood spoke wheels with brass hubs and steel tires were manufactured by Archibald Wheel Company and are 38” high. Width hub to hub 42”. Brass rear sight and steel front sight present and in fine operating condition. Combination spanner/hammer is included. CONDITION: Overall appearance and finish is extremely fine black enamel paint refinish over some light pitting on tube with black paint on carriage. Scratches have accrued revealing bare metal in places. Light grey painted wooden spoke wheels are extremely fine with fine albeit pitted black painted steel tires. with bronze and brass parts left bare. Mechanics are fine. Bore has very good rifling with some pitting. Breech block is appropriately in the white and extremely fine starting to have some brown patina. The cataloger was able to move this cannon around with ease. An attractive 19th-century cannon. A fine collectible specimen which would be a lot of fun at the range. JWK 2020-11-61 20,000 - 30,000







1108 - (C) FANTASTIC KRUPP MANUFACTURED SIAMESE 50 MM MOUNTAIN CANNON.
Truly exceptional specimen of a Krupp Model 1906 50mm Mountain Cannon manufactured under contract for Siam (Thailand). Marked on the breech with Siamese Government proofs and manufacturer “FRIED. KRUPP. A.G./ESSEN”. Only about 30 of these guns are in the United States and they are highly sought collector’s items. Dimensions are 73” long from muzzle to end of trail. 24 - 1/2” long barrel from muzzle to face of breechblock. 32” high wheels, 38” wide hub to hub. Front and rear sights present and serviceable. Breechblock and contemporary firing lanyard present. Consigner states he fired this gun with blank cartridges at his daughter’s wedding event and this had a very profound impression. Accessories include an unrestored steel prolong handle, a bore cleaning brush, and kit to load cases with black powder and reloadable brass cartridge cases. Although manufactured after 1898, this weapon has been removed from the provisions of the National Firearms Act and will transfer like a Curio & Relic rifle. Breech block opens and shuts freely and lanyard actuates the firing mechanism. This weapon appears fully functional. CONDITION: Overall finish and appearance is near excellent. Over 90% deep lustrous blue, thinning in some places but very, very handsome indeed. Steel carriage and axle near excellent black enamel paint finish with the original wooden spoke wheels extremely fine to near excellent. Rubber covering on elevation wheel cracking and disintegrating with age. Telescoping tongue of trail is serviceable with original detent pin in place. Steel tires retain most of their black enamel paint finish with the loss occurring from the cannon being wheeled about. Bore is extremely fine and clean. Would be hard to imagine a more attractive little cannon to put into one’s collection. The reloadable brass cases and shooting accessories only enhance the desirability of this lot, certain to please as either a display piece or shooter, or best of all, both! 1110 - (A) A GOOD SILESIAN TSCHINKE BIRDING RIFLE.
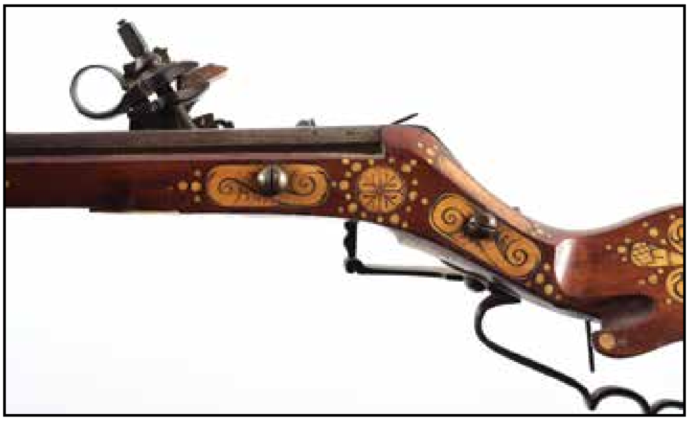
Manufacturer: German
Model: Tschinke
Caliber/Bore: .36 Rifled
Barrel Length: 36 - 1/4"
FFL Status: Antique



Long octagonal barrel with slightly swamped barrel and copper front sight, rear sight dovetail filled but rear sight is missing. "P" and "F" over the breech on opposite flats. Full length fruitwood stock inlaid with ivory inlays with geometric and floral designs. Ramrod, possibly the original, is missing its tip and is retained by a single ferrule. Butt portion of stock more elaborately inlaid than balance of rifle including mother of peal with classically formed trigger guard. Right side of stock with patchbox. Wheelock mechanism engraved with further geometrics and a satyr, and other mythical beings. Pan cover engraved en suite. Three brass pieces are have been overlaid on sections of the lock mechanism and engraved en suite. CONDITION: Very good for a rifle of this type, with an old, protective layer of varnish put over the gun. Barrel is very good with mixing of some patina with wear at high edges. Lock was cleaned at one point in the European fashion over some old now inactive oxidation. Wood stock is very good, piece missing at nose cap on right side. On right side, approximately 1/3, down the length of the stock, there is a crack that goes through one of the inlays and runs to the barrel retaining pin. A few other minor cracks and bumps throughout the gun. One chip missing near trigger guard. Buttplate is missing a chip at bottom. A few minor inlays replaced. Action needs some minor attention as sliding pan cover will not hold open. No crank is included with this lot so functionality can not be verified. Bore is very good with a minimum of oxidation but rifling is shallow but visible. One screw on wheel cover is loose and needs attention. This is a good example of a relatively rare birding rifle.

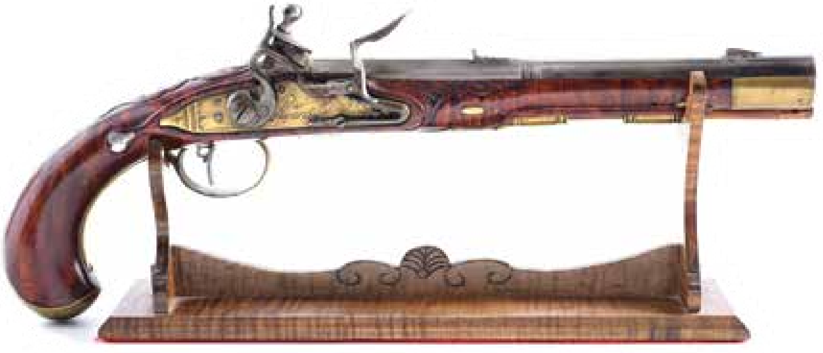
1111 - (A) FINE CONTEMPORARY FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY PISTOL BY PETER ALEXANDER DATED 1995.



Manufacturer: Peter Alexander Anno
Model: Flintlock Pistol
Caliber/Bore: .47 Rifled
Barrel Length: 10”
FFL Status: Antique

This fine contemporary pistol features a rifled two-stage barrel with a silver front sight and a scalloped notched rear sight. The breech is stamped “WK” and the top flat has a brass inlaid plaque inscribed “Peter Alexander Anno 1995”. The pistol has many features reminiscent of Frederick Sell, including a brass lockplate with engraved designs and a molding at the tail, signed in the center “Peter Alexander”. Brass furniture including a flat sideplate, engraved with scroll designs and floral motifs. The pommel cap is engraved with a large edelweiss around the screw. The trigger guard is also engraved on the bow with a flower and features a stylized Fleur-de-Lis finial. The nosecape is also engraved with borders and the barrel keys are brass. Highly figured maple stock of attractive form and relief carved scrolls around the barrel tang, with a bell flower carved around the ramrod entry ferrule. There is well-executed gadrooning in front of the lock and sideplate. Behind the lock and sideplate there are also silver hearts inlaid into the teardrop carving, as well as a silver oval wrist escutcheon. Also included is a well-made tiger maple pistol stand, made specifically for this pistol. CONDITION: Barrel retains a grey surface. Rifling is excellent and shows little use. Lock functions well and properly, and lockplate retains a mellowing mustard patina. Brass furniture retains a matching patina. Stock is excellent, with a few minor storage marks. A very attractive contemporary pistol, by a well-known contemporary maker. DMG 1,000 - 2,000

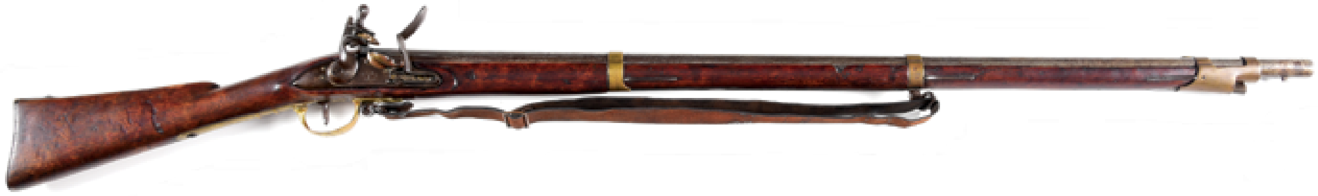
1112 - (A) 1771 DATED NEW ENGLAND FLINTLOCK FOWLER ATTRIBUTED TO JOHNSON.

Manufacturer: Attributed to Johnson
Model: New England Fowler
Caliber/Bore: .65 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 45”
FFL Status: Antique

For a signed example with nearly identical form and furniture, see plate NE 8 on page 40 of “Flintlock Fowlers: The First Guns Made in America” by Tom Grinslade. The example shown in the book has identical buttstock form to this example. It also has a sideplate and trigger guard of very similar form. According to Grinslade, Seth Johnson lived in Old Rutland, Massachusetts and was a Committee of Safety maker between 1772 and 1777. The iron barrel has thick walls and is round and tapered with a tapered relief flat panel along the top. A small brass bead is mounted on top, near the muzzle, along with evidence of an earlier sight slightly farther back. The barrel tang also has an integral raised notched rear sight. The lockplate has a rounded face and is unmarked. The furniture is brass and the flat sideplate has some simple decoration engraved around both lock screws. Most importantly, the oval-shaped convex silver wrist escutcheon is inscribed “1771” above a later inscribed date of “1807”, probably added at the time of the owner’s death or by a later family member at the time that they took possession. The brass trigger guard is crudely engraved with borders and simple designs. Sheet brass ramrod ferrules. Full length cherry stock in the classic New England form, showing French influence and a Roman nose buttstock. Complete with a later associated ramrod. CONDITION: Barrel retains a brown patina. Lock is a reconversion and retains a brown surface, does not hold on cock. Brass shows some wear and marks from use, retaining a mustard patina. Trigger guard has a period repair to back tang. Stock has a later coat of finish and shows some repaired breaks and cracks to forend and a couple minor pieces replaced around lockplate. A very nice dated New England fowler with excellent architecture. DMG 4,000 - 8,000



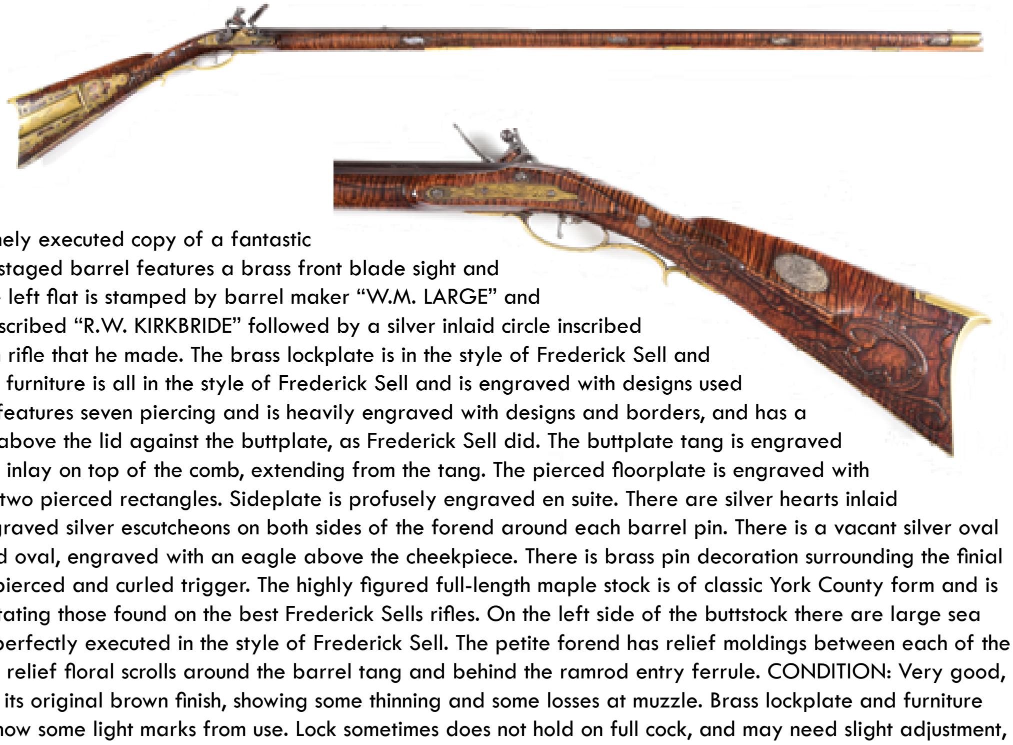
1113 - (A) RARE RUSSIAN CRIMEAN WAR CAPTURED MODEL 1828 FLINTLOCK MUSKET, DATED 1836

Manufacturer: Russian
Model: 1828
Serial No. 2850
Caliber/Bore: .72 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 41 - 3/8"
FFL Status: Antique

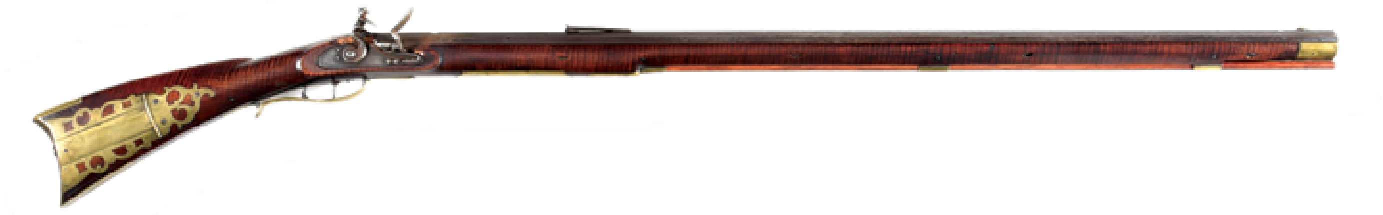
Typical Model 1828 Russian musket, with 1836 dated lock made at Tula. Matching 1836 dates on lock, barrel, side plate, front band, middle band, trigger guard and trigger guard tang. The rear band has an 1827 date on it. Very worn but still present Russian double eagle on the top of the buttplate. Remnants of the stock cartouche are visible on the right side of the butt. Proper cheek rest on left side of butt. This gun appears to be in original flint, although the touch hole is drilled fairly high up on the barrel. Many flintlock guns were issued by the Russians during the Crimean War, and this gun is no exception. Clearly stamped into the trigger guard bow "FROM/ INKERMAN. BY J. DE.V./ NOVR.5TH 1854". The Battle of Inkerman in Russia took place on that date between the Allied forces of Britain, France, Sardinia, and the Ottoman Empire and the Russian 10th Division led by Lt. General F. I. Soymonov. Despite being heavily outnumbered by the attacking Russian force, the allies were able to hold their position, partially due to the obsolete smoothbore flintlock weapons issued to the Russian troops, while the English troops were armed with the newly designed model 1853 Percussion rifled muskets. Heavy fog during the battle resulted in battalion-sized groups or less from both sides being cut off from their main forces, causing it to be referred to as "The Soldier's Battle". This gun is accompanied by an old leather sling. CONDITION: Gun retains a pleasing patina overall. Markings are worn in areas but mostly legible and clear. Some light pitting here and there. Brass has a pleasing dark color to it. Wood has dings and handling marks, a few old cracks in the forend that appear solid, as well as a crack in the left side just ahead of the front lock screw from having been overtightened at some point in the past. Fine mechanical function. Sling is solid with flaking. Ramrod appears to be too short for the gun but is certainly old. All in all a very difficult to find gun in its own right, with Crimean War history. GR 2,500 - 5,000

1114 - (A) CONTEMPORARY FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY RIFLE IN THE STYLE OF FREDERICK SELL BY R.W. KIRKBRIDE.

Manufacturer: R.W. Kirkbride
Model: Flintlock Kentucky Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .52 Rifled
Barrel Length: 48"
FFL Status: Antique

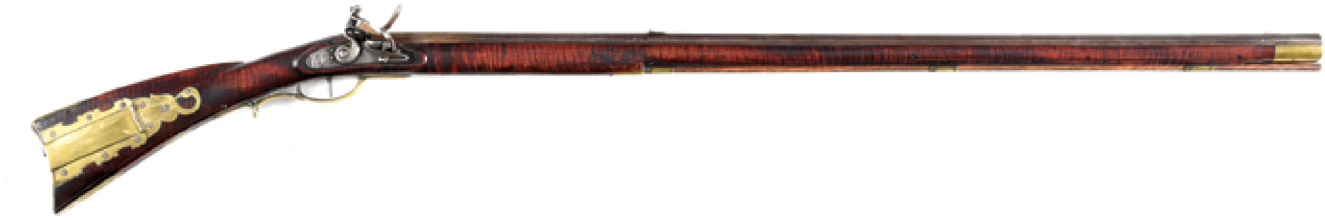


This fine contemporary rifle is an extremely executed copy of a fantastic Frederick Sell Kentucky. The rifled, two-staged barrel features a brass front blade sight and a notched and engraved rear sight. The left flat is stamped by barrel maker "W.M. LARGE" and the top flat has a brass inlaid plaque inscribed "R.W. KIRKBRIDE" followed by a silver inlaid circle inscribed "10", possibly indicating it was the 10th rifle that he made. The brass lockplate is in the style of Frederick Sell and is inscribed "RK" in the center. The brass furniture is all in the style of Frederick Sell and is engraved with designs used by Sell. The four-piece brass patchbox features seven piercing and is heavily engraved with designs and borders, and has a convex lid with the release located just above the lid against the buttplate, as Frederick Sell did. The buttplate tang is engraved with a shell design and also has a brass inlay on top of the comb, extending from the tang. The pierced floorplate is engraved with floral motifs around the screws and has two pierced rectangles. Sideplate is profusely engraved en suite. There are silver hearts inlaid on each side of the wrist, as well as engraved silver escutcheons on both sides of the forend around each barrel pin. There is a vacant silver oval wrist escutcheon as well as a silver inlaid oval, engraved with an eagle above the cheekpiece. There is brass pin decoration surrounding the finial of the barrel tang. The rifle also has a pierced and curled trigger. The highly figured full-length maple stock is of classic York County form and is profusely carved with relief designs imitating those found on the best Frederick Sells rifles. On the left side of the buttstock there are large sea scrolls, gadrooned panels, and flowers perfectly executed in the style of Frederick Sell. The petite forend has relief moldings between each of the barrel pins on both sides, and there are relief floral scrolls around the barrel tang and behind the ramrod entry ferrule. CONDITION: Very good, showing little use. Barrel retains most of its original brown finish, showing some thinning and some losses at muzzle. Brass lockplate and furniture retain a pleasing mustard patina and show some light marks from use. Lock sometimes does not hold on full cock, and may need slight adjustment, but mechanism is strong. Bore and rifling are excellent. Stock is very good, showing only a couple minor marks, including one minor area of raised wood around the barrel tang. A beautiful contemporary rifle, that truly captures the artwork found on Frederick Sell's rifles. DMG 2,000 - 4,000



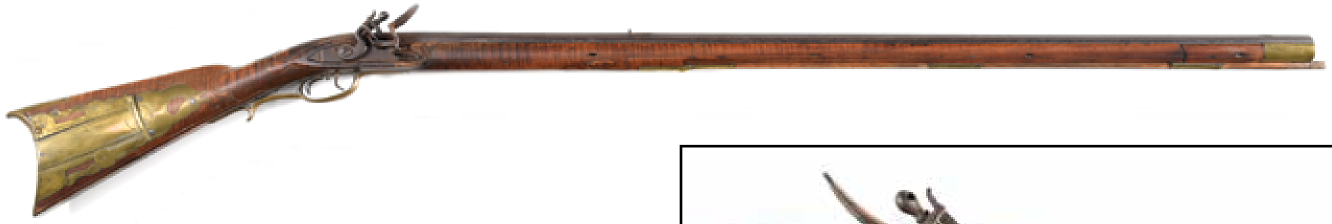
1115 - (A) SIMON MILLER SIGNED FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Simon Miller
Model: Kentucky Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .54 Rifled
Barrel Length: 42 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique

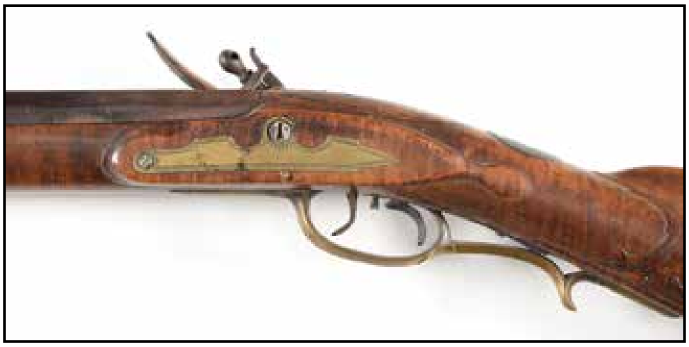
Flintlock Kentucky style rifle signed in script "S * Miller" for Simon Miller of Hamburg, Berks County, Pennsylvania circa 1830. Heavy target style octagon rifled barrel measuring 1-1/4" across muzzle with flat barrel keyes and having several dovetails in front and back so as to move the German silver front blade sight and the adjustable rear sight to various positions for different ranges and eye capabilities. Barrel signed in script "S*Miller" and marked "W Deeds" on left barrel flat (most likely the barrel maker). Flintlock marked "ROSS" controlled by a single trigger. Curly maple full stock with "Roman nose" buttstock and brass furniture including a four-piece engraved patchbox with 11 piercings. Brass saddle plate and cheekpiece inlay. Coin Silver thumbpiece inlay and "Man in The Moon" inlay above cheekpiece. Gun has rings below cheekpiece for touch hole pick. 1-1/2" wide butt with patchbox lid control center right on buttplate. Typical Miller style "ram's horn" brass sideplate. Lovely back to back "C" scroll incised carving with tulip and floral design on buttstock. A great fresh to the market Miller rifle. CONDITION: Overall good with some added dovetails and holes in tang for sight placement. Lock is a period lock with some replaced parts. Gun has been reconverted to flint with barrel having correct length but shows signs of welding and heat damage. Front lock bolt is missing. Wood is good with no visible restoration except some wood loss around lock from when the gun was percussion. Gun has shootable bore with sharp lands and grooves. A great looking rifle with condition. DLM 3,000 - 5,000



1116 - (A) NICHOLAS BEYER FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Nicholas Beyer
Model: Flintlock Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .62 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 42"
FFL Status: Antique

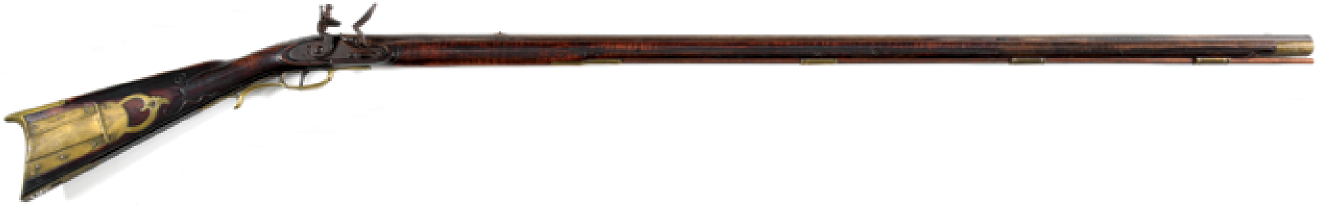
Flintlock Kentucky style rifle signed "N. Beyer" for Nicholas Beyer of Lebanon County, Pennsylvania who worked from 1780 to 1850. Smoothbore octagon barrel with German silver blade front sight and rifle style notched rear sight. Barrel has usual heavy-handed script signature "N Beyer". Period flint lock marked "Warranted" and controlled by a single trigger. Full curly maple stock with brass hardware including four-piece patchbox with Beyer's signature Bird finial. Nice wide faceted brass trigger bow. Floral incised carving at the end of the moulding line. Brass teardrop inlay along toe with hole for touch hole pick. 1-3/4" wide butt with patchbox release lever in center-right of the buttplate. Nice incised line carving along toe and on the cheekpiece. Comes with original looking hardwood ramrod. Great condition signed example of a Nicholas Beyer never before on the market. CONDITION: Overall good except small piece of wood replaced in front on top of lock. Lock is a period lock with replaced frizzen spring. Most likely gun was reconverted to flint as barrel shows signs of heat damage. Barrel has good patina with correct length and has probably been bored out at one time explaining the large caliber. Stock is free of breaks and cracks with small gouge marks near toe and cheekpiece and under sideplate. Patchbox lid hinge is damaged but still functions. Dark shootable bore with good mechanics. DLM 4,000 - 6,000





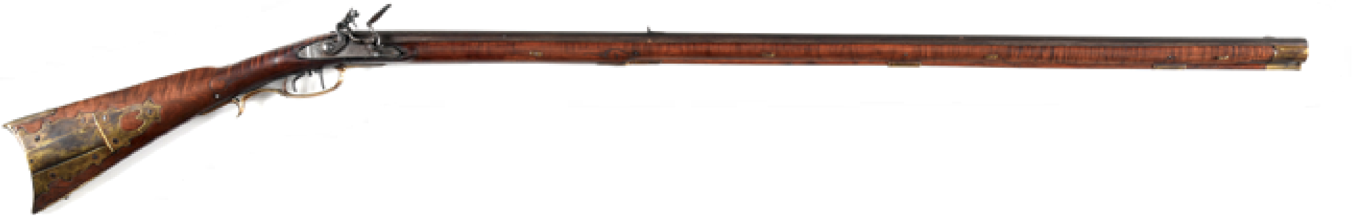
1117 - (A) HENRY KOONS KENTUCKY RIFLE WITH KINDIG PROVENANCE.
Manufacturer: Henry Koons
Model: Flintlock
Caliber/Bore: .54 Rifled
Barrel Length: 41 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Antique

Beautiful “Golden Age” Kentucky rifle built by Henry Koons of Big Pipe Creek, Frederick County, Maryland, just south of Adams County Pennsylvania. Little is known of Koons except that he was an exceptional gunsmith building fine carved flintlock rifles. This particular rifle was once in the famed Joe Kindig collection and is pictured in his book “Thoughts on the Kentucky Rifle in Its Golden Age” and is “No. 200” on page 435. Gun has full octagon smoothbore barrel with blade front sight and rear notched sight with “H Koons” written in script on a brass plate on top facet of barrel. Flint lock with waterproof pan controlled by double set triggers. Full curly maple stock with raised carving and brass furniture. Carving consists of a beautiful raised carved floral design with round checkered oval behind and below cheekpiece. Raised “shell” pattern carving around tang with “Beavertail” pattern behind lock and sidplate flowing into moulding lines around lock. Raised “Fleur de Lis” pattern behind tailpipe flowing into the dished forestock moulding. Kindig states that one of the sideplates has been replaced on the patchbox, which is difficult to tell except for the use of different nails in the top sideplate. 4 piece patchbox with typical “Horsehead Finial”, 3 piercings and “pin wheel” engraved sideplates. Push button release on top sideplate. Gun has 2 coin silver inlays with an oval cheekpiece engraved with a “Hunter’s Star” and a oval thumbpiece. Barrel is held with 4 brass flat keyes (2 missing). Comes with hardwood ramrod. PROVENANCE: Ex-Kindig Collection and Ex-Lattimer Collection. CONDITION: Gun has an untouched look with wood surfaces having a dry appearance. Lock looks to be period, but wood around lock has burnout which could indicate this gun was at one point converted to percussion and then back to flint. Top sideplate and toe plate have raised due to possible hot and cold storage situations. Front forestock has a break 6” from muzzle which looks to have been there for many years (should be stabilized). Dark bore with good mechanics. A fine example of Koons’s work. DLM 10,000 - 15,000



1118 - (A) MEWHIRTER ATTRIBUTED KENTUCKY FLINTLOCK RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Mewhirter
Model: Flintlock
Caliber/Bore: .44 Rifled
Barrel Length: 47”
FFL Status: Antique

Kentucky flintlock rifle attributed to John Mewhirter of Shippensburg, Pennsylvania circa 1815 to 1836. Full octagon smoothbore barrel with blade front sight and notched rear sight. Single bolt flint lock with no markings controlled by a single trigger. Full curly maple stock with raised carving in “C” scroll pattern similar to various rifles signed by Frederick Sell. Nice raised Q” carving around tang. Brass furniture including a four piece engraved “Q” style finial also similar to finials seen on Mewhirters. Square button release for patchbox lid in toeplate. Nice engraved brass trigger bow. Nicely engraved sideplate. CONDITION: Gun has heavy restoration with barrel having been lengthened approximately 10” along with forestock wood. Lock is a replacement with some added wood around mortise. Dark pitted bore with sticky mechanics. A good looking carved rifle. DLM 5,000 - 7,000



1119 - (A) ADAM EVICK SIGNED EARLY WEST VIRGINIA FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Adam Evick
Model: Kentucky Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .45 Rifled
Barrel Length: 44 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique

Adam Evick worked in Pendleton County, West Virginia (then part of Virginia) from 1810 to 1840. Gun is a rare and probably one of the best examples of his early work. This gun is featured in "The OWR-CSA Newsletter, Summer Edition, 2016, Volume 20.2" and was a featured exhibit at the Kentucky Rifle Foundation's "Prickett's Fort" Exhibition in April of 2016. Gun has a full octagon rifled barrel with blade front sight and notched rear sight signed in block letters "AE" for Adam Evick. Full curly maple stock with incised carved floral "C" pattern behind cheekpiece and incised squiggle moulding line. Brass furniture featuring a four piece engraved patchbox with typical four petal "Daisy" finial with push button release in the toeplate. Brass flat barrel keyes. Flint lock marked "Walker" contolled by double set triggers. Hardwood ramrod. CONDITION: Gun has been cleaned with some restoration including a replaced forestock and reconverted lock. Brass has been cleaned long ago with small crack in finial. Dark bore with very visible rifling. Trigger does not hold cock. Rare rifle by an early Virginia frontier maker. DLM 3,000 - 5,000

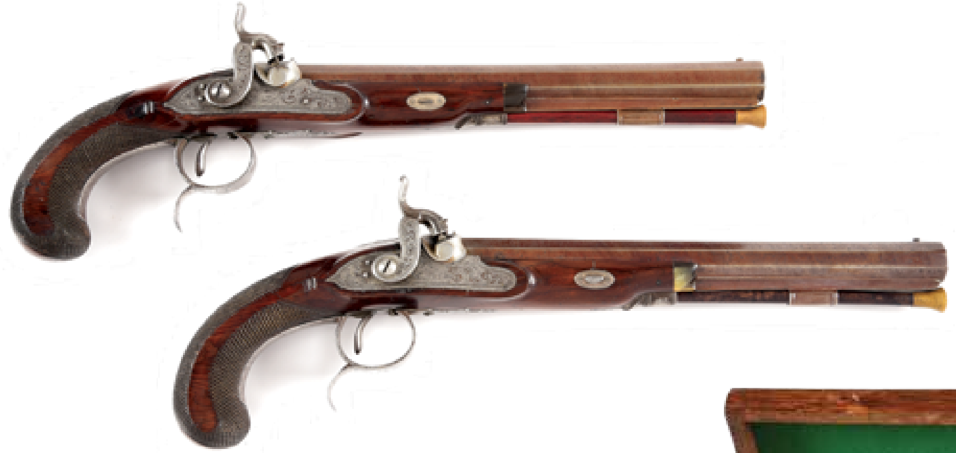
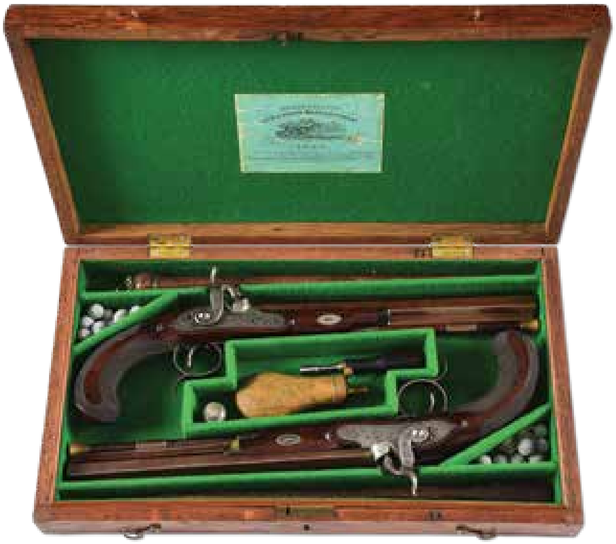
1120 - (A) FINE CASED CONTEMPORARY FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY RIFLE BY LOUIS SMITH.
Manufacturer: Louis Smith
Model: Kentucky Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .44 Rifled
Barrel Length: 40"
FFL Status: Antique

Contemporary Kentucky style rifle made by Louis Smith from Jonesboro, Tennessee who worked in the late 20th Century and was known for his excellent engraving. Browned Douglass octagon rifled barrel with silver blade front sight and notched fixed rear sight with "Louis Smith" on German silver inlay on barrel. Hand made flint lock with extra percussion lock with touch hole having a bushing so as to be able to screw in a drum and use rifle with percussion lock. Locks controlled by double set triggers. Tight grained beautiful curly maple fullstock with exquisite brass and silver finely engraved furniture including a four piece patchbox with 11 piercings and a mix of finely engraved brass and silver. 19 engraved silver inlays including a toe inlay with 5 piercings, a comb piece with one piercing and a beautiful saddle plate with 3 piercings. Silver engraved sideplate with four piercings. Rifle is also exquisitely raised carved with floral "C" scroll pattern behind cheekpiece and floral raised pattern on wrist and behind tang. Brass triggerguard and buttplate with patchbox release in top of buttplate. Rifle comes with striped hardwood ramrod, brass bullet mold and engraved priming and supply horns with animal images scrimshawed on them. Builder has further put this gun over the top with a hinged two piece curly maple case with purple velvet lining. Louis Smith was well respected and noted for his engraving and classic rifles and is noted in Robert Weil's book "Contemporary Makers of Muzzleloading Firearms". CONDITION: Like new with light handling marks. Accessories are all in fine condition. Perfect bore with good mechanics. A super rifle and a true work of art. DLM 4,000 - 6,000

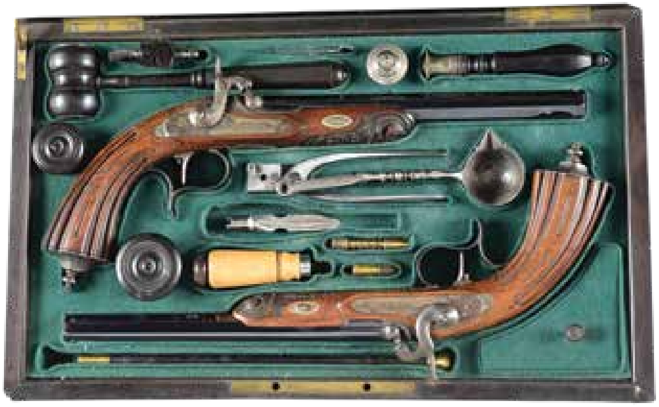




1121 - (A) A RARE PAIR OF IRISH DUELLING PISTOLS SIGNED BY BOWLS, CASED.

Manufacturer: (Both) Bowls
Model: (Both) Dueller
Caliber/Bore: (Both) .60 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: (Both) 11”
FFL Status: Antique

James Bowls is recorded in Stockel as working in Cork between circa 1804-1830. Both pistols are in identical configuration with 11” octagonal barrels, half stocks with under rib for brass tipped ramrods retained by a single reinforced ferrule. Barrels have slightly swamped muzzles, and indistinctly marked “CORK” on top flat, with offset British proofs and silver strip at breech. Hooked screw breeches with truing strikes. Horn tipped half stocks. Tang with stand of arms and florals. Locks marked “BOWLS” in center, with florals on fore, rays at rear of pan, and bird (quail?) at rear, with floral engraving throughout. Barrel estucheon with florals. Spurred trigger guards with urn finials engraved en suite. Slabside grips with checkering and vacant area at base. Initials engraved on a silver plaque on left side, look to be script “IB”. Pistol (A) is signed in barrel channel “Dr F W Johnson” and “Gresham Wisconsin 1962”; “Dr FWJ” under lock. “FWJ 63” and “FWJ 62” on undersides of barrels, most likely inventory control numbers for Dr. Johnson. French fitted in a relined case with Henry Allport label in lid with accessories comprising loading mallet, cleaning rod, powder flask, oil bottle, and nipple wrench with fire blued pricker in butt. CONDITION: Good as preserved. Barrels have an extra application of browning that has obfuscated some of the “CORK” legend and proofs, and there are a number of spots of old inactive oxidation throughout. Wood is very good with several bumps and bruises and some grain separation in the barrel channels that are live and need attention but is otherwise full sized and attractive. Accessories are good with some age related staining and bruises. Actions work appropriately when operated by hand, barrels are very good with a minimum of oxidation throughout. EW 8,000 - 12,000



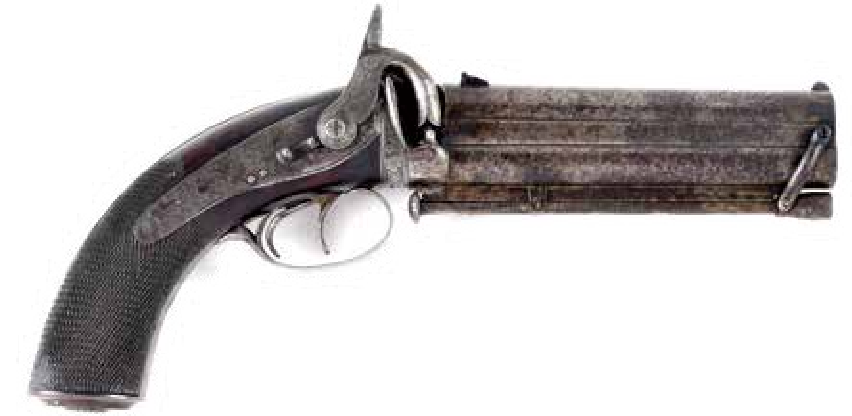
1122 - (A) AN ATTRACTIVE ENCASED PAIR OF LEPAGE TARGET PISTOLS WITH NUMEROUS ACCESSORIES.

Manufacturer: (Both) LePage
Model: (Both) Target
Caliber/Bore: (Both) .45 Rifled
Barrel Length: (Both) 9 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique

Pistols in identical configuration with unsigned octagonal barrel, front sight dovetailed in horizontally on bead, rear sight on tang. Patent breeches. Case color hardened locks stepped at rear, case colored hammers. Fluted grips with urn finials. Forearm extensively carved with florals. Set triggers, trigger guards with spur. Barrels retained by a single key. Housed in a darkwood case with numerous accessories comprising a 2 piece lead pour, oil bottle, pricker, combination brush, loading mallet, bullet mold with sprue cutter, combination screwdriver and nipple wrench, cleaning tips, and screwdriver handle, cleaning rod, and two jars filled with caps and balls and an extra set of front and rear sights. One handle is missing, possibly an extra handle for the nipple wrench. CONDITION: Very good as untampered with. Barrels retain extensive amounts of their high polish blue finish with some old rubs and inactive oxidation spotting. Wood is very good and full sized with a few rubs but no discernible cracks. Trigger guard finial of pistol (A) is starting to lift out of the wood and needs attention. Barrel keys with some old oxidation. Case colors largely have faded. Actions work appropriately when gently operated by hand, bores are very good with strong rifling. Accessories are very good with some age related staining throughout. One jar possibly a replacement as it appears to be a lighter wood that was painted to match. Screw driver has a chip out of blade. Case is fair to good with some lifting of brass wire accents and some chips missing. EW 5,000 - 8,000

1123 - (A) SHOCKINGLY RARE SWINBURN & SON OVER/ UNDER PISTOL MADE FOR JOHN JACOBS, OF JACOB'S RIFLE FAME, ONE OF A PAIR WITH THE OTHER PISTOL IN THE ROYAL ARMORUIES, ENGLAND.

Manufacturer: C.P. Swinburn
Model: Percussion
Serial No. 1012
Caliber/Bore: .62 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 6 - 1/4"
FFL Status: Antique



Swinburn & Son is recorded as working in Birmingham circa 1851-1883 and was heavily involved with the manufacture of the Jacob's Rifle that brought John Jacob much of his fame. Jacob is also noted as an officer of the East India Company who spent much of his time in India before founding the town of Jacobabad, where he ultimately perished and his mausoleum can still be visited. Blade front sight, rear sight with 1 standing sight and 1 folding leaf. Top strap with old partially legible legend that proclaims manufacture by C.P. Swinburn and Sons under Jacob's pistol patent reading "GENERAL [JOHN] JACOB'S PATTERN RIFLED PISTOL / MANUFACTURED BY C P SWINBURN & SON BIRMINGHAM". Left side of barrels with partially obscured Birmingham proofs and a pair of "30" for bore size. Captured swivel ramrod with trumpet head and floral engraved rammer, deeply inset for use with Jacob's pointed bullets. Back action locks engraved with scroll and grape leaves, breech borders engraved en suite. English push on safeties. Hammers of two different sizes with flat backs to strike two different nipples; hammers engraved with acanthus. Trigger guard with full-length tang engraved en suite. Spine tang with further grape bunches engraving and a serial number, 1012, partially obscured. 1 piece walnut grips with half length checkering, left side inlaid with a silver plaque in a vacant escutcheon depicting a coat of arms and motto "Non Nobis Solum" (Trans: Not For Ourselves Alone), the arms of John Jacob. Buttcap with trap for caps. CONDITION: Good for age. Metal essentially a smooth mix of darkness and gunmetal grey, with several areas of obfuscation as mentioned above. Left hammer replaced. Grips are attractive and full sized, with sharp checkering, and numerous bumps and bruises throughout acquired over time. Silver plaque is legible under magnification. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand with exception given to safeties which are frozen, bores with smooth oxidation throughout. Given the caliber of the bore, the Birmingham stamps for 30 bore, and accompanying letters, the bores have been considerably opened up and obliterated what would have been original Jacob's rifling for use with Jacob's proprietary ammo. Accompanied by a number of letters from Graeme Rimer and Paul Wilcock identifying this pistol and authenticating it when it visited England in the late '80s. A very finite number of arms have been attributed to Jacob, and even fewer have an identified pair in a respected arms institution. EW 5,000 - 8,000

1124 - (A) LOT OF 2: PAIR OF HENRY DERINGER PHILADELPHIA PERCUSSION DERINGERS.

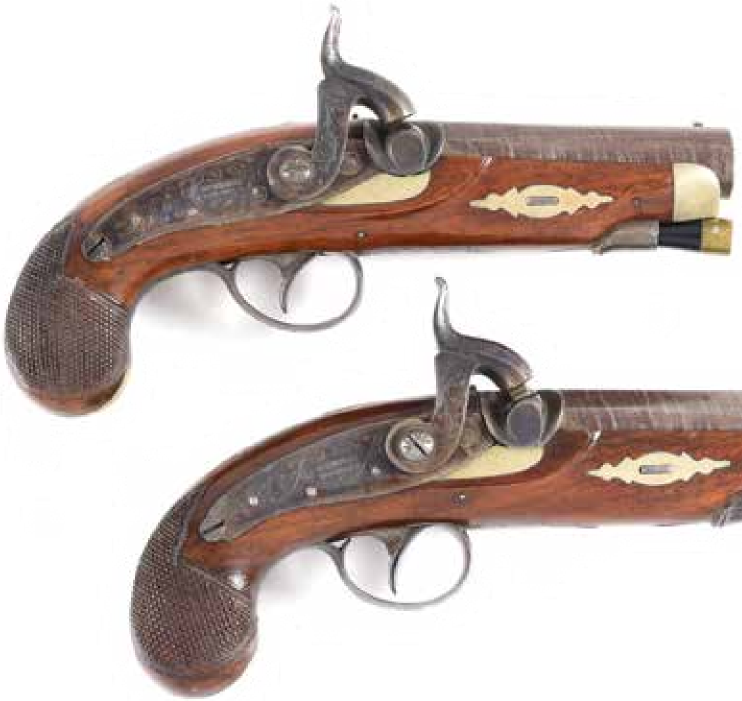
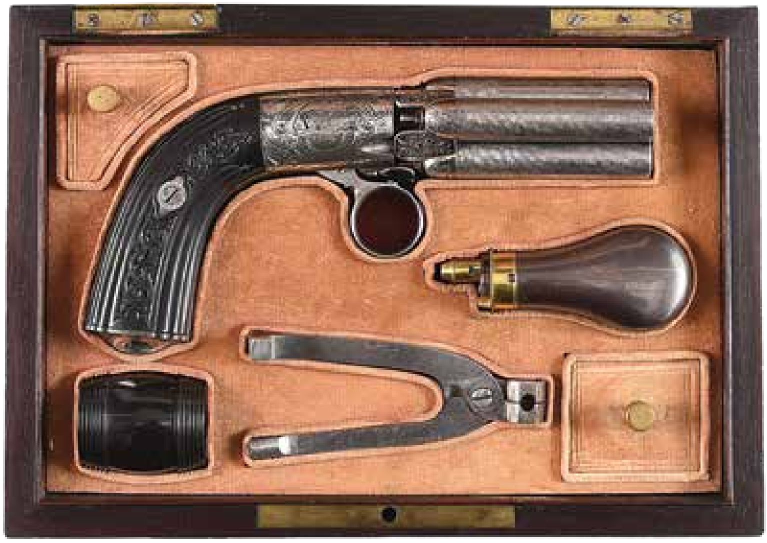
FFL Status: Antique

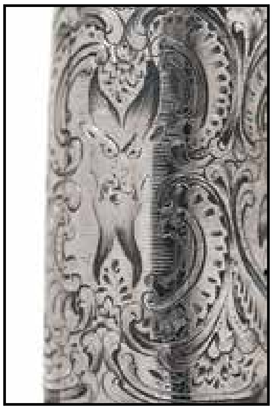


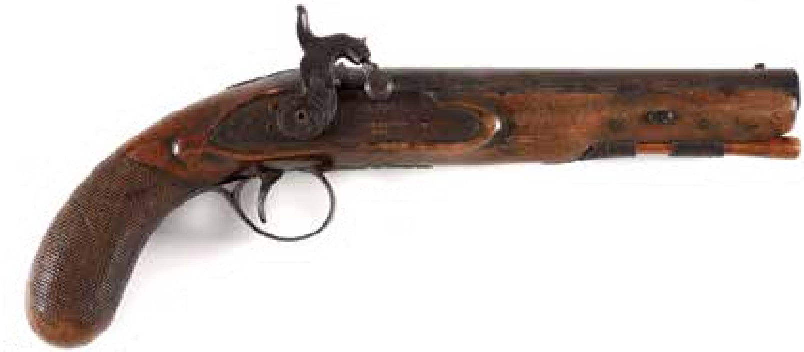
Lot consists of: Pair in identical configuration as made by Henry Deringer of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania circa 1830. Twist pattern rounded octagonal rifled barrel with brass bead front sight with patent breech percussion ignition system marked on top "Deringer Philadel'a". Case hardened scroll engraved back action lock marked "Deringer Philadel'a" controlled by a single trigger. Walnut checkered stock with German silver barrel escutcheon plate, nose cap, thumbpiece, flash protector and butt inlay. Comes with ebony brass tipped ramrod. CONDITION: Gun has 80% overall original finish remaining with great mechanics and bore. (B) Same configuration as pistol (A) and could be a mate to it although neither are marked indicating such. CONDITION: Same condition as (A) only missing ramrod. DLM 10,000 - 15,000



1125 - (A) EXCEPTIONALLY FINE CASED MARIETTE PEPPERBOX PISTOL.
Manufacturer: Mariette
Model: Pepperbox
Caliber/Bore: .45 Percussion
Barrel Length: 2 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique

Four Damascus screw barrels, the breech ends, and adjoining frame are numbered 1 through 4, respectively. Liege and crown over “D” proofs. Breech engraved with panels of florals. Frame engraved with rocaille; the sides with panels of birds, the top with a detailed devil’s mask. Features a steel ring trigger and the grip strap is marked “Mariette/Brevette”. Fluted ebony grip scales with central intaglio-carved scrollwork panel. Complete with original rose velour-lined rosewood case. The brass-banded lid with ebony rim and central wooden cartouche carved with scrolls. Fitted interior contains powder flask (Riling #124), barrel-shaped cap box, and single cavity mold with the handle terminating in a nipple wrench and barrel lug. CONDITION: Fine. Bright steel has been lightly cleaned and shows minor wear to some markings. Nipples and striker retain much of original fire-blued finish. Excellent grips. Case lid shows several small and two long grain cracks. Lining shows some fading and minor wear. Accessories are fine to excellent. This is perhaps the nicest Mariette pepperbox the cataloger has encountered. PROVENANCE: Keith Neal Collection, Joseph A. Murphy Collection. DMG 3,500 - 5,500





1126 - (A) SCARCE SOUTHERN PERCUSSION PISTOL BY HAPPOLD OF CHARLESTON, DATED 1862.

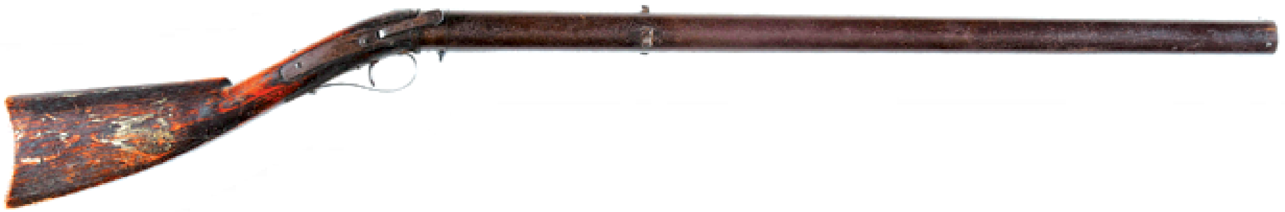
FFL Status: Antique

Southern made smoothbore large caliber percussion pistol made by “J. M. Happold in 1862, Charleston, South Carolina. Browned smoothbore barrel with small iron blade front sight. Barrel marked “Charleston, S.C.” and has “Flag and Cannon Breech with pile of Cannon Balls” scene engraved on top of tang. Scroll engraved percussion lock with “ J.M. Happold 1862” stamped on lock. Lock held with engraved single bolt and controlled by a single trigger. Walnut stock with checkered grip with iron furniture and silver thumbpiece with illegible letters in script. Comes with hardwood ramrod. PROVENANCE: Comes with letter stating previous sale data and from “Billy Allen” collection. CONDITION: Metal parts turning an aged brown patina with some light surface rust. Lock is missing hammer screw. Wood has dry aged finish with a small chip on left side near muzzle and a hairline crack near muzzle on right. Dark bore with pitting and mechanisms are sticky. DLM 3,000 - 6,000



1127 - (A) FASCINATING "MULE EAR" PERCUSSION .50 TRIPLE BORE REVOLVING RIFLE
Manufacturer: Mule Ear
Model: Revolving Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .50 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 31"
FFL Status: Antique

Single barrel has three individual bead front sights with notch rear sights mounted onto a single large (1 - 1/4") barrel that has three individually bored "barrels", each with their own nipple. A detailed inspection of this rifle has been unable to turn up any kind of maker's marks or proofs; possibly a blacksmith build or the fevered dream of a madman. Short perch belly stock. Furniture is all iron. Nipples a contemporary blue replacement. Hand operated mule ear with barrel indexing by hand. Accompanied by a letter confirming that the gun was sold at Brian Lebel's auction of the Roy Rogers-Dale Evans museum during the 2010 liquidation of the museum. CONDITION: Metal has acquired a smooth chocolate patina throughout. Wood is dry with numerous areas of rubbing and roughness to high edges. There are a few cracks in the wood. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bores are very good with some abrasion throughout. A fascinating and likely unique piece. EW 4,000 - 6,000

FFL Status: Antique

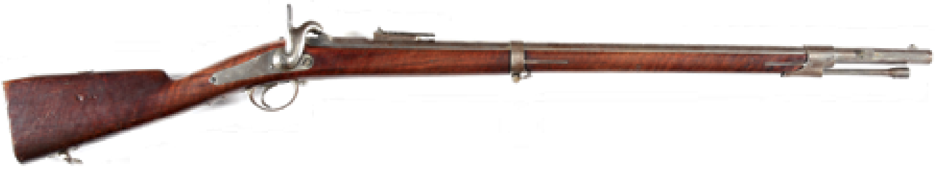
Hooded bead-on-post front sight dovetailed horizontally into the octagonal barrel with adjustable notch rear sight and tang mounted peep sight. Top flat signed “I.G. DIETZ IN KLEIN-SCHMALKALDEN”. Patent breech. Lock signed “G. & W. PISTOR / IN / SCHMALKALDEN” in a reserve and surrounded by florals. Attractive hammer engraved in the form of a dragon. German silver side plates with florals. Barrel retained by three keys with German silver escutcheons. Vacant ramrod pipes with florals and knurled edges, reinforcement with floral finial. German silver nosecap engraved en suite. Trigger guard of classic sweeping Germanic form and engraved en suite with rest of gun. Small checkered area of forearm with florals. Elaborately checkered wrist with brass decorations and Germanic oak leaves. Rear of buttstock with stabilizing prong in and banded forest scenes which extends onto patchbox, left side with a wooden scene of a buck and a doe. Barrel shows evidence of being lined. CONDITION: Very good as gently preserved. Barrel essentially gunmetal grey throughout. Evidence of wood splice repair just in front of reinforced ramrod mouth and a repaired split at nosecap where slightly too much wood glue was used. Rest of wood crisp and attractive. Lock has had some oxidation cleaned off of the front at one point with some softening to engraving and Pistor signature. Metal has some age related staining that may clean. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with sharp rifling and some oxidation. Buttplate possibly a replacement. EW 1,500 - 2,500

1132 - (A) UNUSUAL FRENCH MODEL 1859 PERCUSSION RIFLE, ARTILLERY ORDNANCE WORKSHOP MARKED.
Manufacturer: France
Model: Percussion Training Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .74 Rifled
Barrel Length: 34 - 1/4”
FFL Status: Antique



This is a very interesting gun. Well marked on the lock “Atelier de Precision”. The barrel is not marked. Rear sight is graduated to 1000 yards. Bayonet lug on right side of the barrel. No proofs in the wood, although there is a brass disc on the comb that is marked “E COLE DEL’ARTILLERIE ET DU GENIE” in a circle along the edge, with “H/ 54” hand stamped in the center. There is a diamond with a “P” mark inside on the trigger guard and bands. As this gun does not appear to have been made in one of the national armories, and based on the lockplate markings and brass disc, we believe it to be some sort of developmental design having been made in one of the ordnance workshops who were experimenting with weapons, ammunition, and cannon designs. CONDITION: Fine with some very light surface rust here and there as well as some extremely minor pitting in areas. Markings are clear. Wood is very good with some dings and handling marks. Bore is very good with deep strong rifling. Fine mechanical function. GR 1,000 - 1,500

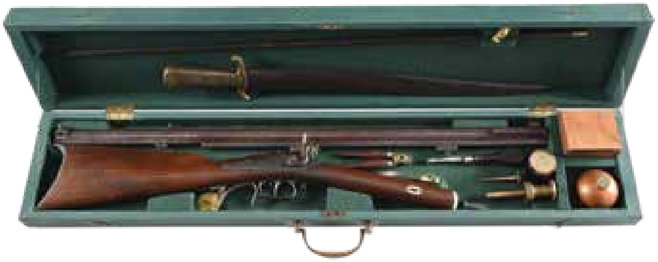
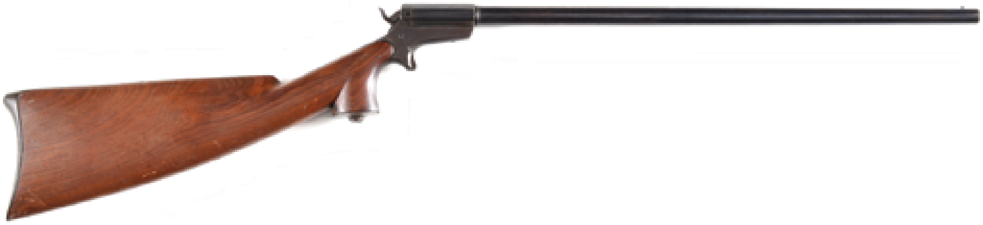
1135 - (A) CASED W. HUDSON PERCUSSION SNIPER RIFLE WITH BAHN FREI BAYONET, POSSIBLY TURNER USED.

Manufacturer: W. Hudson
Model: Percussion Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .45 Rifled
Barrel Length: 31”
FFL Status: Antique



Hooked patent breech with protected bead front sight, notch rear sight, and tang mounted aperture sight. Heavy octagonal barrel with front turned down for bullet starter, right side of barrel with bayonet lug. Two ramrod ferrule half stock with German silver nosecap and escutcheon. Back action lock with “W.L. Hudson / Maker (upside down) / Cin. O.”. Simple cock. Double set trigger in a flowing Germanic trigger guard. Buttplate with top prong. Accompanied by a Bahn Frei (Trans: Clear the way!) bayonet with “Bahn Frei” cast into brass handle, small “12” stamped at base of handle. Yataghan blade with fitting on hilt for attaching to barrel. Sling eyes just in front of trigger guard and front ramrod ferrule. One side of blade engraved “Bahn Frei”, other side engraved “Fr. Reqerlein / 1855” Associated contemporary case with accessories comprising bullet mold, nipple wrench, bullet starter, oil bottle, pick, cleaning rod, and a small wooden box with Joyce’s cap tin with threaded ball and string with pads. The Turnerverein (Turners), was a German American sporting club / paramilitary group that consisted of German Americans in the United States that practiced German culture and sports, including target shooting. A number of Turners joined the Union during the Civil War. Interestingly, a number of Turner unions were present in Ohio, further enhancing the likelihood of this being a Turner gun. CONDITION: Barrel has acquired a pleasing chocolate patina with some silvering at high edges. Barrel breech truing strike is slightly askew and breech is also very slightly off. Lock, trigger guard, hammer, with chocolate patina and some flashes of silver underneath. Stocks are very good with some minor marks and rubs throughout, an extra layer of varnish has been applied at one point. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with visible but slightly softened rifling and some abrasion in grooves. Bayonet is very good with a freckled blade and some darkening of brass. Case is fine as contemporary, accessories are very good with some evidence of use; nipple wrench has one break on one flange. Please note that this rifle does NOT have a retaining wedge. EW 2,000 - 5,000

1136 - (A) SHARPS PROTOTYPE PERCUSSION POCKET SHOTGUN.
Manufacturer: Sharps
Model: Pocket Rifle
Serial No. 5193
Caliber/Bore: .36 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 19"
FFL Status: Antique



Sharps pocket shotgun possibly built as a prototype circa 1850- 1865. Gun resembles Tipping and Lawden Sharps single shot pistol with the exception that the frame is a derivative of one of the large style four barrel derringers made at the time and comes apart with the removal of a screw in the bottom of the frame. Barrel is blued octagon to round tapering to a length of 19" and is unmarked. Breech of barrel has percussion nipple inside concealed when gun is assembled. Blued iron frame has remnants of a marking that says "Sharps Patent , 25 1859" on right side. When disassembled frame is marked on underside of butt with the serial number "5193". Percussion hammer controlled by a thumb trigger. Walnut plain pistol grip stock with steel serrated grip cap and Sharps style cast steel buttplate. Stock has nicely shaped cheekpiece. A truly unique piece worthy of more research. CONDITION: 60% original barrel blue with some light freckling. Action retains 40% blue with balance turning a plum brown. Wood has been cleaned with traces of an old oil finish. Good bore and mechanics. DLM 3,000 - 4,000

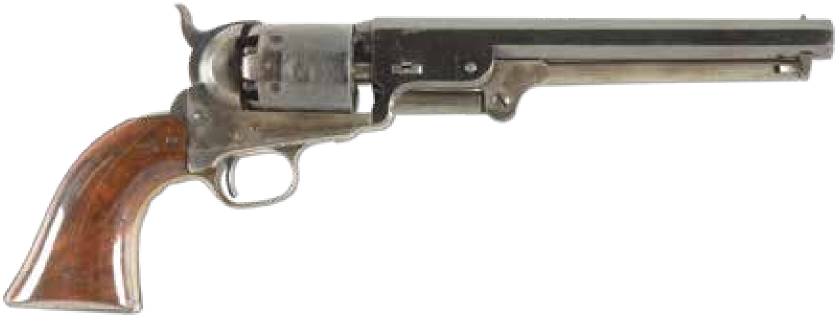
1139 - (A) SUPERB SECOND MODEL COLT 1851 NAVY REVOLVER



Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1851 Navy
Caliber/Bore: .36 Percussion
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique

Unique Colt Model 1851 with octagon barrel and early 2nd Model thin style barrel lug. One line barrel address marked: “-ADDRESS SAML COLT NEW YORK CITY-” with six shot cylinder showing W.L. Ormsby’s roll die naval battle scene and marked “COLTS PATENT NO.” No serial numbers or other Colt marking found on other parts. Revolver has typical Colt high polish blue on barrel and cylinder. Case hardened frame, loading lever, and hammer. Brass trigger guard and backstrap are silver plated. One-piece walnut grips with nice figure and extra varnish (piano) finish. Right grip has an oval cartouche with a crown and letters “AF”. This marking is believed to indicate the gun was formally in the factory collection of Auguste Francotte located in Liege, Belgium. The collection was sold in 1891. A small number “4” is located on nine parts and believed to be assembly numbers. The number 2638 located on the right bottom butt of the grip is believed to be an Auguste Francotte inventory or collection number. Given the fact Colt was looking for licensee in Liege, this revolver is believed to have been manufactured by Colt and provided to Auguste Francotte as a “Pattern” or Tool Room Gun”. Pictured and discussed on page 223 of the book “Colt 1851 and 1861 Navies and Conversions by Robert Jordan and Don Geri. CONDITION: Appears to have never been fired. All the original blue is visible in all six cylinder chambers. All six cylinder safety pins and nipples are nearly mint. Bore is bright as new. Most all original high polish bright blue remains on barrel with a few small areas of light pitting. Cylinder has most all original blue with near mint roll die scene and markings. Case hardened frame, loading lever, and hammer are mostly a dove grey patina with traces of bright case colors. Unmolested original screws. Grips show nearly all original high varnish finish with little wear. Overall a beautiful high condition revolver. PROVENANCE: Formally in the German collection of Heinrich Dietz and Swiss collection of Peter Blatter. -MKS- 6,000 - 8,000

LOT DESCRIPTION

Rarely has a more important or unique pair of Colt percussion revolvers and associated artifacts been offered for sale. This lot includes the only known Colt Model 1851 Navy Revolver with a case hardened cylinder and browned rather than blued barrel. The only known Colt Model 1855 “Root” Sidehammer Revolver with a casehardened frame along with being the only known antique Colt firearm with a name (L. Ballou) marked in place of the serial number. Revolvers are housed in an equally unique London made, deluxe Hartford style walnut fitted case with brass corners and brass escutcheon marked “L. BALLOU / LONDON”. Most interesting, this London made case is set up to accept the Hartford made 1855 Sidehammer, and London made 1851 Navy, with an American style powder flask rather than an English style flask. This feature in itself is unique and stands as a testament to Ballou’s influence and ability to have items custom made in the Colt shops to his specifications. Also included are the only known surviving 19th century pair of Rampant Colt Sculptures. The lot further includes a custom London made Traveling Desk, Tea Chest, Sewing Box, Snuff Box, “Sea Trunk”, and, most importantly, L. Ballou’s Engineering Handbook that is inscribed to him by Colonel Samuel Colt.

HISTORY OF LOREN BALLOU

The cased set is accompanied by important artifacts, documents, records and a three-ring binder with letters, photo-copies and other material. This research was performed at the request of Al Cali by R.L. "Larry" Wilson during the early 1960s. The research in some detail documents the career of Loren Ballou, born August 24, 1828 in Hinsdale, NH and died August 18, 1880 in Syracuse New York. At the time of death, Ballou was employed by the W.H. Baker Gun Co. as factory foreman.

Beginning as early as 1851, Loren Ballou served as a trusted and well-placed employee with Colonel Colt and his company, not only in Hartford, but in London. Quoting from a highly detailed five-page letter dated November 25, 1964, from Wilson (then Curator of Firearms, at what is today known as the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art, Hartford): "L. Ballou was an important Samuel Colt representative and employee in whom the Colonel placed great trust and obviously had great respect." Loren Ballou was employed by Colt as a manufacturing engineer. His years of service are believed to have begun in 1851 and continuing through 1866 with various records providing more details of his services.

According to Wilson's research: L. Ballou was in Europe from approximately May 1856 to February 1859, and was instrumental in closing Colt's factory in London, as well as acting as Colt's European representative with major responsibility of investigating future manufacturing possibilities for the company.

Wilson's research documents Ballou's salary with Colt during 1856 through 1866 with figures that ranged from $1,500 to $2,000 annually. A comparison of Ballou's salary paid through this period confirms the importance of his position with Colt. As an example, during 1857, his salary ranked third beneath Colt's Vice President E.K. Root's salary of $5000, and Secretary L.P. Sergeant's salary of $3000. In 1862, the pay scale ranked Ballou above Sergeant and third only to Root, now President with a salary of $5000. The 1866 scale had W.B. Franklin, Vice President's salary of $6000, with Harbison next with $2500 and Ballou third with an annual salary of $2000.

Upon leaving Colt in 1866, the company saw fit to present Ballou with a Model 1855 Revolving Shotgun and a "New Model" 1855 Sidehammer Pocket revolver with a 3-1/2 inch barrel. Colt's Journal B, pages 342 and 352 documents the presentation.

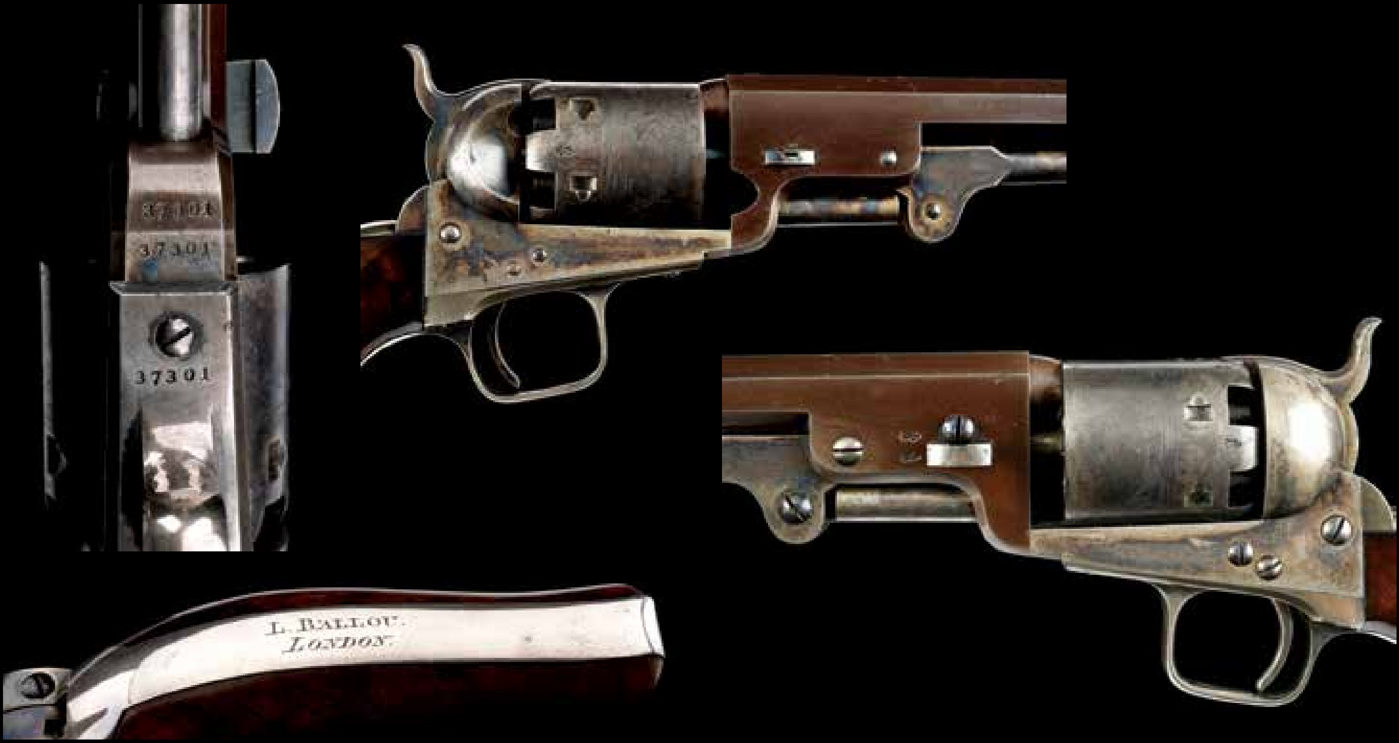
Accompanying documentation provides a photocopied letter dated 1853 requesting Loren Ballou's services as Foreman of Colt's London Machine Shop, as well as "General Assistant throughout the Manufactory." The letter indicates that both Colonel Colt and Elisha Root were trying to hire Ballou for the London operation. The note provides "the assurance of great potential in the proposed employment". Also included is an envelope addressed by Colonel Colt, to "Mr. Ballou," and a letter dated November 10 1856, from Colonel Colt, attempting to arrange a meeting by Colt with Ballou.

Included is a photocopy of U.S. Passport No. 3908, dated 24 and 25 October 1856, with the signature of Loren Ballou at the lower left, and that of U.S. President James Buchanan, at the lower right. Notes in the left margin provide Ballou's physical features.

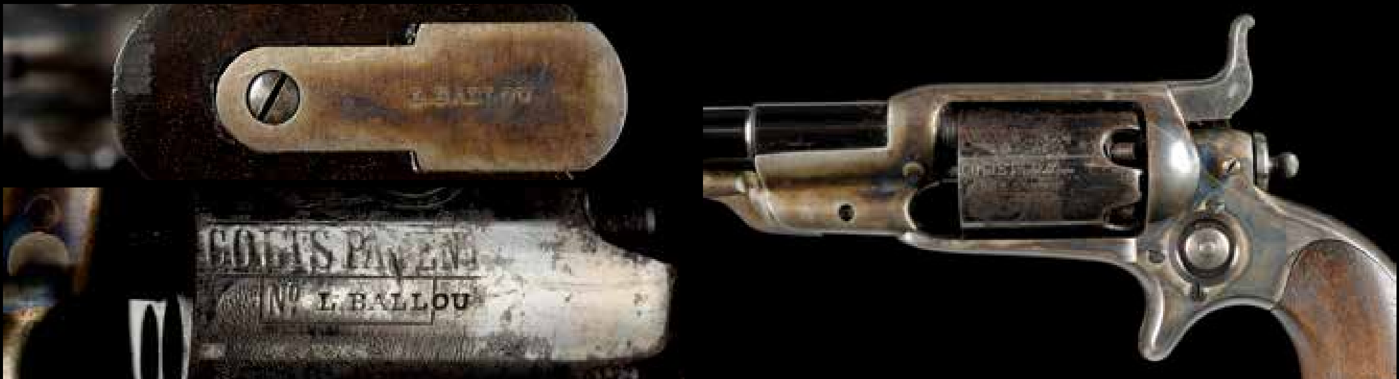
A letter dated April 17, 1866, from Colt in Hartford, grants permission to L. Ballou for travel to Europe and return any time within a period of one year, beginning April 17th. Ballou left Colt's employment during February of that year.

CASED SET OF REVOLVERS

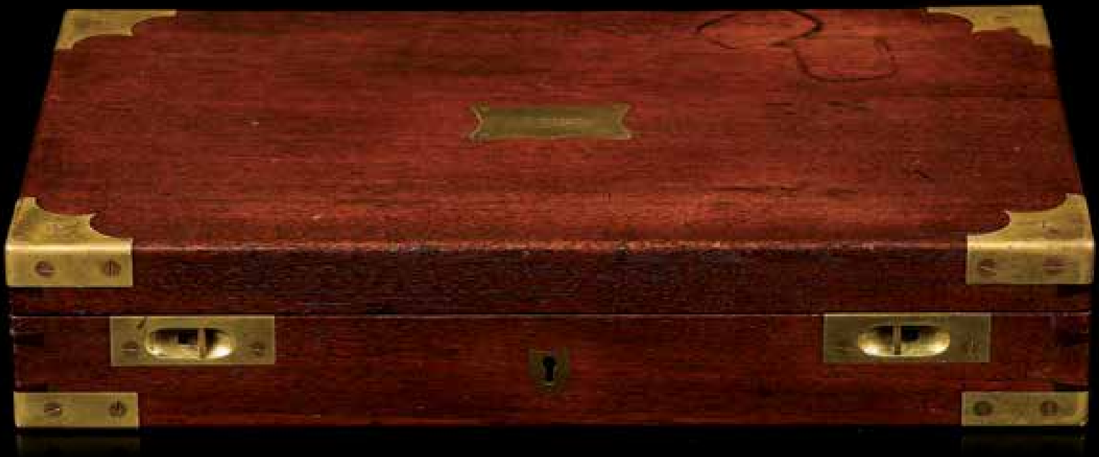
(A) Colt London Made Model 1851 Navy Revolver, serial number 37301 made in 1855. Matching serial numbers on barrel, frame, trigger guard, cylinder, and backstrap. Case hardened frame, hammer, and loading lever. The only known 1851 Navy with a factory case hardened cylinder with W.L. Ormsby's roll-die Naval Battle Scene. Silver plated backstrap and triggerguard. 7-1/2 inch octagon barrel, chambered in .36 caliber. Dovetailed small blade front sight. Unique brown finish on barrel with top flat marked "-ADDRESS. COL.COLT.LONDON-". Typical London type rounded head screws. One-piece select grain walnut grips with extra "piano" style finish. Backstrap inscribed in two lines: "L. BALLOU / LONDON" in block style letters. This style of inscription is another unique feature of the revolver, as script style inscriptions were customary during the percussion era. It is interesting to note, this style block letters are also found on the mating 1855 Sidehammer. British proof marks found on the barrel lug and six places on the cylinder. CONDITION: Excellent overall with 90+% original brown finish on barrel. Original case colors are turning a mottled grey with areas of bright color. Original unmolested screws. The grips are near mint showing little wear, minus a couple of modest mars on the left side. 98% original silver plating on the triggerguard and backstrap. Bore is excellent. Action is tight and crisp.

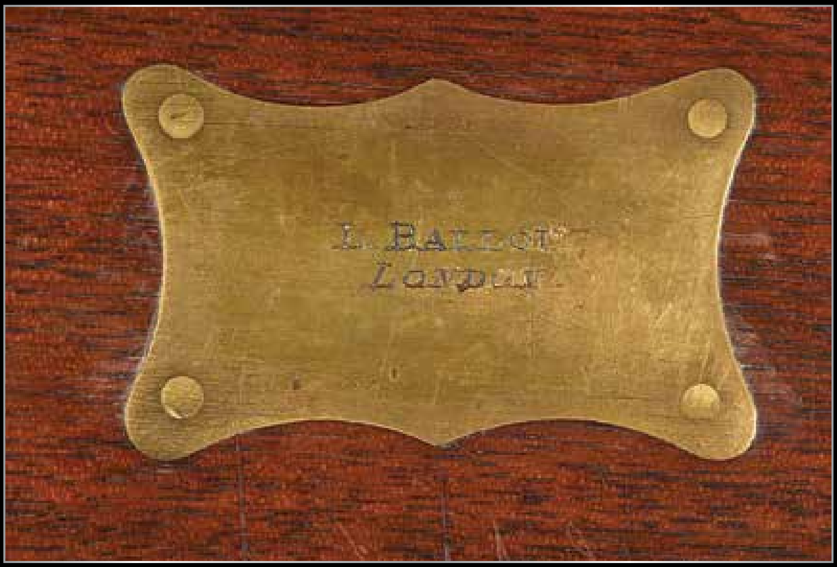


(B) Colt Model 1855 Sidehammer Pocket Revolver, commonly referred to as the "Root Model" after Elisha K. Root the noted designer, machinist, and President of Colt's Manufacturing Company. Manufactured in 1861. This example is a Model 6-A with a 4-1/2 inch round barrel, chambered in .31 caliber. Two line barrel address marked "ADDRESS COL. COLT /NEW-YORK U.S.A.". Blued barrel and cylinder. Case hardened hammer and loading lever. Spur trigger. One-piece oil finished wrap around grips. Full round five shot cylinder with roll-die stagecoach hold-up scene. This is the only known example with a factory case hardened frame. It has further distinction as being the only known antique Colt firearm with a name (L. Ballou) in place of a serial number. Name is found in block style letters on the cylinder under "COLTS PATENT" marked "No. L Ballou" the backstrap is also marked in place of a serial number, "L Ballou". The manufacturing serial number 2806 is found on the bottom of the barrel behind the loading lever. CONDITION: Excellent plus, with approximately 85-90% original high polish blue remaining on the barrel and cylinder. Light scattered freckling on the barrel. Moderate pitting on the rear of cylinder around nipples. 85+% original bright case colors on the frame, hammer, and loading lever. Bright original, non-molested screws. Bore is excellent. The action is tight and crisp. The grips are excellent showing minimum wear.



(C) These unique revolvers are housed in an equally distinctive Hartford style partition fitted case, made in London at Loren Ballou's personal request. One of only a few known cases fitted for a 1851 Navy and 1855 Sidehammer revolver as a pair. The case is walnut using the same scalloped brass corner protectors, hinges and brass sliding latches as found on the Ballou sewing kit, traveling desk, and tea set. A scalloped brass escutcheon is mounted to the lid and hand engraved "L. BALLOU / LONDON" The Interior is lined with burgundy velvet. Complete with accessories including an embossed Navy size stand of arms powder flask marked Colts Patent. It is interesting to note, most London made revolver cases were fitted to accept an English style flask, this unique case is fitted for an American style flask. Other accessories include a correct two-cavity, blued steel bullet mold marked "COLS PATENT". L-Shaped blued steel nipple wrench. Pewter English style oil bottle. An unopened and sealed tin of 250 Eley Brothers percussion caps. An unopened and sealed packet of six combustible .36 caliber cartridges, and an unopened and sealed packet of five combustible .31 caliber cartridges. Condition of the case exterior is excellent with minor dents and scratches to the lid. The interior is clean and in excellent condition overall. All accessories are excellent showing original finishes. -MKS-





R.L. Wilson states in his accompanying five page letter to Al Cali: "The Colt-Root Sidehammer pistol in your collection, I am sure, was custom made at Ballou's personal request. It is the only Colt percussion weapon I have ever seen with a name marked in place of a serial number. It is further distinguished by the case-hardened frame, and the unfinished walnut grips. Both characteristics add to the uniqueness of this weapon. The 2806 on the bottom of the barrel is the serial. "L .BALLOU" on the butt and the cylinder is in place of the normal serial markings".

Wilson further states: "Cased with Ballou's personal Sidehammer pistol was a London-made 1851 Navy. This weapon has L. Ballou engraved on the backstrap, in identical lettering to that on your pistol. The use of block letters in the percussion period is another great rarity (script was the customary marking). On the Navy's barrel is a custom reddish-brown finish, the likes of which I have never seen on a Colt percussion revolver. This revolver was exhibited in our exhibition, SAMUEL COLT PRESENTS, though it is not in the catalogue because it was got to us too late to be included. Had I known then of this Ballou Sidehammer now in your collection it would have been exhibited in SAMUEL COLT PRESENTS as well…[T]hese special features on your Root and the Navy are, to my knowledge, unique for these models. Custom finished and markings as above are indicative of Ballou's closeness with the manufacturing end of the Colt operation".

TRAVELING DESK, TEA CHEST, SEWING BOX, & SNUFF BOX

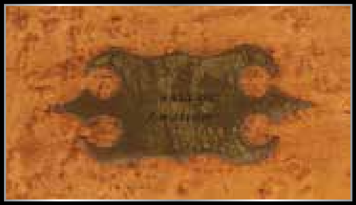
A tea chest, traveling desk, sewing box and snuff box are also part of the presented Ballou collection. It is believed Loren Ballou had these items custom made by the casemaker employed by Colt's for their firearms casings. Wood for the tea chest, traveling desk set and sewing box incorporates the three types of wood most often employed on the company's London gun casings: oak, mahogany and birdseye maple. Further, the brass fixtures, including hinges and lid inlays, are the same types used on the London Colt firearm cases.

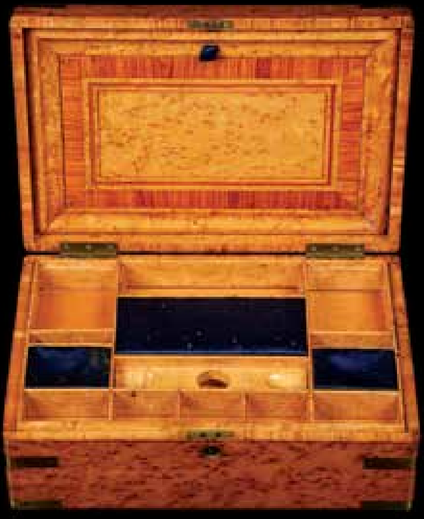
The tea chest was made at Ballou's request for his wife. The selected wood was that used most often for firearm cases, oak. Like the gun cases, the tea chest is reinforced with brassbound corners and other mountings. Inlaid on the lid is a brass escutcheon, inscribed "H. BALLOU/LONDON".

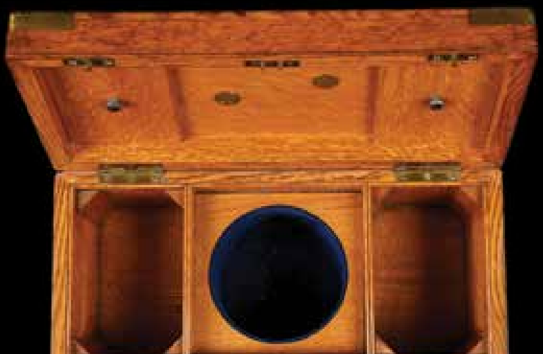
Undoubtedly built by the same casemaker, again for Mrs. Ballou, is a sewing chest, made primarily of varnished birdseye maple, with brass corners and mountings. The escalloped brass lid plaque is also inscribed "H. BALLOU/LONDON." The interior is intricately and superbly outfitted, in matching woods, and fabrics, again sharing several similarities to the London Colt firearm casings.

Loren Ballou's portable writing desk, of brassbound varnished mahogany, is yet another masterfully built case by Colt's London case maker. The writing desk bears many similarities to some of the best single and double cases made for the London Model 1851 Navy, Pocket and Dragoon revolvers. Inlaid in the lid is a brass escutcheon, inscribed "L. BALLOU/LONDON."

The round snuff box is also constructed of highly figured birdseye maple with a silver plaque inscribed in olde English script "L. BALLOU".

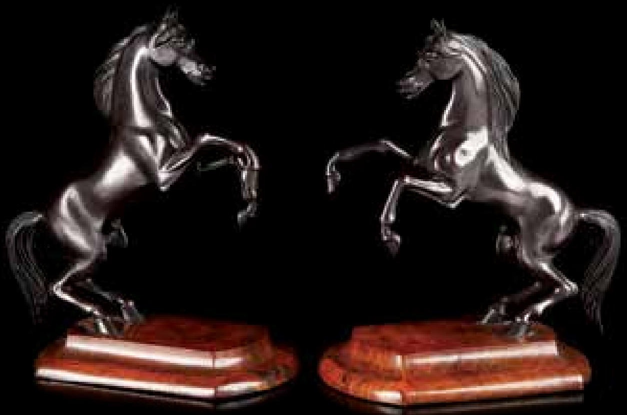




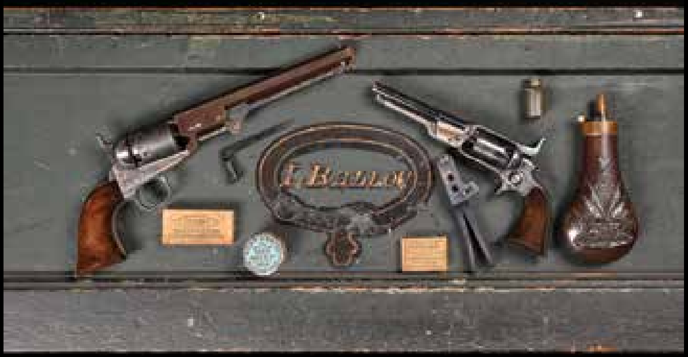


RAMPANT COLT SCULPTURES

Of special interest is the matched pair of superbly cast Rampant Colt Sculptures made for Colonel Samuel Colt. Mounted on select grain walnut bases of same quality wood as used for Colt revolver grips. Each sculpture is cast of gun metal, and given a special patina finish, simulating bronze. Each figure stands 5-7/8 inches tall by 5-5/8 inches wide at the base. The bottom of each walnut base is covered with a tan fabric similar to that used for firearm casings. The bases are 3/4 inches thick, 5-inches long, and 3-3/4 inches wide. Quality throughout is exquisite, and the chased castings are a tribute to the high quality of Colt's casting shop and workmanship. According to the Doty sisters, Loren Ballou's granddaughters, the Rampant Colt Sculptures were given to their grandfather, Loren Ballou, by a grateful Colonel Samuel Colt. No other known set of Rampant Colt Sculptures like these have survived from 19th century.



SEA CHEST



"The road from Liverpool to New York, as they who have traveled it well know, is very long, crooked, rough, and eminently disagreeable". -Ralph Waldo Emerson, while aboard the packet ship New York.

In today's travel, a corporate executive can fly from New York to London's Heathrow Airport in a matter of hours. In Loren Ballou's days, if you were lucky enough to acquire passage on one of the few available steamships you could make it 16-18 days. If you took the "economy passage" via a sailing ship it would take excess of 40-days. Luggage of the day required rugged, sturdy structures known as "Sea Chests" This green painted wooden chest measures 38-1/2 inches wide by 13-3/4 inches high. On the front panel is hand painted in script "L. Ballou". Hinged lid with steel handles at each end. According to Ballou's granddaughters, this is the Sea Chest Loren Ballou used on those long arduous journeys.

ENGINEERING HANDBOOK

Of most significance is L. Ballou's engineering handbook titled: "THE ENGINEER'S AND CONTRACTORS POCKET BOOK FOR 1858". A fitting companion to this unique collection as it is the only known Samuel Colt inscribed / presentation book in existence. Written in Samuel Colt's handwriting "LOREN BALLOU ESQR./COMPLIMENTS OF COL. SAM COLT/HARTFORD SEPT. 25 1858".

COLLECTION PROVENANCE

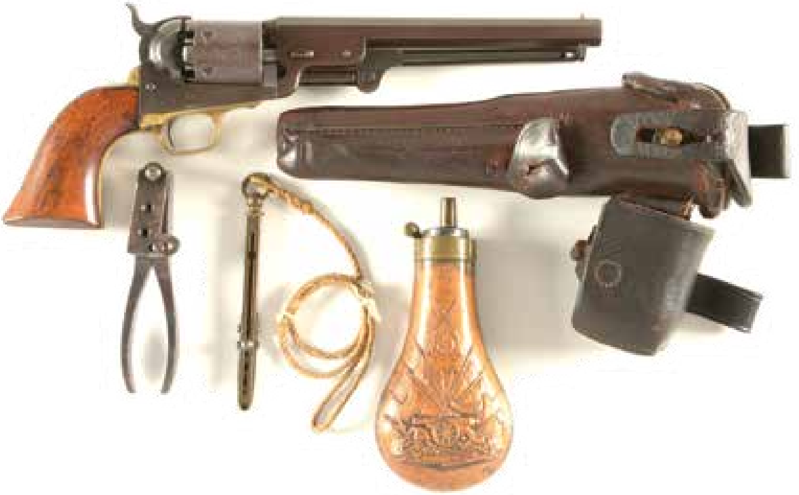
Included with the lot is a folder and 3-ring binder containing numerous papers, composed of correspondences during the early to mid-1960s between Al Cali and R.L. Wilson. Wilson pursed extensive research relating to the Ballou Colt revolvers. The folder includes several letters from the Doty sisters, granddaughters of Loren Ballou, which led ultimately to Cali's purchase of the letters, records and memorabilia. The correspondence also led to Cali's purchase of the matched pair of Rampant Colt Steel Sculptures.

Among the correspondence and data is a letter dated February 22nd 1965 from H. Arline Doty, Newington CT, including reference to: "Mr. Wilson had told us some months ago that he was in communications with 'someone' on the West Coast who was interested in Grandfather. In fact, he brought along a book I believe is the one you mention – "Presented by Sam Colt". "The truth of the matter is that Larry knows more about him than my sister and I do". The letter goes into some detail about the family, particularly in regard to their grandfather, Loren Ballou. And notes: "My sister and I have a double connection with Colonel Colt, for he and our Grandfather Doty were such good friends that our father was named for him, Samuel Colt Doty!"

Additional Documents:
*Letter posted April 17th 1968 to Mr. and Mrs. Al Cali, from H. Arline Doty.
*Letter posted April 22nd 1968 to Mr. and Mrs. Al Cali, from Miss H. Arline Doty.
*Christmas card posted December 22nd 1968 to Mr. and Mrs. Al Cali, from the Misses H. Arline Doty and Margorie B. Doty. In this card is stated: "Are you still interested in the Colts?" It was that query, noted by Mrs. Cali to her husband, which led to their purchase of the pair of cast gunmetal steel Rampant Colt Sculptures.*
*Letter posted May 11, 1969 to Mr. and Mrs. Al Cali from Miss Margorie B. Doty.*Letter from Al Cali to Joseph G. Rosa, author and researcher of the book: "Colonel Colt London" requesting Mr. Rosa to research Loren Ballou, on behalf of Mr. Cali.
*Letter dated August 30, 1967, from L.C. Jackson, Dallas TX, to Al Cali, regarding acquisition of the double brassbound walnut case fitted for the Loren Ballou Model 1855 Sidehammer revolver and matching Model 1851 London Navy Revolver.
*Several letters from R.L. Wilson to Al Cali, written on Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art and on Colt Factory leatherheads, reporting progress by Wilson on the Loren Ballou firearms and memorabilia. Dating from June 1964 to June 1965
*Photocopies of letter hand-delivered from Samuel Colt dated Brussels (Belgium) Nov. 10 1856, from Hotel deBelle Obue, to Loren Ballou, with notation "The Bearer awaits an answer."
*Copy of document from Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., Hartford, April 17, 1866, regarding Loren Ballou life insurance policy no. 45141.
*Three-page letter to Loren Ballou, from the Colt company, London, May 1853, urging him to accept offer of assignment in London at Colt's factory, of Colonel Colt.
*Photocopy of page 924 of the book of genealogy on "Descendants of Abner Ballou," regarding Loren Ballou, including statement: "Loren Ballou was a very ingenious mechanic, and rose to be a trusted superintendent of several important mechanical establishments, viz., Colt's Armory in London, Eng., another in Syracuse, N.Y. We have been favored with only a very meager outline of his characteristics, but infer from this that a full delineation would give him a rich record. It seems that his talents and skill were demanded in various prominent localities".
*Photocopies from "An Elaborate History and Genealogy of the Ballous in America", by Adin Ballou.
*Letter from Onondaga Historical Association, Syracuse NY, to R.L. Wilson, dated 27 November 1964, with research data on Loren Ballou and W.H. Baker & Co. Gunmakers.

All items are originally from the Ballou Family. The story of how these guns and artifacts were disbursed from the family then eventually brought back together is as interesting as the collection itself. The story reads like a "who's who" novel of noted first generation Colt collectors. The 1855 Sidehammer was acquired by Jonathan M. Peck in the 1950s. Peck in turn sold the revolver to Robert (Bob) Allan. Upon the passing of Bob Allan, Greg Martin acquire the 1855 Sidehammer in a closed bid estate auction in the early 1960s. Alec Redfield acquired the 1851 Navy, and L.C. "Red" Jackson had the case. When Al Cali purchased the Sidehammer from Martin in approximately 1965, he hired R.L. "Larry" Wilson to research Loren Ballou. It was through Wilson's research that Cali learned the history of Loren Ballou and was introduced to his granddaughters. Through this remarkable effort, Cali was able to reassemble the collection in the mid-late 1960's. The entire collection remained in Al Cali's procession until 2011. -MKS-

1147 - (A) COLT MODEL 1851 KM MARKED NAVY PERCUSSION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1851 Navy
Serial No. 33015
Caliber/Bore: .36 Percussion
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



Approximately 900 Colt Model 1851 Navy revolvers between serial numbers 31627 and 39496 are marked “KM” (Konigliche Marine) They were confiscated in 1855 by the Prussian Government from a stock of 3,000 pieces intended or the Russian Government, and issued to the Prussian Royal Navy. Each revolver was issued with a specially designed holster incorporating a pocket for an additional loaded cylinder, along with a Colt Navy powder flask with slant charger, a long rectangular brass percussion capper and a combination nipple wrench manufactured by Colt. Letters “KM” along with issue numbers are stamped on the revolver and accouterments as they were received in Prussia (Germany). This unique and rare grouping includes a correct Konigliche Marine marked 1851 Colt Navy revolver, holster, powder flask, and capper. CONDITION: Revolver has matching serial numbers on the barrel, loading lever, frame, trigger guard, cylinder, and backstrap. Correct “KM 750” marking on top of backstrap. All original unmolested screws (with exception of wedge screw). Revolver is in very fine condition with a pleasing overall brown patina. One piece walnut grips are excellent. Trigger guard and backstrap showing a soft mustard color patina. Bore is excellent. The Colt Navy flask is in fine overall condition with correct slanted charger and “KM 378” marking. The rectangular percussion capper is complete with correct lanyard, showing a beautiful overall dark patina with correct “KM” marking. This is a rare and historical grouping with only about 30 known to survive. From the prestigious Swiss collection of Peter P. Blatter. Featured in the book of Austrian Navy firearms titled: “Faustfeuerwaffen der deutschen Marine 1840-1918 by Heinrich E. Harder. -MKS- 6,000 - 8,000

1152 - (A) RARE AND DESIRABLE MARTIALLY MARKED COLT WALKER REVOLVER IDENTIFIED TO B COMPANY NO. 49.

Manufacturer: Colt
Model: Walker
Caliber/Bore: .44 Percussion
Barrel Length: 9”
FFL Status: Antique

The Walker Model 1847 was Samuel Colt’s first success in selling revolvers in quantity to the U.S. Government, thus setting the stage for the inventor to make a name for himself in military and commercial firearm manufacturing. In the words of the late Colt historian and prolific author R.L. “Larry” Wilson, “The Walker revolver gave Samuel Colt keys to the mint”. A collaborated effort of Texas Ranger Captain Samuel H. Walker, national hero from the Texas-Mexico Wars, and Samuel Colt, this powerful revolver became subject of legend and fame. Manufactured in Eli Whitney’s factory in Connecticut only 1,100 were made with 1,000 going to military sales and 100 reserved for civilian sales. The revolver was known for its power packing punch, delivering .44 caliber shots in a six-cylinder design, producing a powerful recoil when fired. The gun is a behemoth, weighing 4 pounds 9 ounces. Though originally intended for close quarter cavalry engagements, the Colt Walker was known to reliably shoot much further. Captain Walker himself reported the revolver shooting past 100 yards with little effort, further saying “It would take a Texan to shoot it”. Walker was unfortunately killed soon after receiving his pair of presentation revolvers, on October 9, 1847 at the command of 250 men heroically chasing 1,600 Mexicans out of the town of Huamantla, Mexico. This rare and desirable martially marked Colt Walker has a 9” barrel with brass trigger guard, iron backstrap, and one piece walnut grips. The barrel is properly marked “B COMPANY No 49” on left side of the lug and in 2 lines “U.S./1847” on the right side. However the barrel is a modern replacement. Balance of the revolver is original. 6 shot cylinder with “Ranger and Indian scene” depicting Captain John “Jack” Coffee Hays and his force of Texas Rangers fighting off a band of Comanche Indians. Left side of the frame and bottom of the backstrap is marked “B COMPANY No 49”. Front of frame between the barrel locator pins is marked “49”. The number “49” is also observed on the bottom of the cylinder arbor, on the inside left side of the trigger guard, and inside the grips. The correct number “489” observed on back of cylinder. CONDITION: Very fine as partially restored. As mentioned the barrel is a modern replacement. Balance of revolver is original with an overall pleasing grey brown patina with traces of original blue on the backstrap. Faint cartouches visible on grips. The original one piece walnut grips are in fine condition showing modest wear with rounded corners. The original cylinder is in fine condition with a pronounced pressure ring. “MODEL U.S.M.R.” and “COLT’S PATENT” clearly visible in banners. “B COMPANY 49” also clearly visible. Roll die Indian Fight scene is approximately 30-40% visible. Overall a much desirable Walker Colt with above average condition. -MKS- 75,000 - 125,000

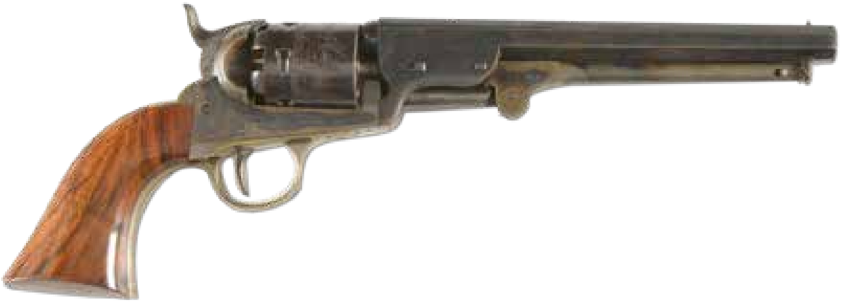
B COMPANY No 49

1153 - (A) N. GILON BREVETE COLT MODEL 1851 NAVY PERCUSSION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: N. Gilon
Model: 1851 Navy
Serial No. 9407
Caliber/Bore: .36 Percussion
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



Gunsmith N. Gilon made this Navy revolver serial number 9407 in Liege Belgium. The frame is marked “NG” just below the left recoil shield. Barrel is marked two lines: “Colt /Patent”. Cylinder is marked in script: “Colts Patent” with a coach and horse roll-die scene rather than the typical W.L. Ormsby Naval battle scene. Overall revolver is slightly smaller in size and weight with a different grip angle than a Colt manufactured 1851 Navy. Belgium proof marks on barrel and cylinder. Bottom of backstrap is marked “11 Mai 1865” which possibly represent a manufacture date. No evidence exist the gun was manufactured under a Colt license. Other revolvers built by N. Gilon are discussed in the book “Colt Brevete Revolvers” by” Marcot and Paxton. CONDITION: Excellent overall with 90+% original blue on barrel and cylinder. Most original case color on frame. Excellent one piece walnut grips with original varnish showing little wear. Screws are unmolested. Bore is very fine. PROVENANCE: From the esteemed collection of Peter Blatter. -MKS- 3,500 - 5,500

1159 - (A) RARE, BOXED MODEL, BLISS & GOODYEAR PERCUSSION POCKET REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Bliss and Goodyear
Model: Pocket Revolver
Serial No. 1763
Caliber/Bore: .28 Percussion
Barrel Length: 3”
FFL Status: Antique

Fantastic high condition Bliss & Goodyear, with original box, serial number 1763. Caliber .28 Percussion. A genuine pocket revolver from the Civil War era. The diminutive Bliss & Goodyear Model was the result of a pre-war partnership between Frank D. Bliss & Alfred D. Goodyear. The sole agent to distribute their revolver was the Union Knife Company. Based on Flayderman’s Guide, approximately 3,000 of these unique revolvers were made in 1860. Matching serial number “1763” appears on the frame under the grips and is also stamped on the bottom of the 3” octagon barrel. Standard model, .28 caliber, features 6-shot cylinder and spur trigger. The top of the barrel is marked “BLISS & GOODYEAR NEW HAVEN CT”. Includes the original, factory cardboard box, with advertising page on the inside cover. The storage box is the original, period-correct version, with black fabric coating. This was commonly paired with early production revolvers. Later production models were contained in a simple, blue-colored cardboard box. Also features the original revolver-loading accessories: powder flask, brass bullet mold, and empty brass tin of Hick’s caps. All 4 items are in great shape. PROVENANCE: From the T. Joseph Cogan Collection. CONDITION: Great. Overall surface has about 50-60 % original blue finish remaining. Walnut grips are solid & in excellent condition. Mechanics are very good as well. Hammer locks firmly in both the half notch and full cock positions. Slight pitting and scratches exist on the frame. Partial re-bluing exists on the pitted areas of the frame and cylinder. Bore is turning dark with strong rifling. Loading lever operates perfectly and rests tight against the barrel. Original bronze cone front sight is present. Accessories are excellent. A truly unique, Civil War Era specimen. JH 2,000 - 4,000

Manufacturer: Fayetteville
Model: 1855
Caliber/Bore: .69 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 33"
FFL Status: Antique

Confederate marked "Fayetteville" rifle made in 1862. Made from captured parts from Harper's Ferry, these rifles were made at Fayetteville Arsenal in North Carolina and resemble the Model 1855 U.S. service rifle. Rifle has rifled browned barrel that is 33" long with blade front sight and lug for saber bayonet with "VP" and "Eagle" proofs at the breech suggesting this a Type I rifle with use of captured parts. Rear sight is the U.S. Model 1858 sight with 100 yard, 300 yard and 500 yard leaves. Lock is the Type I early style "High hump" lock made from Model 1855 castings. Lock is dated "1862" behind hammer and has "Eagle" with head turned towards hammer over a barely visible "C.S.A." with forward stamped "Fayetteville". Walnut captured stock with no patchbox and cut out in mortise for Maynard tape priming system in "Mule's Foot". Brass hardware with "C.S.A." marked buttplate tang and two brass barrel bands with "U" markings. Iron nose cap (?) with tulip shaped steel ramrod. A well taken care of important Civil War rifle. CONDITION: As found with usage marks and dings but taken care of with barrel browning possibly enhanced. Small area of cracking near muzzle in forestock. Dark pitted bore with good mechanics. A nice rifle. DLM 10,000 - 15,000

Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1872 Open Top
Serial No. 1124
Caliber/Bore: .44 RF
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique

The Colt Model 1872 open top revolver was manufactured for a limited time of 1871-1872 for a total production of approximately 7000 total. This rare “frontier” model bridged the cap between the percussion/metallic cartridge conversion era to the famous cartridge model 1873 Single Action Army. Chambered in .44 rimfire, same as the then popular Henry and Model 1866 Winchester, these handguns saw heavy use on the Western Frontier. This revolver, serial number 1124, is very early having the simple “Colts Patent” stamp on the frame rather than the later 1871-72 patent dates. Nickel with varnished one piece “Army Size” grips, and a 7 - 1/2” barrel with integral rear sight. Left grip is stamped “PC 6” on the left side butt. CONDITION: Excellent overall with approximately 85-90% original nickel on the barrel, and cylinder. Very strong roll die naval battle scene on cylinder. Frame retains 50-60% nickel blending with patina. Grips are fine showing modest wear with most of the original varnish remaining. -MKS- 7,500 - 10,000

1173 - (A) COLT .22 RF CALIBER OPEN TOP WITH ORIGINAL BOX.
Manufacturer: Colt

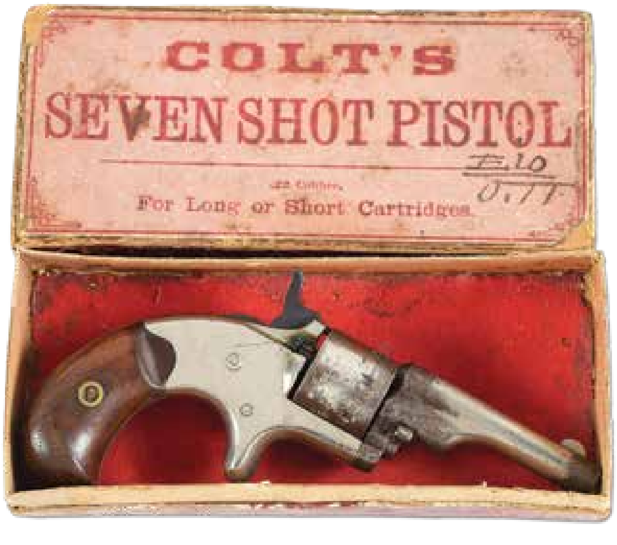
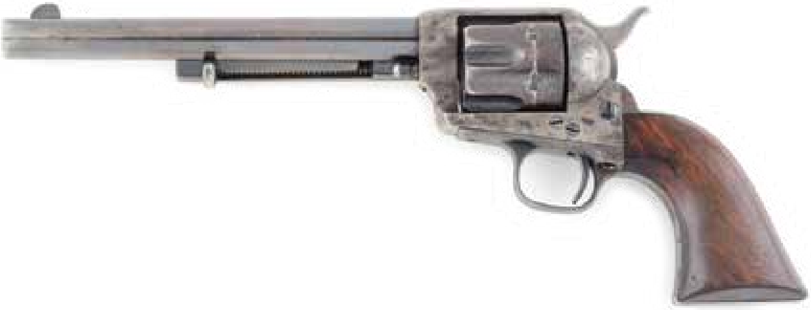
FFL Status: Antique



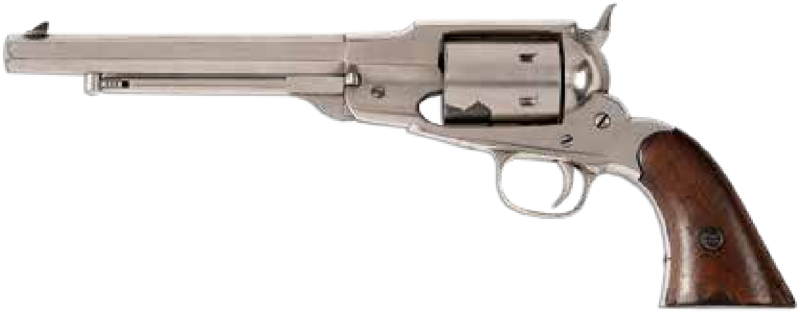
Colt .22 rimfire open top revolver. Seven shot non-fluted cylinder. 2 - 3/8” barrel. Nickel plated. Spur trigger. Birds head butt, with varnished two piece walnut grips. Manufactured from 1871-1877 for a total production of approximately 114,000. Complete with a rarely seen original, red with pink label, two piece Colt box. Graphics read “COLT’S/SEVEN SHOT PISTOL/.22 CALIBRE/FOR LONG OR SHORT CARTRIDGES”. CONDITION: Revolver is fine overall with 90+% original nickel on the frame. The cylinder has flaked with approximately 5-10% original nickel remaining. The barrel has flaked at the muzzle and breech with approximately 15% original nickel remaining. Grips are excellent showing modest wear to the high edges. The bore is fine with modest abrasions. The original box is excellent with bright graphics. Edges and corners show moderate tattering. -MKS- 3,000 - 4,000

1174 - (A) U.S. CAVALRY COLT SINGLE ACTION ARMY REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: SAA Cavalry
Serial No. 115334
Caliber/Bore: .45 LC
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



David F. Clark inspected U.S. Cavalry Colt single action army revolver, serial number 115334. Matching serial numbers observed on bottom of barrel at the breech, frame, trigger guard, backstrap, and cylinder. D.F.C inspection marks observed on barrel, cylinder, frame, and grip butt. U.S. stamp on left side of frame. Blue with case hardened frame and hammer. 7 - 1/2” barrel chambered in .45 LC. One piece oil finished walnut grips with Captain Frank Heath cartouche on left side and David F. Clark cartouche on right side. CONDITION: Very fine overall. 85-90% original blue on barrel. 60-70% thinning blue on cylinder blending with patina. Frame is mostly a gunmetal grey patina with traces of original case color. Bore is excellent with modest abrasion. Action is tight and crisp. Screws and ejector rod are not original to the gun. -MKS- 7,000 - 9,000

1175 - (A) REMINGTON BEALS CARTRIDGE REVOLVER PRESENTED BY COL. WILLIAM GREENE.
Manufacturer: Remington
Model: Beals
Serial No. 11946
Caliber/Bore: .38
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/4”
FFL Status: Antique



Remington “Beal’s” Navy Model six shot revolver made by E. Remington and Sons Ilion, New York between 1860 and 1862. Gun has been “Nickel Plated” and converted to .38 Rimfire at one point in time in this pistol’s lifetime. Gun is marked on left flat of octagon barrel “Presented to Capt. Lewis from Col. Greene” and right barrel flat is marked “Cananea Mex. 1906”. “Col. Greene” is most likely William Cornell Greene who was a famous businessman who discovered a rich copper deposit in Cananea, Mexico in the late 1800’s. “Capt. Lewis” was probably “C.B. Lewis” who was in charge of handling matters at the Cananea Mine in 1906 when there was a huge miners strike. The gun has fame as the possible gun that Greene used to kill James Burnett in 1897 for causing the drowning death of his daughter and friend. Greene shot down James Burnett in Tombstone, Arizona and was never convicted. A book written by “C.L. Sonnichsen” called “Colonel Greene and the Copper Skyrocket” describes Green’s gun and damage to it which exists on it today. An interesting piece for the Western collector or Tombstone history. Comes with copy of Sonnichsen book. CONDITION: 80% reapplied Nickel finish with large flake missing from cylinder with good bore and weak mechanics. Grips have damage at butt as described in book. DLM 3,000 - 5,000

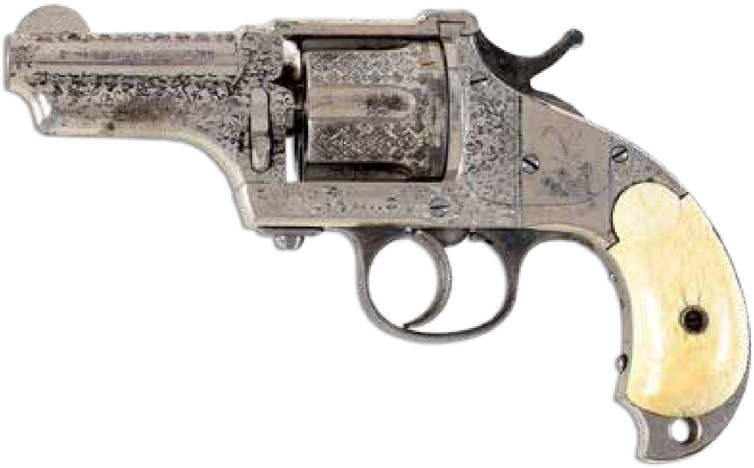
Full nickel coverage including trigger and hammer. 2 piece ivory grips numbered to gun and right panel with a relief carving of a steer head. CONDITION: Good as partly restored. Barrel and cylinder have been refinished with some light pitting visible underneath the nickel, frame appears to be original finish. 1 spot of nickel has lifted on the cylinder, exposing brown metal. Some normal handling marks throughout as well as some bubbling of the nickel. Ivory grips are very good, left panel with one crack towards top. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore with visible rifling and abrasion throughout. 4,000 - 6,000

1179 - (A) NICKEL PLATED & FACTORY ENGRAVED MERWIN & HULBERT POCKET ARMY DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER WITH IVORY GRIPS.
Manufacturer: Merwin & Hulbert
Model: Pocket Army
Serial No. 7135
Caliber/Bore: .44-40 Winchester
Barrel Length: 3 - 3/8”
FFL Status: Antique



Classic configuration with blade front sight, integral notch rear sight, top strap, single action with fixed checkered hammer, slide down gate, and “skull crusher” grip. Additionally, gun has been engraved by Merwin and Hulbert in traditional floral and punch dot pattern with vignettes of wide eyed birds on sidepanel. Ivory grips scribed “23” on interiors. CONDITION: Very good, retaining much of the period nickeling with several areas of flaking, primarily to cylinder. Scattered bumps and scratches throughout. Areas of patina at backstrap and cylinder. Flashes of case coloring visible on trigger guard, trigger, and hammer. Action needs attention as it does not work appropriately in double action, occasionally failing to cock and drop the hammer. Bore is good with strong rifling and some abrasion throughout. Grips are very good with a mellow age patina.

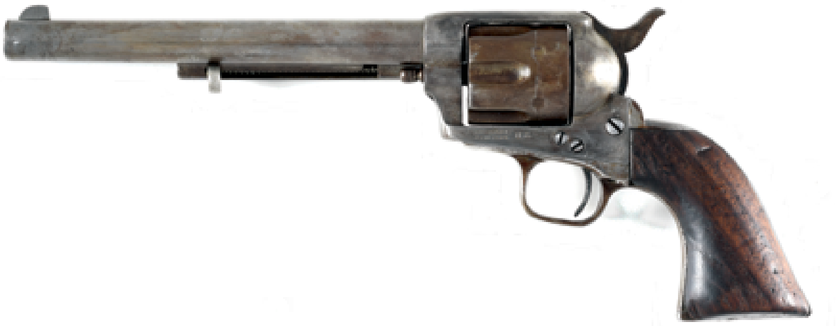
1183 - (A) RARE, EARLY PRODUCTION – 4 DIGIT – COLT 1873 SINGLE ACTION – CIVILIAN MODEL.

Manufacturer: Colt
Model: SAA
Serial No. 1283
Caliber/Bore: .45 Colt
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



Rare 4 digit Colt Civilian Single Action, Serial Number 1283. Caliber 45 Colt. According to Colt Revolver Experts, John Kopec & Ron Graham, this revolver reportedly represents 1 of only 527 Civilian models ever produced, during the original U.S. Military contract order for 8,000 units. These rare Civilian model revolvers were made from condemned military parts, that had slight imperfections, yet were still serviceable. In addition, most Colt historians agree that the Civilian models had low priority, behind the military contract & therefore, the early versions were sold on the “first in - last out” inventory method. This caused earlier produced revolvers to stay on the storage shelf, while more recent units were sold & shipped to dealers. Although manufactured sometime in early 1874, the Colt Factory Letter confirms this revolver was later shipped to Kittredge & Company, a major Colt dealer, based in Cincinnati, Ohio. The revolver was sent to them on December 28th of 1875 and was 1 of 7 on the order shipped to Kittredge. Colt Archive Analysts confirmed that the other six revolvers, were not in sequential order and the shipment even included some 5 - digit models. Again, this confirms the concept that the first Civilian models were sold haphazardly. The Kittredge Company is credited with producing the nickname “ Peacemaker “ revolver, as part of an advertising campaign they first presented to consumers in 1874. * This unique revolver includes All-Matching serial numbers, which is extremely rare for an 1874 production date. In addition, according to Colt Revolver historians, the survival rate of an original Colt Single Action Civilian model is extremely low. A revolver with a serial number ranging between 1,001 & 2,000 has an estimated survival rate of less than 12 %, which makes this specific Lot offering one of those rare specimens. The serial number “ 1283 ” appears on the bottom frame, trigger housing, on the barrel; (beneath the ejector housing), the side of the cylinder (faint) & on the bottom backstrap (partial 1 & 3 digits). The revolver features the correct “bullseye” style ejector rod head. The barrel is roll-stamped with the first style script address “+ COLT’S PT. F. A. MFG. Co. HARTFORD. CT. U.S.A. +” with slanted crosses at either end. The left side of the frame is correctly stamped with the early, two-line patent dates as “PAT. SEPT.19.1871/PAT.JULY 2.1872” followed by the “ U.S. ” marking. The left side of the trigger housing includes the “ 45 CAL” stamp (faint), that was unique to Civilian models. The letter “ C “ is located on the frame, in the hammer notch, above the firing pin hole. The loading gate has no number present, which is also correct for this early production date. This Lot is offered in a deluxe, cherry wood presentation case, that was custom made by Howell Displays. It features brass hardware with blue felt lining on both the base and lid. PROVENANCE: From the T. Joseph Cogan Collection. In addition, this offer includes both a Formal Monetary Appraisal & a Condition Appraisal as well. CONDITION: Fair, with a cleaned light grey patina overall with scattered light pitting. Serial number 1283 is present on barrel under the ejector rod housing, frame, cylinder, and triggerguard. A faint “1” and “3” are visible on backstrap. Correct 2-line patent dates and “U.S.” clearly visible on left side of frame. 1 piece walnut grips are believed to be original however no serial numbers are present inside. Grips are well worn with rounded corners. There is a deep gouge on the right side of the grip & the grip’s lower front edge, shows wear near the bottom of the backstrap. Correct italicized address is visible on barrel. Bore is turning dark with good rifling. Accompanied by a Condition Appraisal that verifies that the barrel has not been stretched or sleeved. Mechanically, the revolver will hold the hammer at full cock, yet the half cock notch does not hold. The cylinder rotates normally with well-worn notches. Overall a most desirable early year production Colt Single Army Revolver. 5,000 - 8,000

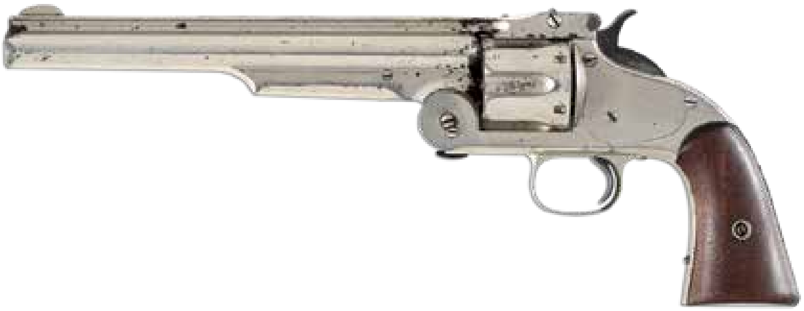
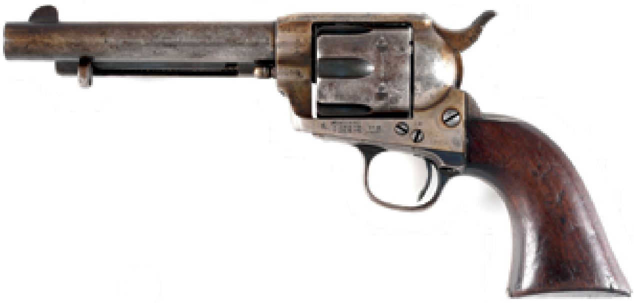
Serial number 119877 observed on barrel under ejector housing, frame, trigger guard, backstrap, and cylinder. Complete with 1881 pattern regulation flap holster and belt. CONDITION: Excellent as refinished, with 95% old reapplied finishes remaining. Bore is fine with moderate abrasions. Action is tight and crisp. Grips show light wear since restoration. Unmolested screws. Holster is excellent with supple leather. -MKS- 4,000 - 5,000

1185 - (A) DOCUMENTED 1 OF 200 NICKEL PLATED U.S. SMITH & WESSON NO. 3 AMERICAN REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Smith & Wesson
Model: No. 3
Serial No. 1916
Caliber/Bore: .44 S&W
Barrel Length: 8”
FFL Status: Antique

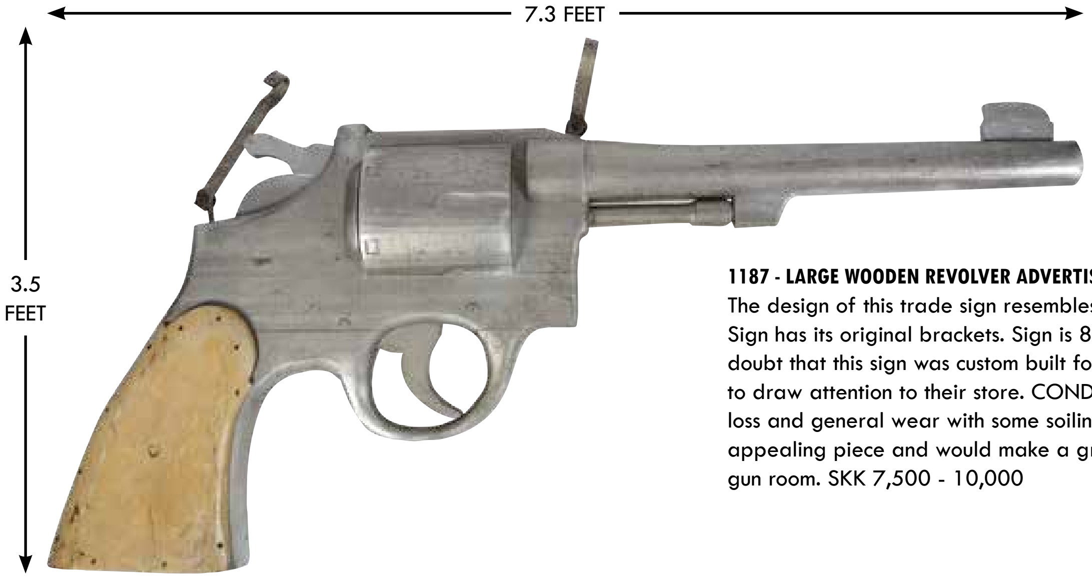


Nickel plated, martially marked Smith & Wesson No. 3 American. 8” barrel with fluted full rib. Chambered in .44 S&W. Full radius front sight, correct nickel plated barrel latch and trigger guard. Case hardened hammer. Top of barrel rib marked “U.S.”. Government sub-inspection mark “A” found on left side of frame, cylinder flute, and left side of barrel latch. The typically seen “P” sub-inspection mark were omitted from the nickel guns. The U.S. Military purchased 1,000 S&W No. 3 Americans. 800 were blue and 200 were nickel plated. The serial numbers ranged from #125 - #2199. All 200 of the nickel plated guns are in the #1895 through #2199 serial number range. Serial numbers for these historic revolvers are documented in Jim Supica and Richard Nahas’s book titled: “Standard Catalog of Smith & Wesson” This revolver, serial number 1916, is listed. CONDITION: Excellent overall with 75-80% original nickel blending with grey patina. Some flaking of nickel around barrel breech and cylinder. Exposed areas turned a pleasing brown patina. Bore is excellent with minor abrasion. Grips have either been sanded or replaced, as no inspector cartouche is visible on left panel. Overall a most attractive, early example of a scarce model U.S. Cavalry revolver. -MKS- 7,000 - 9,000

1186 - (A) COLT ARTILLERY SINGLE ACTION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: Artillery
Serial No. 96114
Caliber/Bore: .45 LC
Barrel Length: 5 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



Colt Artillery Single Action revolver with 1883 vintage frame, serial number 96114. Typical of these artillery revolvers, they were rebuilt in the 1890s using original cavalry revolvers; serviceable parts were reassembled and barrels shortened to 5 - 1/2”, and subsequently reissued to Army troops in the Philippines at the turn of the century. Other serial numbers on this gun include 9419 on bottom of backstrap, 91906 on trigger guard, “241” assembly marking on loading gate, and 5046 on cylinder. Frame is marked “U.S.” on left side and “D.F.C.” above frame serial number. 5 - 1/2” barrel chambered in .45 Long Colt with blade front sight. “Doughnut” ejector rod head. 1 piece plain walnut grips with no cartouche present, but appear to be original to the trigger guard and backstrap assembly. CONDITION: Good below, with slight traces of bluing remaining overall in protected areas with gray parts beginning to turn to a brown patina with light pitting throughout. Frame is gray with only the slightest traces of case color remaining with light pitting overall. Grips are very good, strong and original with no discernable cracks and minor wear and still fit well to backstrap and trigger guard assemblies. Action works appropriately. Bore is bright and shiny with sharp lands and grooves. A neat piece of history. -TN- 3,500 - 4,500



1187 - LARGE WOODEN REVOLVER ADVERTISING TRADE SIGN.
The design of this trade sign resembles that of a Smith & Wesson K22. Sign has its original brackets. Sign is 88" x 43" x 12". There is no doubt that this sign was custom built for a firearms dealer or gunsmith to draw attention to their store. CONDITION: There is some paint loss and general wear with some soiling. This is a very unique and appealing piece and would make a great addition to any collector's gun room. SKK 7,500 - 10,000

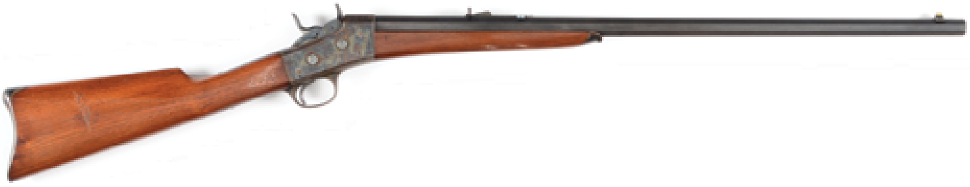
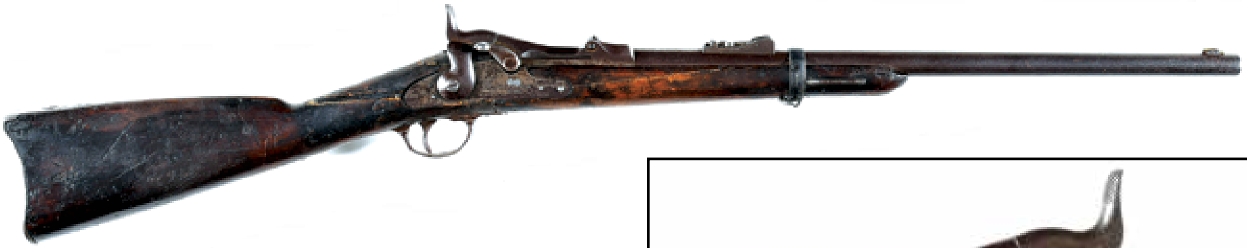
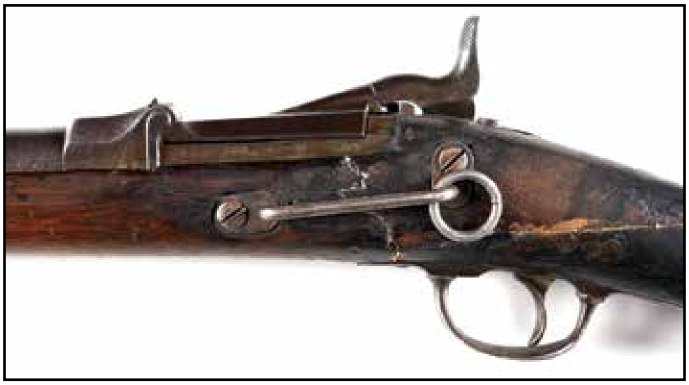
1191 - (A) HIGH CONDITION REMINGTON NUMBER 1 - 1/2 ROLLING BLOCK RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Remington
Model: 1/1/2002
Serial No. 8991
Caliber/Bore: .32 RF
Barrel Length: 28”
FFL Status: Antique



During the mid 1880s Remington developed a light weight version of their popular No.1 sporting rifle, naming it the Remington No. 1 - 1/2. The new gun had a thinner receiver and weighed significantly less than the No. 1, and was intended for black powder rimfire and low power centerfire. The No. 1 - 1/2 production ran only two years, 1884-1886, and is estimated only 2,700 were built. This example, serial number 8991, is an exquisite example with a beautiful case hardened frame, and blued 28” tapered octagon barrel. Chambered in .32 rimfire. CONDITION: Near mint overall. 95-98% bright case color on frame and 80-85% on the buttplate. 95+% bright heavy blue on the barrel with areas of light freckling. Bore is bright and clean. Action is tight and crisp. Would be hard to improve on. -MKS- 3,500 - 4,500





1192 - (A) SPRINGFIELD 1873 .45-70 SINGLE SHOT CARBINE CUSTER RANGE RECOVERY.
Manufacturer: Springfield
Model: 1873
Caliber/Bore: .45-70
Barrel Length: 22”
FFL Status: Antique

U.S. Springfield Model 1873 Carbine with Custer Range serial number “16981” made in 1874. Blued round barrel with correct blade front sight connected with a pin. Rear graduated sight to 500 yards then leaf to 1200 yards. Case hardened breechblock with black look marked with “Model 1873 / (Eagle Head and Crossed Arrows)” over “US” which is obliterated out. Correct 2 position hammer with “U.S. Springfield 1873” next to Federal Eagle marked lock with “U.S.” drilled out and filled with lead. Walnut correct short comb stock with correct steel “U.S.” marked non-compartment buttplate. Correct style stacking swivel front barrel band. Inspector markings are illegible except first letter looks to be an “E”. All traits are correct for Custer Era gun. Serial number on frame has been removed, but gun comes with letter from a Robert Burnett of the Westminster Police Department, Westminster California, stating that he conducted an acid etching test raising the serial number. Also comes with letter stating this gun was obtained from the Crow Nation in 1965. CONDITION: Overall poor as to be expected with guns used by Native Americans of the period with repaired stock and obliterated U.S. markings. Front stacking swivel could possibly be replaced as condition does not match condition of gun. Gun needs further research to confirm findings which is suggested in letter. Pitted bore with functioning mechanics. DLM 7,500 - 10,000

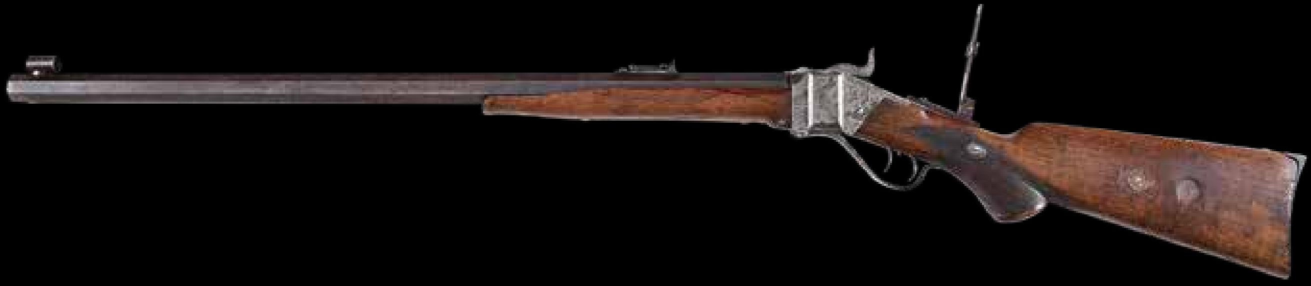
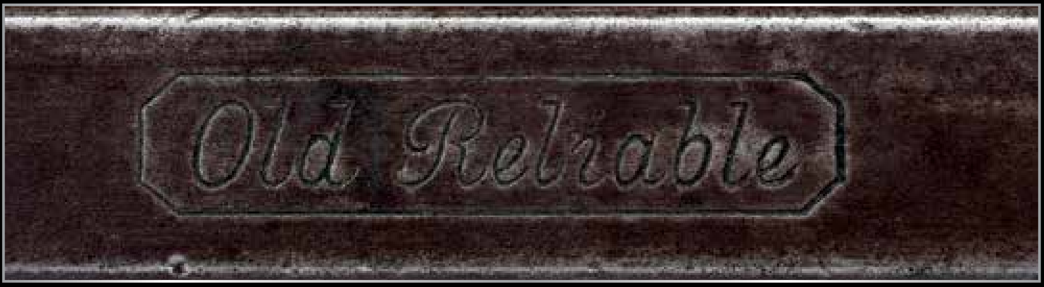
Bridgeport, Conn. U.S.A.” on left side of frame. Hammerless frame with double set triggers and Vernier Tang sight gauged for 200 yards. Walnut checkered round knob pistol grip stock fitted with brass Scheutzen Swiss style buttplate. Walnut checkered splinter forearm with interesting brass nosepiece and hole for palm rest and matching serial number. Comes with factory letter confirming, that this was made in 1878 and confirming barrel length and caliber. CONDITION: 80% blue with handling marks on corners. Brass has aged patina. Wood has possible added coat of oil with some handling marks and a small crack in buttstock near buttplate. Good bore and mechanics. Nice hard to find rifle. DLM 7,000 - 10,000

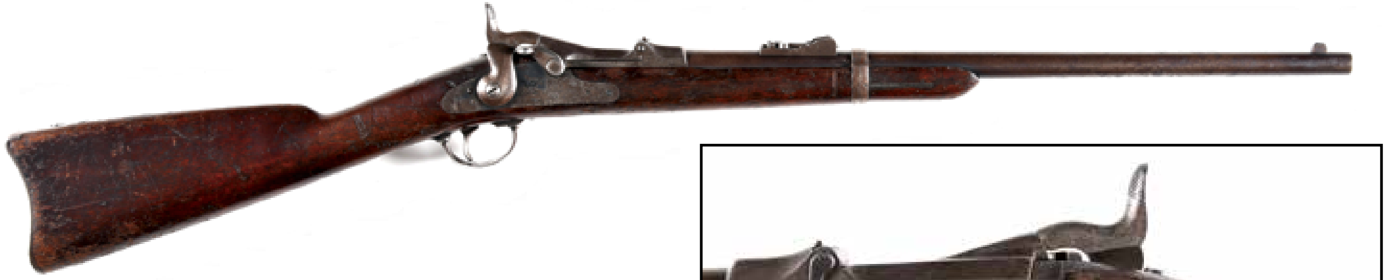
1196 - (A) HISTORIC MODEL 1874 SHARPS RIFLE SPECIFICALLY ORDERED BY CAPTAIN E.M. COATES OF FORT FETTERMAN WYOMING IN 1875
Manufacturer: Sharps
Model: 1874
Serial No. 159026
Caliber/Bore: .45
Barrel Length: 28”
FFL Status: Antique

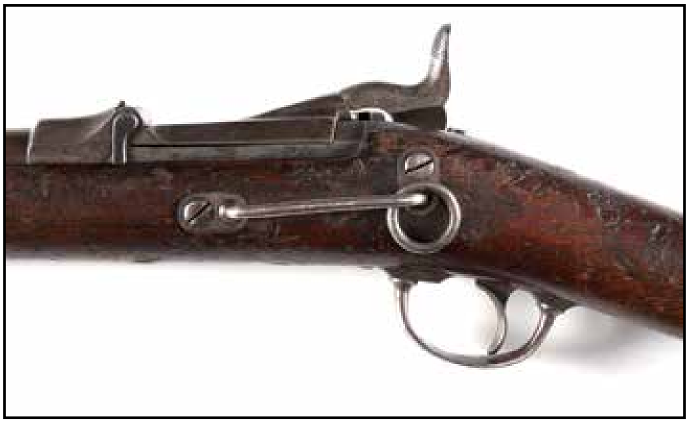
Accompanying this historic rifle is a handwritten letter dated July 24, 1875 by Captain E.M. Coates of Fort Fetterman Wyoming to Sharps Rifle Company ordering the rifle to his specifications. Also included is a return letter (photocopy) from Sharps Rifle Company dated August 10, 1875, to Captain Coates acknowledging the order. In addition to these historic letters is a Sharps archival letter written by Dr. R.L. Moore dated May 15, 1984 documenting the rifle’s configuration as a Sharps Model 1874 Sporting Octagon Rifle, .45 caliber, 28” barrel, double set triggers, globe and peep sights. Letter further documents invoicing to Captain Coates on October 19, 1876 and shipment of the rifle along with 300 .45 2-7/8” cartridges, four pounds of powder, 500 wads, 500 primers, and one rifle shaped stiff leather case for a total price of $90.30 Captain E.M.





Coates served with Reynolds during General Crooks campaign against the Sioux & Cheyenne in March 1876. The ensuing battle is considered the precursor to the battle of the Rosebud and Custer's stand at the Little Big Horn. Also included is the book titled: "THE REYNOLDS CAMPAIGN ON POWDER RIVER" written by J.W. Vaughn. Coates died in 1913 as a retired Brigadier General and is buried at Arlington National Cemetery. CONDITION: Fine overall with traces of original blue blending with a blue/brown patina on the barrel. Frame is mostly a nickel/grey patina. Buttplate, rear barrel sight, and mid-range tang sight are not original to the gun. Inletted on the left side of stock are two Indian Head pennies, one dated 1876 and the second 1891. Bore is excellent and bright. Action is tight and crisp. Wood shows heavy wear with a 4" section of wood missing on the left front of the forearm. -MKS- 75,000 - 100,000





1197 - (A) DESIRABLE CUSTER RANGE SPRINGFIELD MODEL 1873 TRAPDOOR CARBINE.
Manufacturer: Springfield
Model: 1873
Serial No. 17653
Caliber/Bore: .45-70 Government
Barrel Length: 22”
FFL Status: Antique

Custer Range Springfield Model 1873 Trapdoor carbine. Made May of 1874 in the correct serial number range for a carbine used by the 7th Cavalry at Little Big Horn. This carbine is of great note as it falls in the range of 16,000-22,000, which according to The .45-70 Springfield by Albert Frasca, are where most of the carbines used by General Custer’s men fall. This is further supported by an article from John Dumont’s book “Custer Battle Guns” page 94 by Wiley Sword, a noted historian and Custer gun expert, who grades these guns in various probabilities as to being authentic Custer guns. Accordingly, this gun falls into “Class II” which is puts this gun at a “Strong Probability of Association” being serial numbered between known gun #16632 and #21607. Lock plate reads “MODEL / 1873 / (Eagle head) / (Crossed Arrows) / US”. Correct rear sight, with the base going to 500 yards and leaf to 1200 yards. No barrel proofs, which is correct for an 1873 carbine made in 1874. No stock cartouche or firing proof below the trigger plate, but is the correct having a short comb. Smooth metal butt plate, correctly with no storage area for cleaning tools. “U.S.” stamped on top of the butt plate. “OHH” stamped on the comb, just in front of the butt plate. Correct smooth trigger and knurled hammer. Correct 22” barrel, in addition to the correct saddle ring and bar. Comes with copy of Wiley Sword article. CONDITION: Metal retains little to none of its original finish with patina covering most of the metal surfaces. Stock shows heavy signs of use, with multiple scrapes, scratches and gouges. Bore has some minor discoloration, but retains sharp rifling for its age. Mechanically fine. An overall nice example of a rifle possibly used in a historically significant event. JWA 5,000 - 10,000

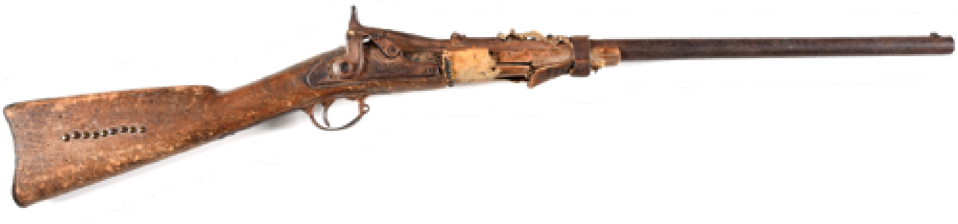
Caliber/Bore: .45-70
Barrel Length: 21 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique



Allin Conversion Model 1866 Trapdoor Springfield single shot carbine, chambered in .45-70. Believed to be an American Indian used carbine. The wood is extremely dry showing high use. Forearm is barely held together with tanned deer hide. The barrel/forearm band is rotated upside down and is being held in place with slivers of wood, tacks, and hide. 9 brass tacks inline on the right side of the stock in a "snake like" fashion. CONDITION: Fair, showing a heavy brown patina overall with areas of corrosion. Action operates. Bore is dark with heavily corrosion. During my years of collecting, and studying guns of the West, if ever I saw a carbine I truly believed was an authentic Indian gun, this is it! A most colorful early trapdoor carbine. -MKS- 2,000 - 3,500

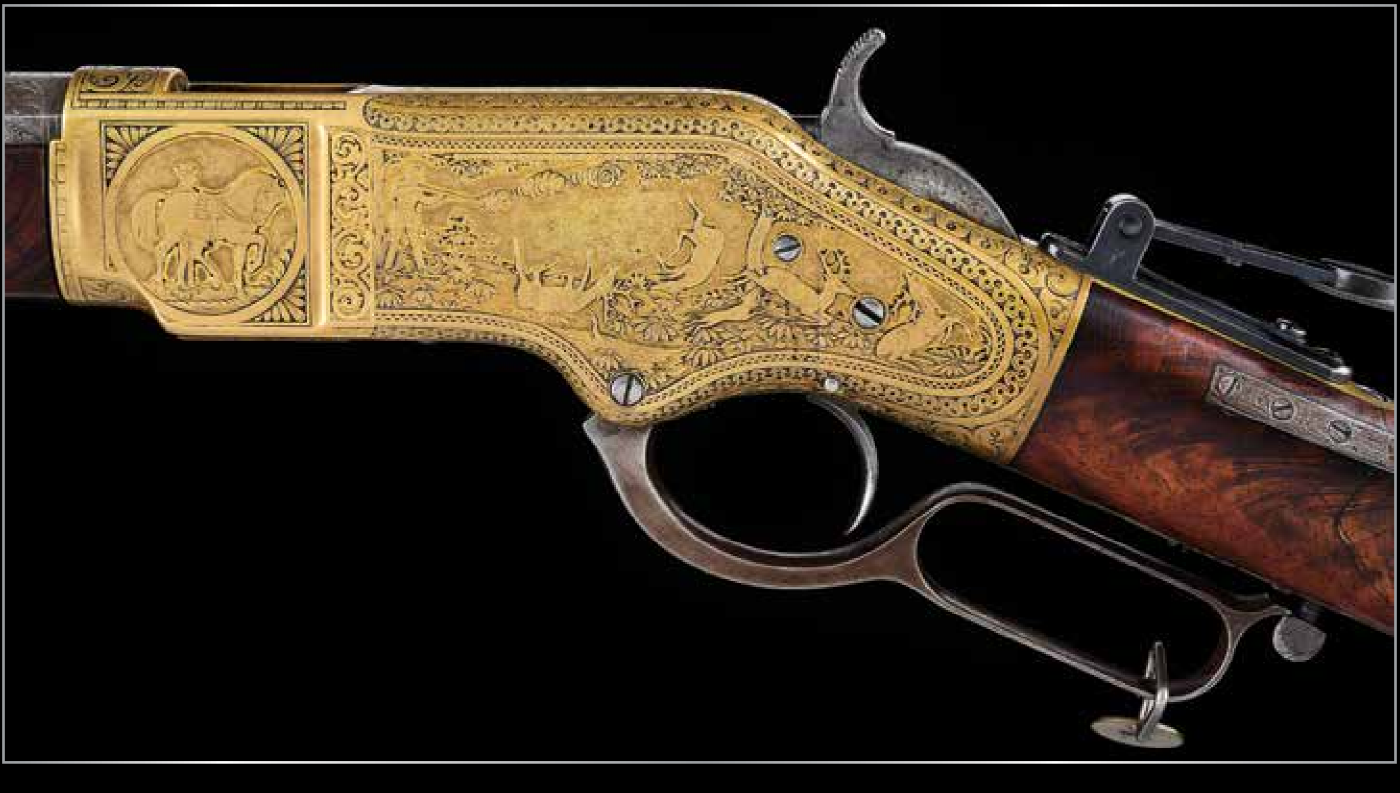
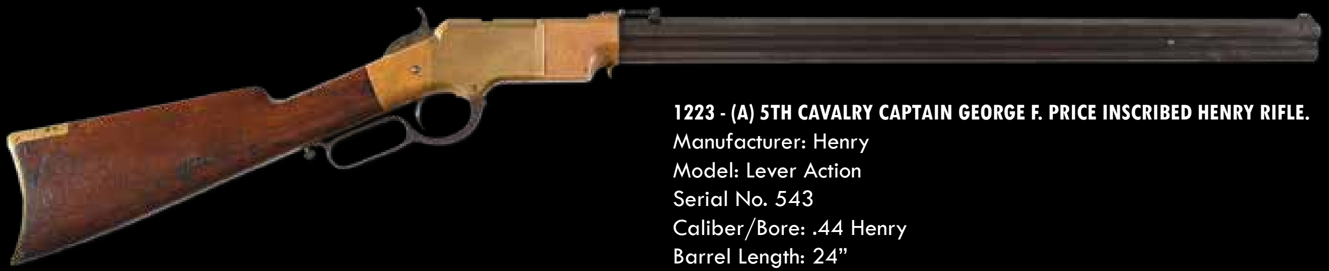
1222 - (A) EXHIBITION DEEP RELIEF ENGRAVED WINCHESTER MODEL 1866 RIFLE SIGNED IN 3 PLACES BY CONRAD F. ULRICH.

Manufacturer: Winchester
Model: 1866
Serial No. 46037
Caliber/Bore: .44 Henry Rimfire
Barrel Length: 24”
FFL Status: Antique

This remarkable 3rd Model Winchester Model 1866 rifle, manufactured in 1870, serial number 46037, is believed to be the earliest known Winchester with deep relief engraving. Masterfully hand engraved by Conrad Frederick Ulrich. The master engraver obviously considered this one of his best works, as he signed it three places along the lower tang. 24” octagon barrel with full length magazine tube. Chambered in .44 Henry RF. Late Henry style elevator rear sight graduated to 900 yards. Globe front and correct mid-range tang mounted sights. Blue with gold-plated brass frame, forearm cap, and crescent rifle style buttplate. Case hardened hammer and lever. Deluxe, select grain walnut stock and forearm, marked “VXXX” on inside bottom tang. Matching serial number found on stock, inside top tang channel. Assembly number “80” marked on inside lower tang and buttplate. Buttplate is also marked inside with matching serial number. A most interesting hand engraved (undefinable) signature in script on inside lower tang. Sling provisions on forearm cap and buttplate. Most unique minute panel address on left side of frame, marked “WINCHESTER-REPEATING-ARMS-NEW HAVEN CT.” Additional unique feature of scroll engraving found on the barrel at the breech, midpoint, and muzzle. Engraving forms a panel around barrel address marked in 2 lines: “WINCHESTER-REPEATING ARMS. NEW HAVEN. CT./ KINGS-IMPROVEMENT-PATENTED-MARCH 29,1866. OCTOBER 16, 1860.”. Profuse scroll and fancy border engraving with 8 relief engraved panel scenes. According to the accompanying 4 page letter written by R.L. “Larry” Wilson, “The quality of the scrollwork, border engraving, and the panel scenes is exquisite, appropriate for the exhibition purposes of the rifle”. Wilson further states “In considering known examples of deluxe Winchester Model 1866 rifles and carbines, number 46037 stands as the earliest known relief-carved and deluxe engraved Winchester firearm. Thus the rifle is also the first such arm by C.F. Ulrich. His pride in this rifle is evident by the three signatures, in a unique combination of stamping and engraving”. The / engraved panel scenes include, on the frame left side, a large panel with a hunter and dog shooting three buck deer and a doe; a unique scene of a gentleman with saddled horse in the English style of riding habit; right side of frame features 5 panels including a small panel with a bird motif, small panel with crouching leopard, a large panel featuring the “Three Graces”, a small oval panel with squirrel motif, and a large round panel with two hunting dogs; top of the frame, located just behind the ejection port features a fox head sculptured in low relief. Intricate scroll engraving and fancy borders are richly and profusely engraved on the top and bottom of the frame and tangs. CONDITION: Excellent, showing moderate wear to the engraving and balance point at frame lower front. Traces of original gold plating on bottom tang. Barrel and magazine tube are mostly a blue/grey patina. Bore is dark. Action is tight and crisp. Wood is lightly refinished with an old repair to the wrist incorporating a 1/4 X 2-3/4 inch metal strip and six screws on both sides. Well used yet not abused overall. A most colorful and rare exhibition grade Winchester Model 1886 that did not spend its life in a showcase, the quintessential example of “IF THIS GUN COULD TALK”. -MKS- 35,000 - 55,000





1223 - (A) 5TH CAVALRY CAPTAIN GEORGE F. PRICE INSCRIBED HENRY RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Henry
Model: Lever Action
Serial No. 543
Caliber/Bore: .44 Henry
Barrel Length: 24”
FFL Status: Antique

One of the best and most historic Henry Rifles to come to market. Pictured on pages 166 and 167 of Les Quick’s definitive work titled: “THE STORY OF BENJAMIN TYLER HENRY AND HIS FAMED REPEATING RIFLE”. Early first model Henry Rifle serial number 543, manufactured in 1862. Left side of frame hand engraved in 3 lines: “CAPT. GEORGE F. PRICE/FT. CHURCHILL/FROM COMPANY M”. A native of New York City, George F. Price emigrated West and became a citizen of California. Once there, he settled in the northern coast town of Yreka to seek his fortune in the gold fields of the Humbodt Creek and Klamath River areas. In 1861, when President Abraham Lincoln issued a call to bolster federal troops from California, George Price volunteered on September 3rd and entered service as a first lieutenant in Company M, 2nd Regiment Cavalry, California Volunteers. Lt. Price was quickly promoted to the rank of Captain, being charged with a variety of tasks to include settling the Northern Paiute Indians who were then pillaging northeastern California. Captain Price saw extensive duty throughout California, Utah, and Wyoming. In 1863 he was given command of Fort Bridger. Following the close of the Civil War, Captain Price was one of the first appointments made to the regular Army on February 23, 1866. During his post-Civil War service with the U.S. 5th Cavalry, he was tasked with a variety of assignments throughout the West which included participation in many Indian War campaigns. According to official military records of 5th Cavalry Officers during April 1869: “He rejoined his company at Fort Lyon, Colorado and marched with a battalion of the regiment across country to Fort McPherson Nebraska and was engaged en route in combats with hostile Sioux and Cheyenne at Beaver and Spring creeks.” He participated in the operations of the Republic River expedition from June to November, 1869 commanded a company until the 19th of July thereafter served as the adjutant of the expedition, and was engaged in the affairs near Spring Creek, in the sand-hills near Frenchman’s Fork, at Rock Creek, in the brilliant action at Summit Springs recommended for the brevet of captain for gallantry, in the affair in the sand-hills south of Julesburg, the Niobrara pursuit, and the affair on Prairie Dog Creek, where he won a special mention in the official report “as meriting the highest praise for dash and gallantry” and also having, in conjunction with Lieutenant Volkmar, Fifth Cavalry, “UNDOUBTEDLY SAVED THE LIVES OF MAJOR FRANK NORTH (commanding the Pawnee scouts) AND THE GUIDE, WILLIAM CODY”. In the following years the 5th Cavalry fought many skirmishes and battles against the Sioux, Cheyenne and Arapaho on the Great Plains, and against the Utes in Colorado. On 8 July 1869 at the Republican River in Kansas, Cpl John Kyle made a valiant stand against attacking Indians resulting in him receiving the Medal of Honor. The 5th was then sent to Arizona, where it defeated the Apaches in 95 engagements from 1871 to 1874. Due to these actions, General William Sherman told a committee from the United States House of Representatives that “the services of the 5th Cavalry Regiment in Arizona were unequaled by any Cavalry Regiment.” After General Custer and 264 of his men died at the Battle of Little Big Horn, the 5th rode after the Sioux to avenge the deaths of their fellow cavalrymen. The punitive ride quickly became known as the Horsemeat March, one of the most brutal forced marches in American military history. Men and horses suffered from starvation, but they eventually caught up with the Indians. Under the leadership of Col. Wesley Merritt, a Civil War veteran, the 5th was instrumental in defeating the Indians at the Battle of Slim Buttes. It was the first significant victory for the army following Little Bighorn. In 1882 Captain George F. Price compiled a book titled: “ACROSS THE CONTINENT WITH THE FIFTH CAVALRY”. An original edition of this scarce and historic book is included in the sale of this rifle. Considering this Henry rifle, serial number 543, was most likely given to Captain Price during his Civil War service with Company M of the 2nd California Volunteer Cavalry, it is most conceivable it accompanied him during his 15+ year historic service with the U.S. Army 5th Cavalry. CONDITION: Excellent overall. Beautiful untouched butterscotch color patina to the brass frame. Barrel is mostly a very pleasing blue/brown patina. The stock is sound with moderate wear showing scattered dents and scrapes. Matching serial numbers have been observed on major components. Bore is dark. Action operates flawlessly. -MKS-

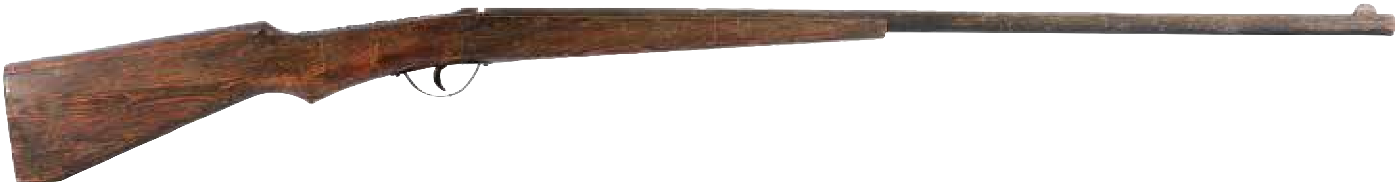
1228 - WINCHESTER DOUBLE "W" BULLET BOARD.

Original Winchester "Double W" cartridge board made circa 1897. Board has hardwood frame with gold painted inner border with outside dimensions of 57" wide and 39 -1/2" tall. Over 100 cartridges formed in the shape of two "W's" surrounding an A.B. Frost print depicting two hunters standing around a bear. Red "Winchester" banner with flying mallard duck on left and moose head on the right with Winchester address in red at bottom. Right hand corner has "Forbes Co. Boston". Back has notation stating "Presented with compliments - Winchester Repeating Arms Co.- Please hang in a prominent place". Board is numbered on back "No. 2062". CONDITION: As found condition with gold border repainted. Some areas of board have been touched up with black and green paint. Some cartridges have been replaced including the 4 gauge paper with Gevelot headstamped shell. Three window shells are replaced with correct shells, but are not the proper window shells. 43 Spanish shell replaced with Dominion 43 Mauser shell. 40-90 Sharps Regular replaced with W.R.A. Co. 45-90 W.C.F. shell. 25-20 Winchester High Velocity replaced with 25-20 Single shot shell and the 45-500 Bullet looks to be a replacement. Still a good honest "Double W" board. DLM 20,000 - 30,000



1229 - CARVED WINCHESTER RIFLE TRADE SIGN.
Late 19th century. Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This 14' example depicts a Winchester rifle of the era that served as a trade sign for the Walter Hatley Sporting Goods Store located at 510 Girard Street in Philadelphia where it was removed from the building in 1948. The gun retains its original metal back plate, trigger, and sight. Applied to the top of the stock, rear of the sight, are applied brass letters forming the word "WINCHESTER". Note: The Winchester trade sign was mounted vertically on the side of the building. Structurally good with darkened patina, surfaces weathered. 1,200 - 2,000

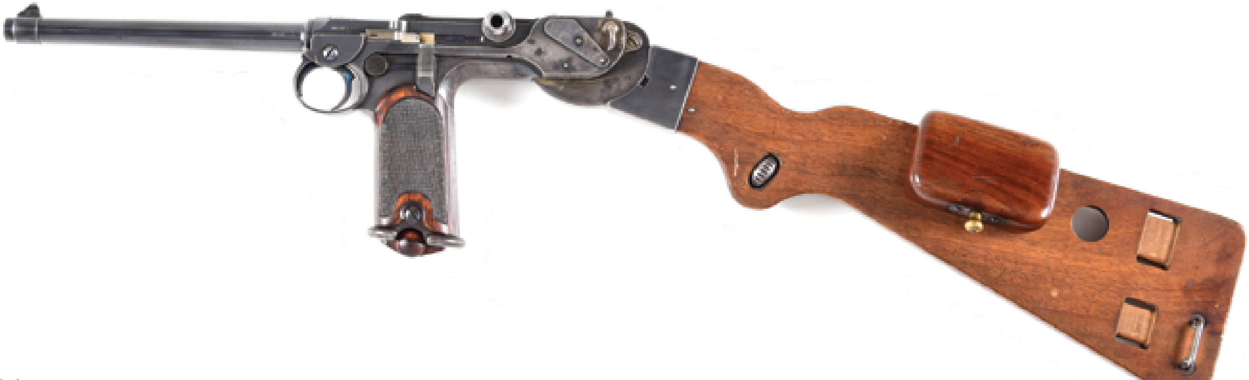
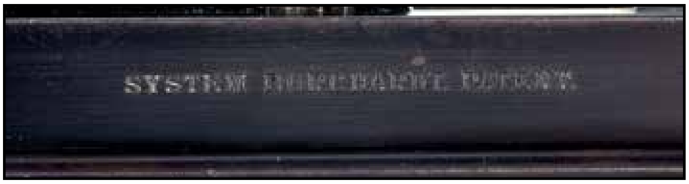
Manufacturer: Bergmann
Model: 1896 No. 3
Serial No. 1207
Caliber/Bore: 6.5mm Bergmann
Barrel Length: 4 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique

Developed by Schmeisser and marketed by Bergman these unique pistols used proprietary cartridges and are at the forefront of self loading handgun development. Serial number 1207 with matching numbers including grips. Rust blue finish with straw finished hammer and trigger and fire blue safety. U crown proofs on barrel and receiver. Manufacturers crest "V.C.S. GAGGENAU, SUHL" on right side of frame. Later variation with extractor for cartridges Drift adjustable blade front sight with fixed integral rear sight. CONDITION: Very fine with over 90% of the original rust blue finish remaining thinning of grip straps and with edge wear. Straw finished are very good with high point wear. Bore is excellent, bright and sharp. Grips are very good with sharp checkering and without distress. Action operates properly smoothly. A very fine example of the early development of self loading arms. 5,000 - 10,000

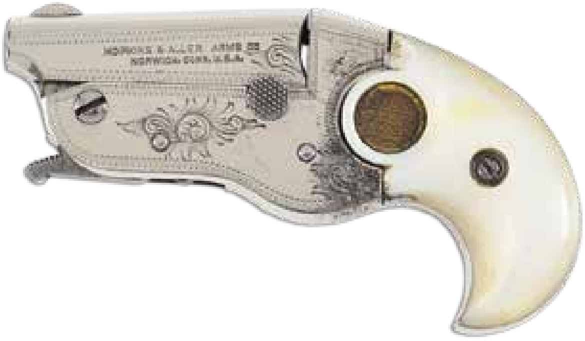


1233 - (A) LOEWE C93 BORCHARDT SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL WITH SHOULDER STOCK.
Manufacturer: Loewe
Model: C93
Serial No. 374
Caliber/Bore: 7.65x25mm Borchardt
Barrel Length: 7 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique



Manufactured by Ludwig Loewe & Company of Berlin in anticipation of military contracts. They produced 1,100 of them and then DWM manufactured 2,000 examples. This was one of the earliest examples of a semi-automatic pistol ever developed. It is based on the toggle action from Hyrum Maxims machine gun. This gun is an all-matching gun serial number 374. The stock and cheekpiece are numbered 480. Crown BUG proofs on the barrel and left side of frame. "WAFFENFABRIK / LOEWE / BERLIN" is over the chamber, with "D.R.P. / NO.75837" on the front toggle link. Detachable 8 round box magazine is numbered to the gun. Two-piece checkered wood grips. CONDITION: Gun retains approximately 65% of the factory original applied blue finish. Finish loss on the grip straps and the spring housing. The grips show normal wear with a few dings and scratches. Bright and shiny bore with sharp lands and grooves. Nice matching magazine with the nickeled finish being 96%. The stock and cheekpiece are in wonderful shape. There are a few dings and scratches in the wood. A very rare and desirable gun for any collection. REW 6,000 - 10,000

1234 - (C) ENGRAVED HOPKINS & ALLEN "PARROT BEAK" SINGLE SHOT POCKET PISTOL.
Manufacturer: Hopkins & Allen
Model: Pocket Pistol
Serial No. 913
Caliber/Bore: .22 Short
Barrel Length: 1 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Manufactured between 1911 - 1914. Very rare Hopkins & Allen "NEW MODEL VEST POCKET DERRINGER AKA PARROT BEAK". These guns were chambered for the .22 short. Gun is factory scroll engraved with a lined border. Factory mother of peril grips with brass HA medallions. CONDITION; Gun retains approximately 92% of the factory applied nickel finish. Grips have a couple of small chips in them. Good bore with good lands and grooves. REW 1,500 - 2,500

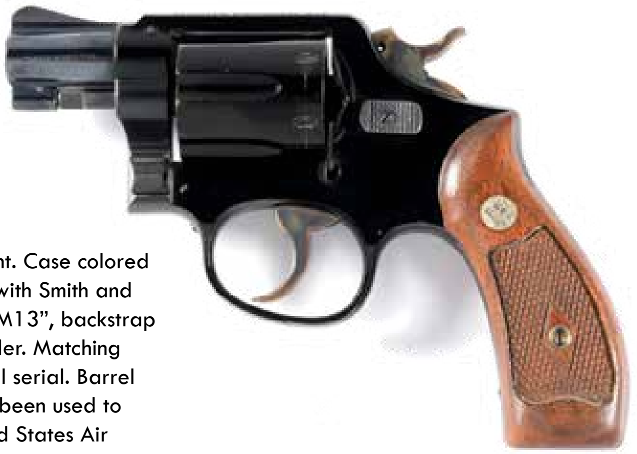
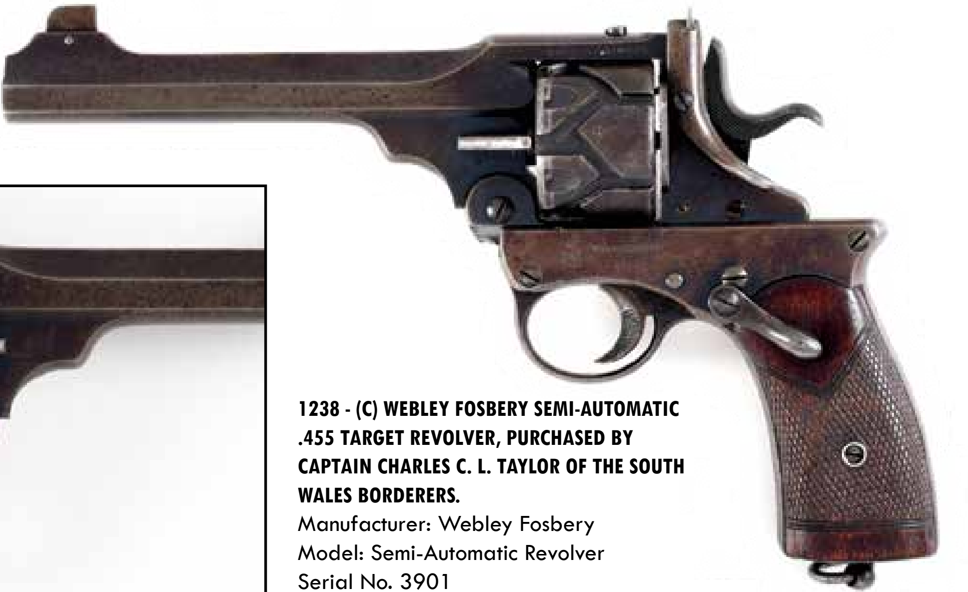
1237 - (C) SMITH & WESSON U.S ISSUED AIRCREWMAN .38 SPECIAL DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: S&W
Model: M13 Aircrewman
Serial No. C295457
Caliber/Bore: .38 Special
Barrel Length: 2”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

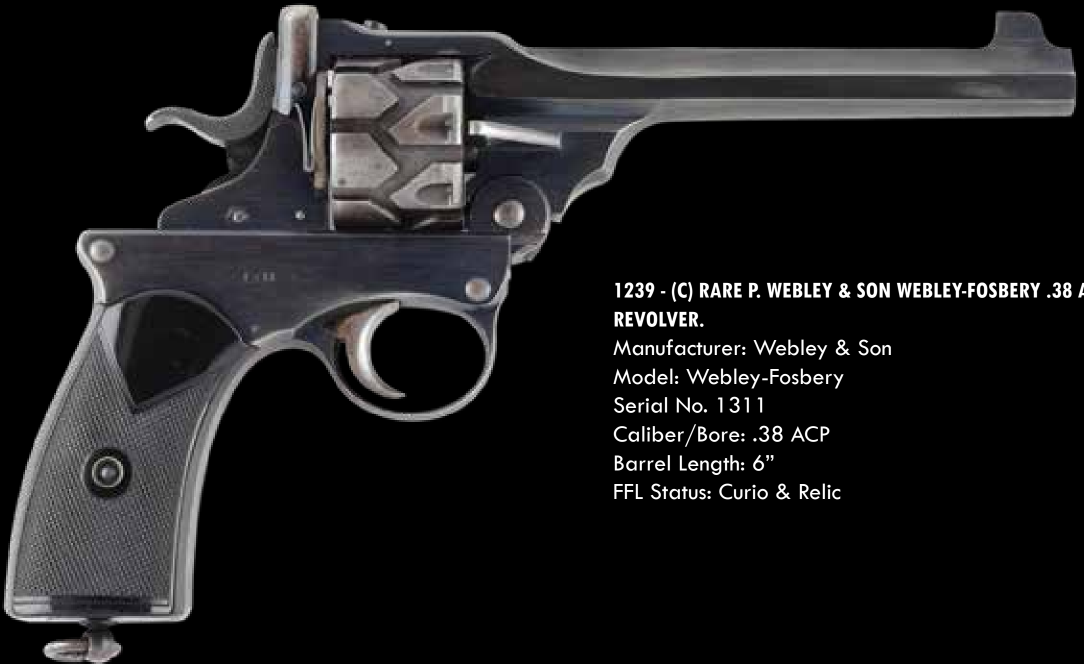


Black anodized finish with 2” barrel, serrated ramp front sight, notch rear sight. Case colored hammer and trigger. Flat latch and pinned barrel. Diamond checkered grips with Smith and Wesson medallions. Left side of top strap reads “REVOLVER, LIGHTWEIGHT, M13”, backstrap “PROPERTY OF U.S. AIR FORCE”. “P” proof on left side of frame, under cylinder. Matching numbers on butt and rear of cylinder. inside of right grip stamped with partial serial. Barrel legend is simply “.38 SPL. CTG” indicating replacement. Some white infill has been used to highlight backstrap legends. These rare revolvers were procured by the United States Air Force and were specially made out of aluminum to be extremely lightweight and thus ideal for air crews; unfortunately, because of their extreme light weight and aluminum construction, normal .38 Special would cause cylinders to rupture unless run with special M41 low pressure .38 Special. CONDITION: Very good retaining the vast majority of the factory bluing on the frame and cylinder with strong shadowing around proofs; some normal marks from handling and operation. Trigger and hammer retain virtually all of their case colors with a few spots of age related patina. Checkering is somewhat rough. Barrel is very good. Action works appropriately when operated by hand, bore has strong rifling. EW 3,000 - 5,000



1238 - (C) WEBLEY FOSBERY SEMI-AUTOMATIC .455 TARGET REVOLVER, PURCHASED BY CAPTAIN CHARLES C. L. TAYLOR OF THE SOUTH WALES BORDERERS.
Manufacturer: Webley Fosbery
Model: Semi-Automatic Revolver
Serial No. 3901
Caliber/Bore: .455 Cordite
Barrel Length: 6”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

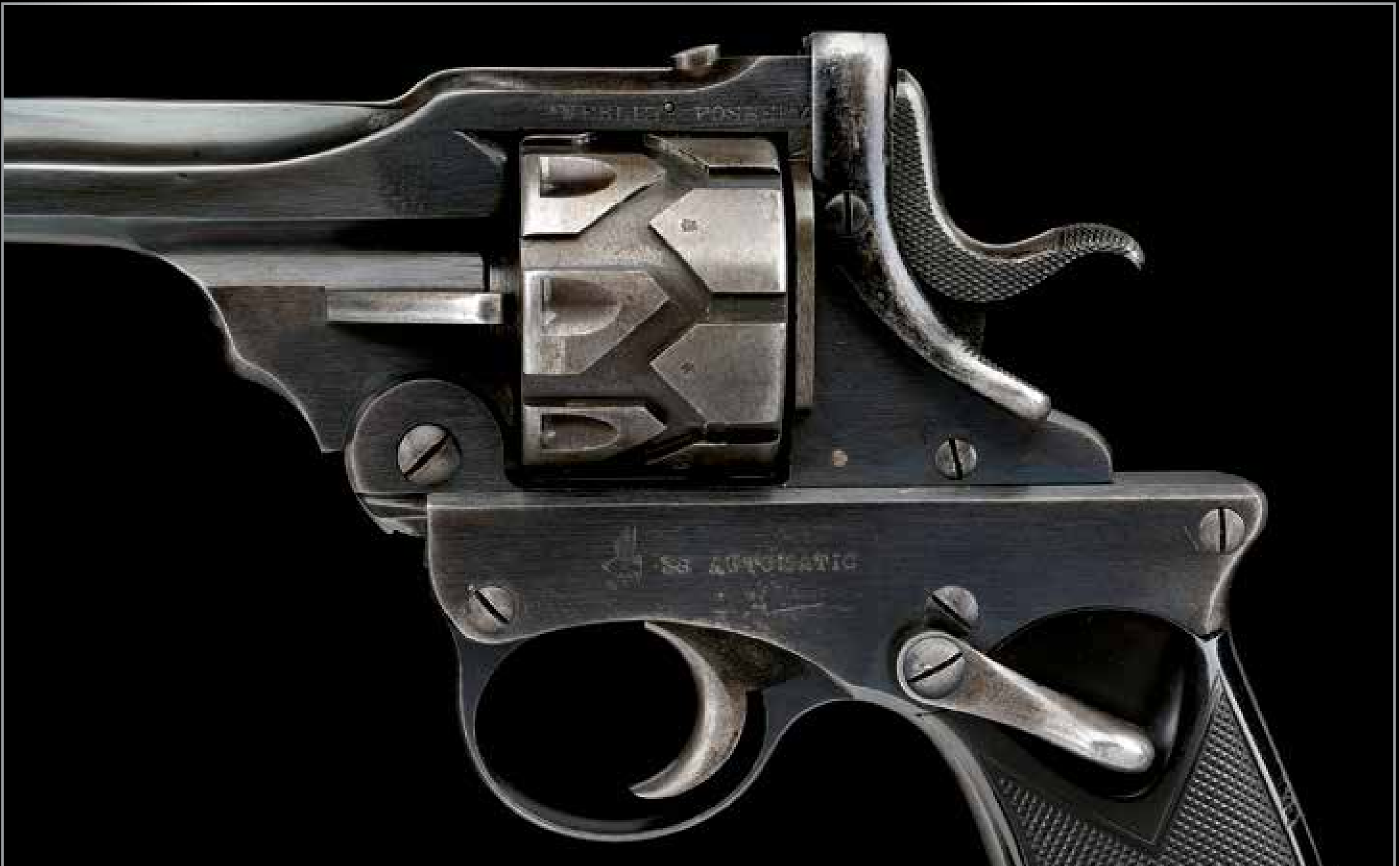
Manufactured April 21st, 1914, as per Milner Database information sheet, which also lists Taylor purchasing the pistol as part of a shipment of five. Milner also notes that price paid indicates a target model. Matching full or partial numbers observed on right side of frame, left side of frame under grips, on right grip scale, rear of cylinder, and on some internals visible when grips removed. Classic configuration with six-shot cylinder in .455 with top break and distinctly cut cylinder that interacts with stud on top strap to advance the cylinder during firing sequence. Blade front sight stamped “20 YDS” on right side of blade, target U notch rear dovetailed with break lever. Checkered trigger Metford rifling. Marked on top strap with “P. WEBLEY & SON. LONDON & BIRMINGHAM.”, left side with “WEBLEY FOSBERY”. Frame with Webley winged bullet and “.455 CORDITE”. Sides of the hammer are checkered, as is the trigger. Checkered grips with rotatable lanyard loop. Appropriate Birmingham proofs. Taylor’s service record spans from the South African War in 1899 (Boer War) through the end of World War I, with numerous awards including Queen’s Medal with three clasps, Kings Medal with two clasps, and the Distinguished Service Order. Taylor appears to have retired circa 1918 as a Major and later a Brevete Lieutenant Colonel. Accompanied by a folder of documentation concerning Taylor. CONDITION: Very good. Barrel and cylinder assembly retaining much bluing mostly towards the rear, barrel mostly a pleasing patina. Frame blue has largely faded with just flashes of blue mixing with patina. Barrel has one minor area of old oxidation. One pair of nicks on right side of barrel and cylinder assembly. Other normal handling marks throughout. Grips are attractive and full sized but appear to have had an extra layer of varnish added that has filled some of the checkering. Bore is very good, bright and shiny, action works appropriately when gently operated by hand. A very interesting example of the iconic Webley Fosbery. EW 8,000 - 12,000



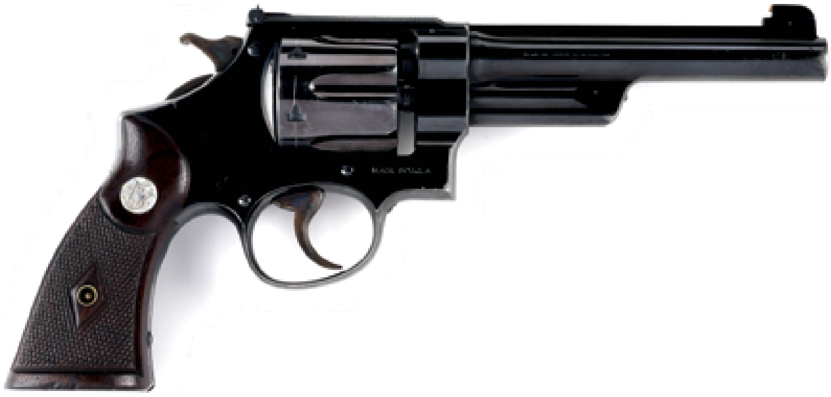
1239 - (C) RARE P. WEBLEY & SON WEBLEY-FOSBERY .38 ACP AUTOMATIC REVOLVER.

Manufacturer: Webley & Son
Model: Webley-Fosbery
Serial No. 1311
Caliber/Bore: .38 ACP
Barrel Length: 6”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

Matching full or partial numbers observed on right side of frame, front face of cylinder, left side of frame, and some internal parts visible when grips are removed. Rare .38 ACP variation with 8 shot cylinder, top break, and iconic “zig zag” cut cylinder that interacts with cocking stud across top strap and advances the cylinder during the firing sequence. Simple U notch rear sight integral with top break. Hammer checkered on sides and spur. “WEBLEY FOSBERY” on left side of top strap, rib marked “P. WEBLEY & SON. LONDON & BIRMINGHAM”. Normal Birmingham proof marks throughout. Smooth trigger. Hard rubber grips, left with relief scallop cut for safety lever, with “SAFE” cast in and visible when safety articulated. Rotatable lanyard loop at butt. Accompanied by an unmarked shamrock green fabric sleeve, presumably for storage. CONDITION: Good. Gun retains much of the original factory blue, perhaps half, with most on frame and around cylinder, with some normal age-related patina throughout. Someone has wiped down the barrel with cold blue or equivalent over some old inactive oxidation, starting from approximately the starting slope of the barrel and running to the muzzle. Lanyard loop has worn a distinct ring around the butt and grips. Right grip scale has a small split at base. Action works appropriately (although ejector star needs some encouragement to “snap” back in on break), bore has strong rifling but the is a distinct bulge approximately 2 - 1/4” down the barrel with a ring that can be seen from interior. Very few of these guns were manufactured in .38 ACP and finding them at all is exceedingly difficult. 15,000 - 25,000



1240 - (C) PRE-WAR SMITH & WESSON REGISTERED MAGNUM DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Smith & Wesson
Model: Registered Magnum
Serial No. 47707
Caliber/Bore: .357 Magnum
Barrel Length: 6”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Manufactured 1936 as per accompanying S&W letter. High polish blue finish. Partially lugged barrel with McGivern bead front sight, wide U notch rear sight, blued finish with normal legends, serrated case color hardened trigger. Case colored hammer with checkering across top. Top rib and top strap with anti-glare matting with short smooth strip along sighting plane, just in front of rear sight. S&W trademark and “SMITH & WESSON” have been gold filled, “S. & W. .357 MAGNUM” and “MADE IN U.S.A.” on right are not filled. 47707 on butt and inside crane recess. Registration number 824 on inside of frame. Magna grips with gilt medallions. CONDITION: Very good as professionally restored. Some silvering to muzzle, front of partial lug, and frame consistent with holster wear. Some silvering at top of rear grip strap and operational points, including turn line. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is excellent with strong rifling. The Registered Magnum is legendary amongst revolver afficianados for their craftsmanship, which was so high that Smith and Wesson backed them with a lifetime warranty. Accompanied by a Smith and Wesson letter listing features and a copy of a ledger from Union Hardware and Metal from the Smith and Wesson Historical Foundation. 3,500 - 5,000

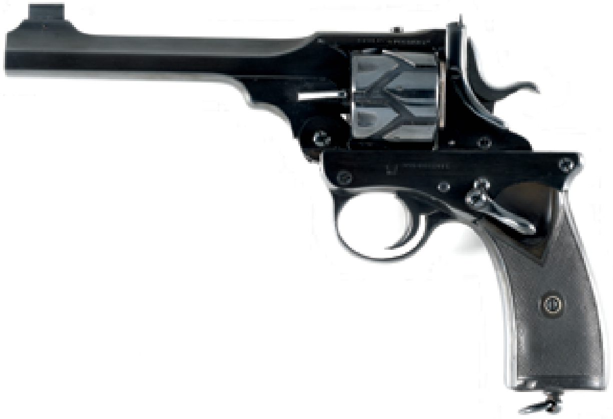
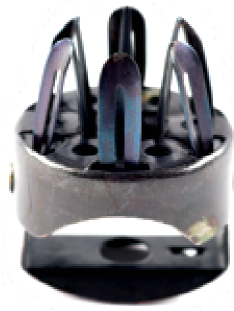
Manufacturer: Webley
Model: Webley-Fosbery
Serial No. 3528
Caliber/Bore: .455 Webley
Barrel Length: 6"
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Target sights with bead-on-blade front sight, target notch dovetailed into opening lever. Iconic cylinder cuts that interact with top strap stud to cycle cylinder during firing sequence. Checkered hammer with checkered sides. 2 piece grips with "SAFE" cast into left panel. Rotatable lanyard ring. Normal legends and British proofs. Full or partial serial numbers observed on right side of frame, front of barrel lug, rear of cylinder, left side of grip under scale, and some internal parts visible when grips are removed. Traditional rifling. Smooth trigger face. CONDITION: Very good as completely refurbished with some minor marks throughout from handling and operation. Some minor pitting is visible under the new blue and there are a few areas of spotting on old blue, mostly in protected areas. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is excellent with strong rifling. Rear sight has a ding in it on the right side that does not affect functionality. A wonderful piece for someone who wants to shoot a Fosbery without worrying about finish. EW 3,500 - 4,500

1245 - A RARE PRIDEAUX SPEEDLOADER FOR WEBLEY-FOSBERY REVOLVER.



A rare example of the Prideaux speedloader designed to reload the Webley revolver quickly and efficiently; so efficiently that it was patented as the "Prideaux Instantaneous Loader". Fire blued fingers for holding cartridges. Appropriately marked with "(Broad Arrow) / PLD / 1919". CONDITION: Fingers retainmost of a dull fire bluing with some minor areas of patina. Steel body with some silvering at high edges and a few areas of old oxidation, but still retaining much of the blued finish. Fingers retract appropriately when gently pressed as they would when inserted into a Webley. A rare example. EW 1,200 - 1,800

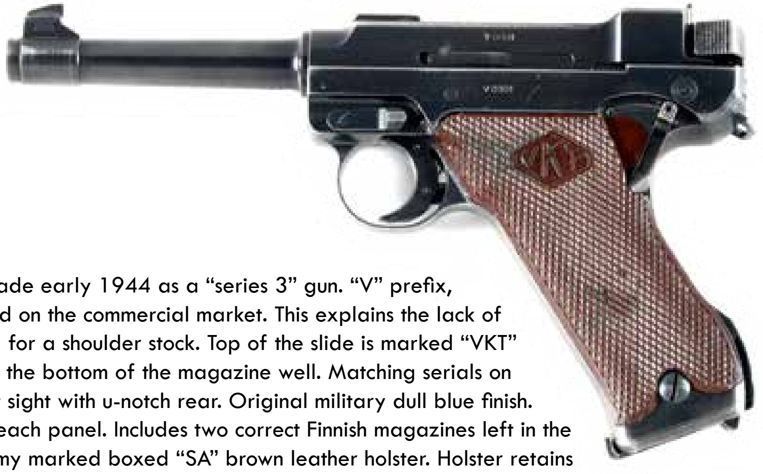
1255 - (C) A RARE RUSSIAN CONTRACT COLT 1911 .45 ACP SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL WITH FACTORY LETTER (1916).
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1911
Serial No. C30358
Caliber/Bore: .45 ACP
Barrel Length: 5”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

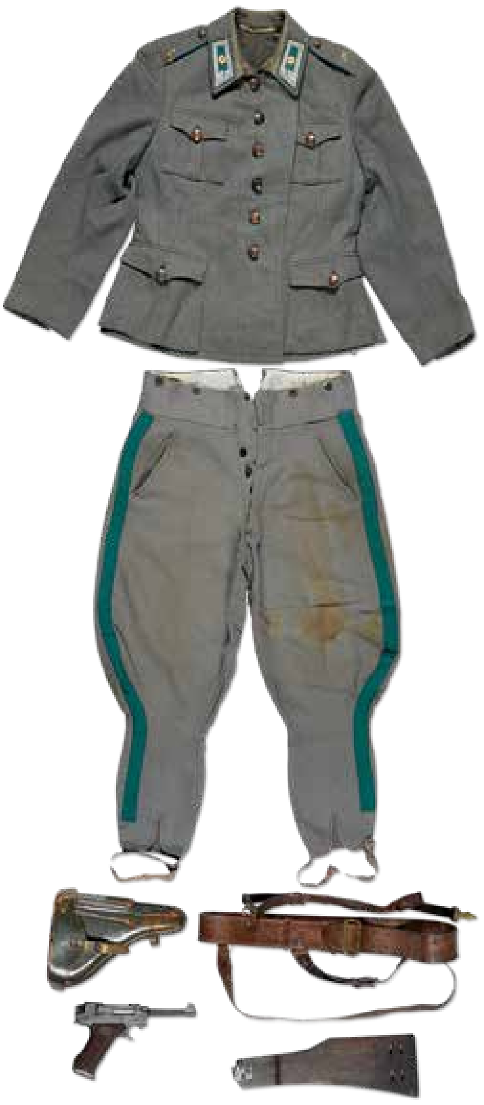
Manufactured in March 1916 as per factory letter from Colt. According to Clawson, Russia started acquiring 1911s in February 1916, making this an early shipment. Russia ultimately ended up funneling most of the purchases through Britain, which were marked in Cyrillic on the dust cover; as a direct shipment from Colt, this gun was not marked as such. Half-moon front sight, U notch flat top rear sight. 2 line 2 block patent dates and Colt information on left side of slide, Rampant Colt at rear of slide. Right side with “COLT AUTOMATIC / CALIBRE 45”. Frame with “GOVERNMENT MODEL / C 303558”. Checkered spur hammer, left side only safety, slide release, and magazine release. Short 1911 grip safety, flat smooth mainspring housing with lanyard loop. 2 piece truncated diamond walnut grips. Two-tone magazine with lanyard loop. These rare guns were shipped into Murmansk and Archangel before distribution to Russian forces; beyond that little of their history is known, however, there is one account that a 1911 was used to kill the Romanovs. Accompanied by an unmarked leather holster with single belt loop and retaining nub; given the wear pattern, this 1911 has been in the holster for some time. Also accompanied by a scan of a Colt factory letter listing this pistol by serial number as being shipped to Russia March 31st, 1916. CONDITION: Good, considering that most of these pistols are found in well used condition. Retains approximately half of the factory blue finish with losses at high edges, grip straps, and across top of the slide, consistent with holster wear. Magazine in commensurate condition. Lower left grip screw marred but grips do not have discernible cracks. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with strong rifling and heavy frosting. There is a small import mark on the magazine well indicating import by Simpson Ltd, Galesburg, IL. Holster is fair with crazing and areas of heavy rubbing. Toe has come loose and retained only by a few stitches; exercise caution. EW 8,000 - 10,000

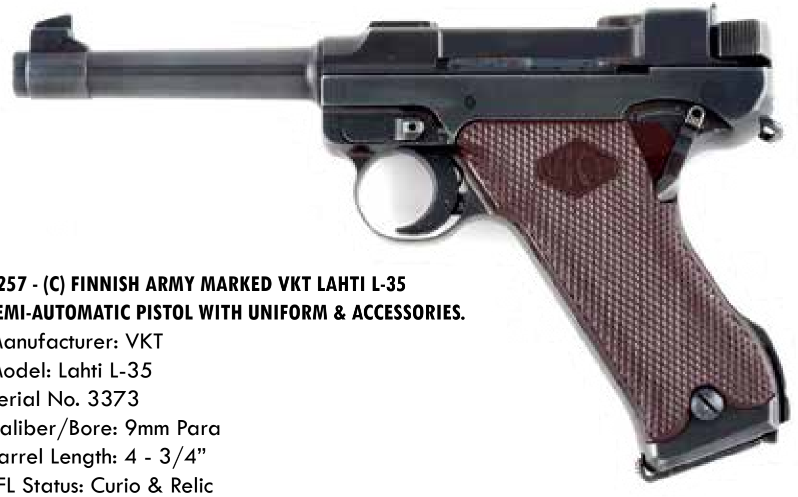
1256 - (C) SCARCE FINNISH VKT LAHTI L-35 SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL WITH HOLSTER

Manufacturer: VKT
Model: Lahti L-35
Serial No. V0301
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 4 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Finnish VKT L-35 Lahti semi automatic pistol with holster. Made early 1944 as a “series 3” gun. “V” prefix, meaning it was rejected by military inspectors and then sold on the commercial market. This explains the lack of a boxed “SA” Finnish Army stamp. Rear grip strap is milled for a shoulder stock. Top of the slide is marked “VKT” in diamond and “L-35”. Small Simpson LTD import mark on the bottom of the magazine well. Matching serials on the frame, slide and charging handle. Original blade front sight with u-notch rear. Original military dull blue finish. Brown plastic, checkered grips with “VKT” in diamonds on each panel. Includes two correct Finnish magazines left in the white, with blued base plates. Also included is a Finnish Army marked boxed “SA” brown leather holster. Holster retains its original cleaning rod and take down tool. Of note, this holster does not have a rear loop for a flat board stock. CONDITION: Metal retains 80% of its original finish with general wear and handling marks. Grips are excellent with light wear. Bore is shiny with crisp rifling. Internals are well preserved in a light coating of grease. Mechanically fine. Holster is very good overall, with crisp stitching and some light crazing on top of the holster. Magazines are excellent. Cleaning rod is excellent as well. Finnish L-35 rigs are scarce! JWA 6,000 - 8,000





1257 - (C) FINNISH ARMY MARKED VKT LAHTI L-35 SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL WITH UNIFORM & ACCESSORIES.

Manufacturer: VKT
Model: Lahti L-35
Serial No. 3373
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 4 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

Finnish VKT L-35 Lahti semi automatic pistol with stock, holster and uniform. Made 1941 as a “series 1” pistol. Top of the slide is marked with a boxed “SA” Finnish Army stamp, then “VKT” in a diamond, followed by “L-35” and then another boxed “SA” Finnish Army stamp. Simpson LTD import mark on the bottom of the magazine well. Serials on the slide and frame match. Charging handle does not match being “1845” (still a series one part). This may be the result of a field replacement. Correct blade front sight with u-notch rear. Original military dull blue finish. Brown plastic checkered grips with “VKT” in diamonds on each panel. Back strap is correctly milled for a shoulder stock, which were never actually issued in numbers. Included is a slightly modified Luger style “flat board” stock. Stock does not fit correctly, which is correct. Stock is unmarked, and has a reapplied light stain finish. 2 magazines are included, 1 being a correct Finnish magazine (left in the white, with a blued bottom), with the second most likely being a Swedish production magazine (all blued). Correct green leather flap holster is included. This holster has provisions to carry the stock in the rear, similar to an Artillery Luger stock. Holster is unmarked and retains an original take down tool and brass cleaning rod. Also included is a World War II era Finnish Infantry officers uniform with belt rig. Uniform includes a heavy field tunic and correct knickers. CONDITION: Metal retains 90% of its original finish with light edge wear and handling marks. Grips are excellent. Bore is clean with sharp rifling. Mechanically excellent. Stock is excellent with a few handling marks. Magazines are very good with light wear. Holster has some light wear, with excellent stitching and light crazing on the tab and flap. Uniform looks to be very good overall with good stitching throughout. Belt rig has light crazing, but is very good. This a quite complete rig and would make an excellent condition to any World War II collection. JWA 6,000 - 8,000

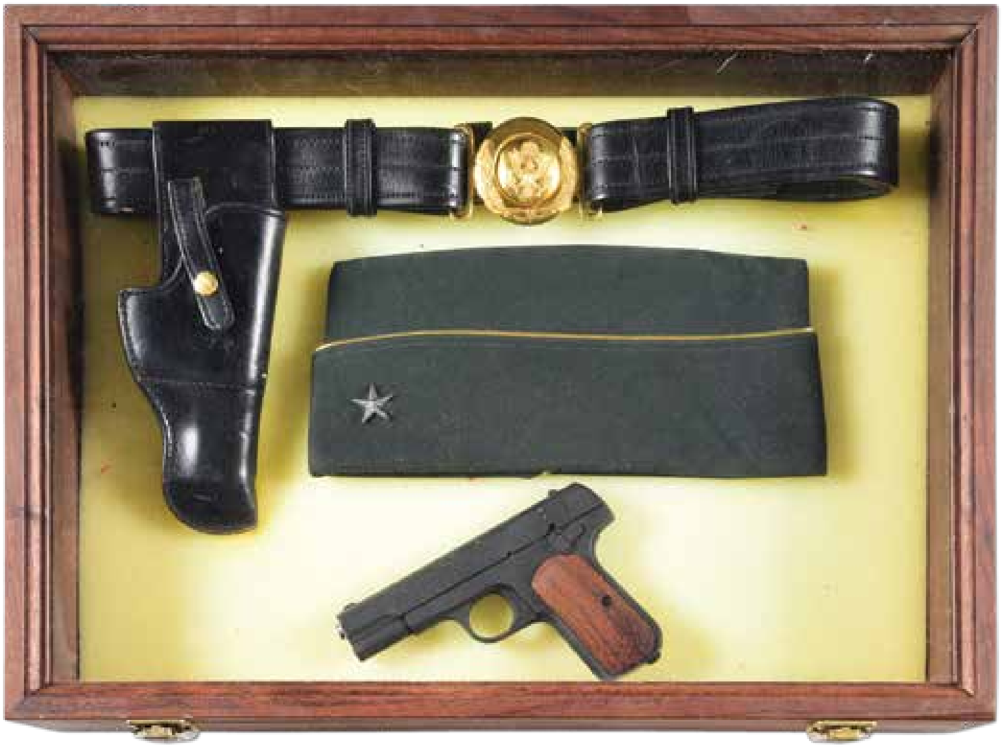
1285 - (C) GROUPING OF ITEMS IDENTIFIED AS BELONGING TO BRIGADIER GENERAL JOSEPH FREDERICK HUGHES CUTRONA, 89TH INFANTRY, ONE OF THOSE WHO LIBERATED OHRDRUF.

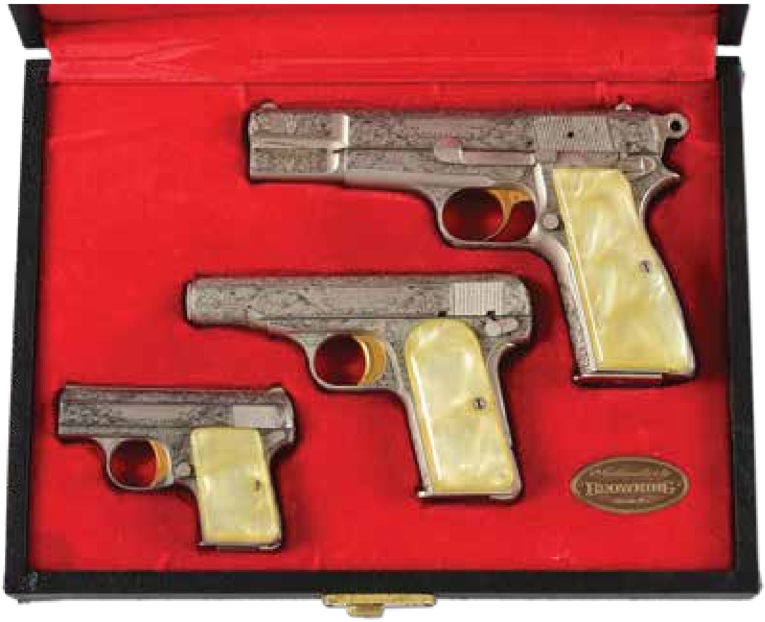
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1903
Serial No. 566828
Caliber/Bore: .32 Rimless Smokeless
Barrel Length: 3 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



1903 issued to Brigadier General Joseph Frederik Hughes Cutrona on 6/10/70 (ref: “The Colt Pocket Hammerless Automatic Pistols II” by Brunner, pg. 159). Half moon front sight, round top beveled U-notch rear sight, rear cocking serrations, short smooth trigger, fully checkered walnut grips without medallions, grip safety, and full blue magazine. Housed in a walnut glass top shadowbox with accouterments consisting of a post-War black belt with relief eagle and laurel buckle and holster, marked on inside for size 35. Appropriate Cold War era General’s overseas hat with gold piping sized 7-3/8 with Brigadier General rank attached on the left side. The Brigadier General star is marked on the reverse “STERLING / N.S. MEYER, INC. / NEW YORK” with correct N.S. Meyer shield proof marks. CONDITION: Very good as arsenal refinished over a few bumps and bruises in the metal that is now covered by parkerization. Leather is very good, brass is bright, with some scuffs scattered throughout. There are a few minor spots of verdigris on metal in the inside of the waistband. Hat is very fine. Cutrona enlisted at the age of 21 and entered combat at the Battle of the Bulge as a Field Artillery Forward Observer for the 89th Infantry. In 1945 Cutrona led the 89th Infantry and 4th Armored to Ohrdruf, the first SS camp liberated by US forces. He continued to serve in various positions including the U.S. European Command in Germany, as the Executive Officer and G-2 Intelligence Officer of the 9th Field Artillery Batallions 3rd Infantry Divisios, Chief of Information for the US Army at the Pentagon, Commander of Artillery Batteries of the 4th Infantry Division during Vietnam, Chief Information to Abrams, and numerous other posts. After his retirement, Cutrona started the National Small Shipments Association and ultimately passed December 2010. Paperwork consists of internet printouts of Cutrona’s obituary and service record, and an interview he conducted towards the end of his life, and a handwritten note from an unidentified author describing how they acquired the items from the family after Cutrona’s death. This is a phenomenal lot of personal effects that belonged to an important servicemember. EW 5,000 - 10,000

1286 - (C) LOT OF 3: CASED SET OF RENAISSANCE ENGRAVED BELGIAN MADE BROWNING HI-POWER, 1910, AND 1905 SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOLS.

Manufacturer: (All) Browning
Model: (A) Hi Power (B) 1910 (C) 1905
Serial No. (A) T158289 (B) 597934 (C) 378940
Caliber/Bore: (A) 9mm Luger (B) .380 Auto (C) .25 ACP
Barrel Length: (A) 4 - 5/8” (B) 3 - 1/2” (C) 2 - 1/8”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Cased trio of Browning Renaissance hand-engraved pistols in factory vine and floral with deep chisel engraving. All three pistols appear to have been engraved by the same hand but a detailed examination of the engraving does not find a signature present. All guns are Belgian proofed. T series Hi-Power has the ring hammer, fixed front sight, drift adjustable U notch rear sight. Browning Model 1910 in .380 ACP with fixed sights. Baby Browning in .25 ACP with fixed sights. All pistols have grey-silver finish, synthetic pearl grips, and gold washed triggers. Housed in the black vinyl case with red liner and vacant brass plaque on lid. CONDITION: Very good. Hi-Power shows some evidence of use, with some darkening of the finish on stirrup cut. Cocking serrations have some old oxidation spotting, which is also on the extractor. Gold wash on trigger lifting in a few areas. Action works appropriately, bore is very good with strong rifling. Engraving is crisp. 1910 shows much lighter evidence of use with crisp engraving throughout but no noticeable darkening. Some old oxidation spotting in the cocking serrations and on muzzle. Some spots of darkness near trigger guard. Action works appropriately, bore with strong rifling and some frosting. 1905 very good with just a few minor marks but no significant areas of darkening to silver finish. Matte rib has a few bumps. Action works appropriately but firing pin is stuck forward and needs to be addressed, bore is very good with sharp rifling and some frosting. Case is very good with a few markings at the corners and some pressure marks on the inside of the lining where guns have sat. An attractive set. EW 5,000 - 8,000

1287 - (M+C) LOT OF 3: CASED SET OF RENAISSANCE ENGRAVED BROWNING SEMI AUTOMATIC PISTOLS.

Manufacturer: (All) Browning
Model: (A) Hi Power (B) 1910/22 (C) 1905

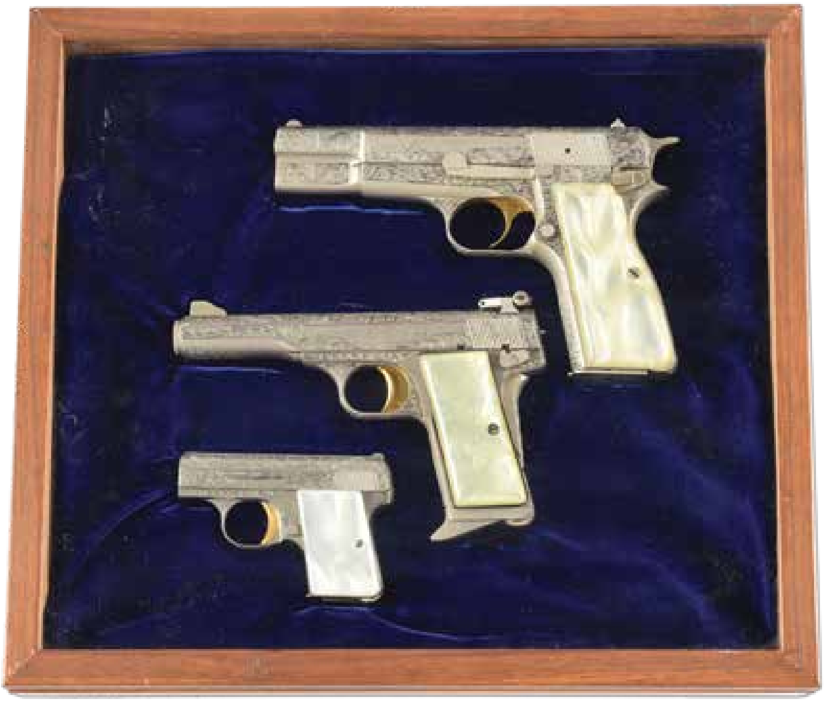
Barrel Length: (A) 4 - 3/4” (B) 4 - 1/2” (C) 2”
FFL Status: Modern



Lot consists of: (A) Browning Hi-Power with deeply cut floral Renaissance engraving on a matte silver finish. No thumbprint. Thick blade front sight, square notch rear sight, spur trigger. Gold washed trigger. Synthetic pearl grips. No engravers signature observed. Belgian proofs. Magazine with “J. Iannicelli” and a social security number. CONDITION: Very good, retaining the vast majority of finish. Some marks scattered about the gun from handling and operation, and a couple spots of congealed oil. Engraving crisp and attractive. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with strong rifling. Magazine release has a dent on lower third, probably from being bumped against something at one point. (B) Browning Model 1910 engraved with renaissance flowing florals and vines. Adjustable rear sight, serrated slope front sight. Replaced synthetic pearl grips with black liner. Pinkie extension grip with same social security number as on Hi-Power magazine. Belgian proofs. CONDITION: Very good, showing little evidence of use. A few marks from handling and operation are scattered about the gun, noticeable on underside of barrel. Rear cocking serrations have some old age spotting in them. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with sharp rifling. (C) Browning Baby in .25 ACP with fixed sights and engraved in Renaissance flowing florals pattern. Synthetic pearl grips, magazine with no serial number. Front strap has been engraved “Jean ‘64”, which corresponds to Browning date of manufacture. Belgian proofed. CONDITION: Very good, showing a few marks from handling and use, somewhat more than other pistols. Gold wash starting to lift off trigger, exposing silver at reciprocating areas. Some old age-related spotting in cocking serrations. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is excellent with strong rifling and some frosting in lands. Housed in a custom blue velvet lined case with cardboard liner underneath. EW 4,500 - 6,500

1313 - (C)RARE GARDINER SAFETY PROTOTYPE SPRINGFIELD M1903 BOLT ACTION RIFLE
Manufacturer: Springfield
Model: M1903
Serial No. 103577
Caliber/Bore: .30-03
Barrel Length: 24”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

Rare U.S. Model 1903 Springfield bolt action magazine rifle obtained by Robert M. Gardiner to demonstrate his U.S. Patent 911683 for a “Breech Loading Safety Gun”. Device was initially designed by fellow U.S. Citizen residing in Canada, Orlando Scott, but the patent was assigned to Robert M. Gardiner on February 9, 1909. Originally this gun was a U.S. Model 1903 Springfield bolt action rifle made at Springfield Armory in 1905. Rifle has “SA” marked barrel with “Flaming Bomb” cartouche and “05” date. Banded pinned blade front sight with rear sight graduated for use with 30-03 cartridge. Blued action with blued bolt. Milled triggerguard and smooth trapdoor buttplate . Walnut finger groove “S” stock with “Humped” rear handguard. Gun was then modified by Scott and Gardiner with the addition of grasping grooves where the original finger grooves were to operate the rod connected to the sear assembly without which the gun could neither be fired or cocked. Further modification included the opening of a window in the stock where the inspector’s mark was so that device could seen in action. Gardiner then removed wood from left side and placed device name and patent date, possibly hoping to sell the device to the military. A truly unique piece. PROVENANCE: Comes with letter from archivist Andrew Stolinski giving details of this rifle. CONDITION: 50% original metal finish with balance worn to a silvery patina. Wood has traces of original finish with small crack and chips above added grasping grooves. Bore has visible but worn rifling and gun has crisp mechanics. A neat piece of innovation. Marked on the right side, just above the bayonet lug “PAT.APPL.FOR”. “US” over flaming ordnance bomb on the right side of the receiver just ahead of the ejection port. No other military markings on gun. Correct CYL choked barrel. Barrel is correctly grooved under the heat shield for the retaining screws, and shows no evidence of having had a barrel mounted front sight or any shortening. Butt has proper style sling swivel. CONDITION: Very good, with about 70% amount of original deep blued finish mixed with a pleasing patina and some light old surface rust. All markings are clear. Bore is shiny with some minor areas of roughness. Wood has some dings and handling marks, varnish wear on the butt. Original buttplate. Fine mechanical function. GR 3,000 - 5,000

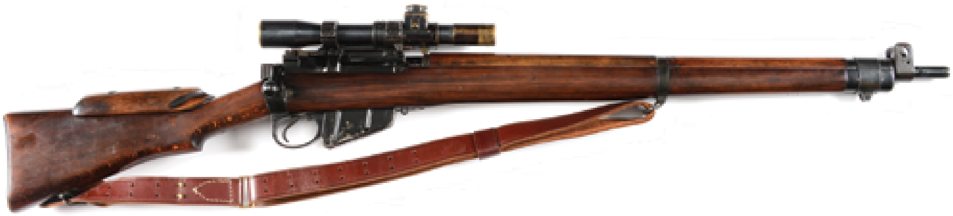
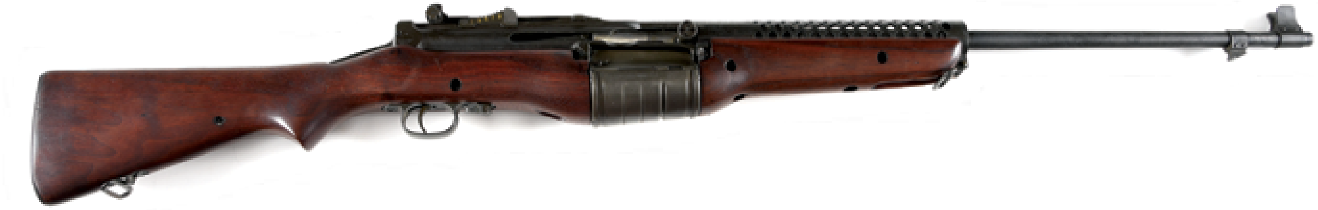
1316 - (C) BRITISH BSA LEE-ENFIELD NO. 4 MK. I (T) BOLT ACTION .303 SNIPER RIFLE.
Manufacturer: British
Model: Lee-Enfield No. 4T
Serial No. 364
Caliber/Bore: .303 British
Barrel Length: 25 - 1/4”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



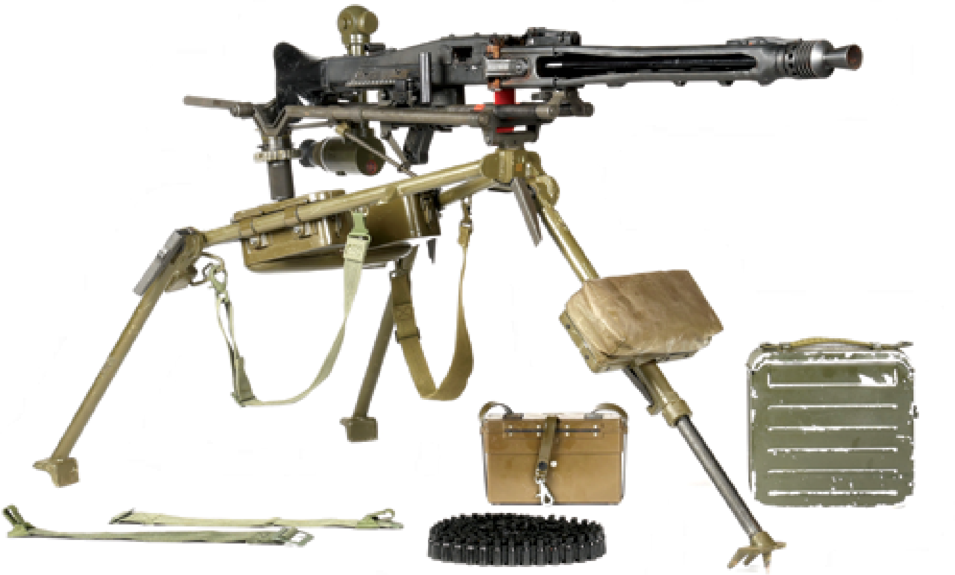
Standard No.4 Mk.I (T) sniper rifle configuration. Cheek rest on top of stock comb. “M47C” marked on the left side of the butt socket for BSA manufacture. Dated 1943. Matching numbers on the forend, bolt, magazine, and receiver socket. The scope number does not match the number stamped in the wood just behind the receiver, which was lined out and stamped with a second number. No. 32 Mk. III scope made by H.B.M.Co. Equipped with a commercial brown leather sling. CONDITION: Fine with 90% original finish overall and light handling marks. Wood is very good with minor handling marks, appears to have been very lightly refinished. Bore is fine with sharp rifling. Fine mechanical function. Black line in glass at bottom, that may be a crack in one of the lenses. Otherwise clear with standard magnification. GR 3,000 - 4,000



1317 - (C) FINE JOHNSON M1941 SEMI AUTOMATIC RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Johnson
Model: M1941
Serial No. A1318
Caliber/Bore: .30-06
Barrel Length: 22"
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

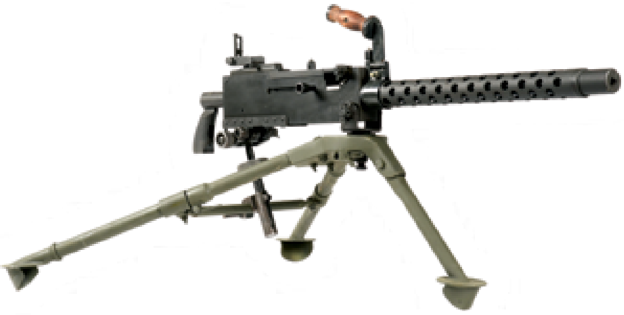
Fine example of a Johnson M1941 semi automatic rifle. Made under contract by Cranston Arms Co. of Rhode Island. Standard patent dates and "CAL. 30-06 Semi Auto/ JOHNSON AUTOMATICS / MODEL OF 1941 / MADE IN PROVIDENCE, R.I., U.S.A.", on top of the receiver. Receiver is numbered "A1318", while the bolt is numbered "A3626". Barrel is marked "30-06/41". Rear sight marked "M2" on the left hand side with elevation adjustment to 1000 meters. Metal retains its original parkerized finish. Walnut stock with original light oil finish. Correct checkered butt plate. CONDITION: Metal retains 90% plus of its original finish with some light wear and handling marks. Wood is excellent. Bore is shiny with sharp rifling. Mechanically excellent. JWA 5,000 - 7,000

1318 - (M) WISE LITE ARMS YUGOSLAVIAN MODEL 53 SEMI-AUTOMATIC RIFLE WITH MG42 MOUNT.
Manufacturer: Wise Lite Arms
Model: M53
Serial No. WLA286783
Caliber/Bore: 8mm Mauser
Barrel Length: 26"
FFL Status: Modern



The M53 machine gun was manufactured shortly after World War II by Yugoslavia, using left over German machinery. A near identical copy of the German MG-42, the M53 differed only with it's lower rate of fire and lack of an anti-air sight. This semi-automatic example was produced by Wise Lite Arms. The left side of the receiver is marked "WISE LITE ARMS/ BOYD, TX/ MOD. AJM53/ WLA28-6783/ 8MM MAUSER". The top cover is marked with the Yugoslavian coat of arms above Cyrillic characters. This specimen is complete with an HK marked lafette tripod, tripod optic, optic light, and an ammo can containing a PKM ammo belt. CONDITION: Metal components retain ample amounts of their reapplied finish, exhibiting some wear from operation, as well as handling marks to the finish. Booster shows two fair sized indentations, which likely happened previous to it's importation. Bright bore, with well defined rifling throughout. Wood buttstock has a chip at the toe. A very nice example of a Yugoslavian M53 semi-automatic rifle. -MLW- 3,000 - 5,000

1319 - (M) CENTURY ARMS ISRAELI 1919A4 SEMI-AUTOMATIC RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Century Arms
Model: 1919A4
Serial No. CAI0400040
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x51mm NATO
Barrel Length: 21"
FFL Status: Modern



Starting in the 1960's, Israel acquired many US manufactured 1919A4 machine guns that were leftover from WWII, which they modified and converted for use for the next three decades. In the 1990's many were brought back to the United States and sold as parts kits, this being a key example. Right side of the receiver is Century Arms import stamped. Many components including the top cover, booster, receiver, etc. retain their Israeli markings, including serial numbers, "7.62" conversion marking, and the Hebrew letter "H". Receiver, bolt, and rear sight are stamped "7.62", signifying that Israel converted this specimen to fire 7.62x51mm NATO ammunition. Complete with a 1919A4 M2 tripod and traverse and elevation mechanism. CONDITION: Metal components retain the vast majority of their applied green parkerized finish, exhibiting some small scratches and handling marks. Metal components on carrying handle are finished in green paint. Mirror bore, with well defined rifling throughout. Tripod shows some cosmetic wear, but is otherwise completely functional. A very nice example of a Israeli converted 1919A4, that would attract much attention at the range. -MLW- 2,500 - 3,500

1320 - (C) NICELY ACCESSORIZED ALLIED ARMAMENT MODEL ISRAELI 1919A4 SEMI-AUTOMATIC RIFLE.

Manufacturer: Allied Armament
Model: 1919A4
Serial No. 729
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x51mm NATO
Barrel Length: 21”
FFL Status: Modern

Starting in the 1960’s, Israel acquired many US manufactured 1919A4 machine guns that were leftover from World War II, which they modified and converted for use for the next three decades. In the 1990s many were brought back to the United States and sold as parts kits, this being a key example. Bottom, interior of the right sideplate is import stamped by Allied Armament. Right side of receiver reads “NO. 729 U.S.INSP. AS/ BROWNING MACHINE GUN/ U.S.CAL.30 M1919A4/ MAN’FD BY SAGINAW STEERING GEAR DIV./ GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION”. Many components including the top cover, booster, receiver, etc. retain their Israeli markings. The receiver, bolt, and rear sight are marked “7.62” signifying that this specimen was converted to fire 7.62x51mm NATO ammunition while under Israeli ownership. This 1919A4 is very nicely accessorized, with the accessories including an extra barrel, barrel sleeve, spade grips, 1919A6 bipod, M2 tripod, a .30 caliber linking machine, and a bag of disintegrating links. Traverse and elevation mechanism and tripod pintle are not present. CONDITION: Metal components retain the vast majority of their applied green parkerized finish, exhibiting little wear and some minor cosmetic scratches. Very nice bore, with well defined rifling throughout. Overall, a nicely accessorized 1919A4, that one would be sure to enjoy at the range. -MLW-

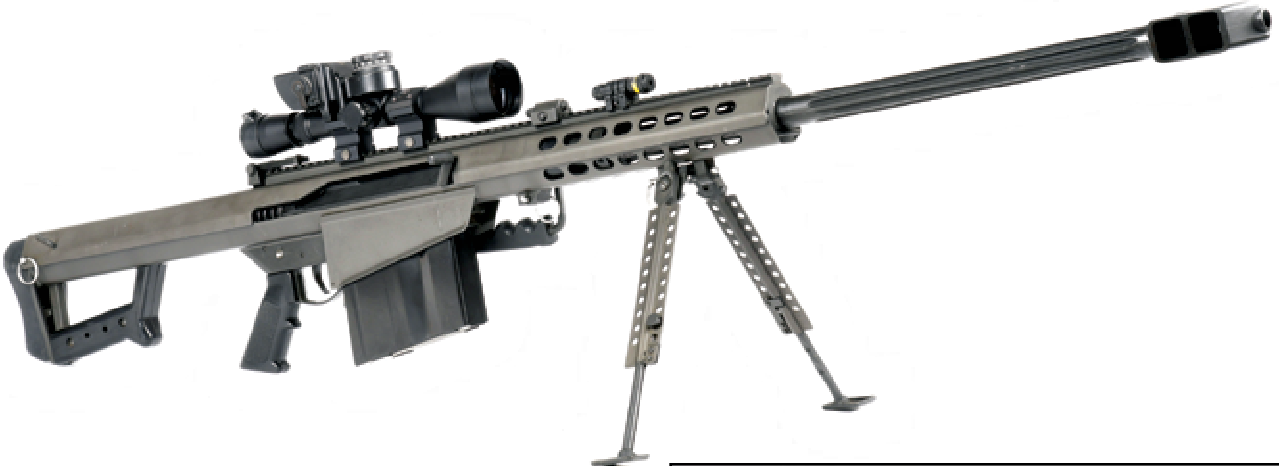
1321 - (M) NORINCO NDM-86 DRAGUNOV 7.62X54R SEMI AUTOMATIC RIFLE WITH SCOPE.

Manufacturer: Norinco
Model: NDM-86 Dragunov
Serial No. 605071
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x54R
Barrel Length: 27”
FFL Status: Modern

Classically configured Chinese made NDM-86 “Dragunov”, the most iconic of the Eastern Bloc DMRs. Scope with appropriate 1.7 meter man rangefinding scope with illuminated reticle. Matching numbers “5071” found on bolt carrier, bolt, receiver, safety lever, and gas tube. Long ventilated laminated wood two piece forearm, long flash hider with bayonet lug, laminate skeleton buttstock with clamp on cheekpiece marked “300664” on left side of grip. 1200 meter graduated rear sight, protected post front sight. Added nylon sling attached at clip near gas tube and at anchor at rear of stock. Right side marked “NORINCO / CHINA” over magazine well, import marked for China Sports Inc, out of Ontario, California on left side. Comes with two additional magazines. CONDITION: Very good with some rubbing and marks spread about the gun from handling and operation. Particular wear at optic mount, area around import mark, and dust cover. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is very good with some light frosting in the grooves. Magazines are very good, with a few minor marks from use. Scope is clear but illumination does not work and needs attention; bulb is intact, likely a battery problem. EW 5,000 - 8,000



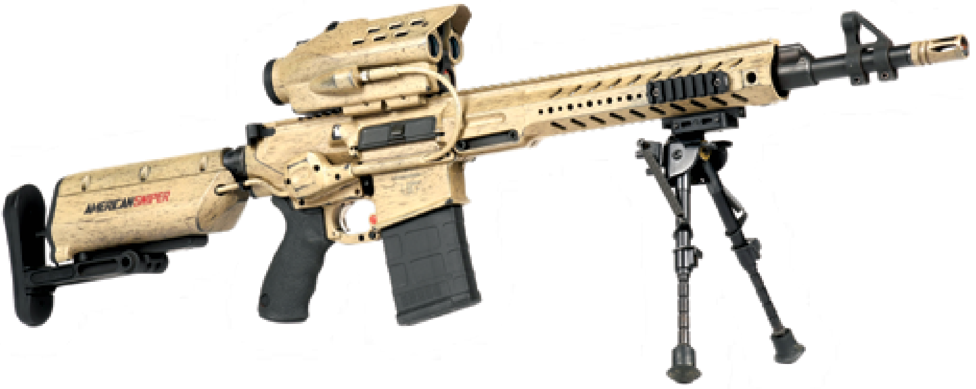
1322 - (M) BARRETT 82A1 SEMI AUTOMATIC RIFLE WITH LEUPOLD SCOPE MOUNTED WITH A BARRETT BORS SYSTEM.

Manufacturer: Barrett
Model: 82A1
Serial No. AA000683
Caliber/Bore: .50 BMG
Barrel Length: 30"
FFL Status: Modern

Black finish, 4 port arrowhead muzzle brake, fluted barrel, protected front post flip-up sight, ventilated forearm, bipod, monolithic section of rail welded on top of receiver for mounting of scope, ladder rear sight graduated out to 1500 yards, pistol grip. Currently mounted with a Leupold Mark 4 4.5-14x50 SFP scope with duplex reticle and mounted with Barrett BORS system. Housed in a Pelican 1770 with extra batteries for BORS, cleaning kit, manual for rifle and associated paperwork for BORS system, transfer wire for BORS library update, original elevation cap, and a pair of earplugs that would be of dubious help if used when shooting this rifle. CONDITION: Very good overall, with some scattered handling marks from handling, storage, and assembly. Bore has sharp rifling and a few spots of minor abrasion, bolt face is excellent with some evidence of use. Mechanics are crisp. Glass is clear, but BORS does not turn on and needs attention. A prime setup for a shooting enthusiast looking to reach out and touch something. EW 8,000 - 12,000

1323 - (M) FANTASTIC LEWIS MACHINE & TOOL TRACKINGPOINT AMERICAN SNIPER EDITION LM308MWS SEMI AUTOMATIC RIFLE SIGNED BY TAYA KYLE AS PART OF A FUNDRAISER FOR THE CHRIS KYLE FOUNDATION.

Manufacturer: Lewis Machine & Tool
Model: LM308MWS
Serial No. TP00172
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x51mm Nato
Barrel Length: 20"
FFL Status: Modern



Wonderful TrackingPoint scope mounted to a Lewis Machine and Tool LM308MWS rifle as produced by TrackingPoint with a custom camo pattern with "AMERICAN SNIPER" logo on left side of combination buttstock and battery compartment. These rifles were produced by TrackingPoint to help raise money for the Chris Kyle Foundation and a set number were auctioned off at an event put on by TrackingPoint called the American Sniper Shootout where Taya Kyle, Chris's widow, shot TrackingPoint firearms against Brian Piatt shooting standard US military firearms in a lengthy course of fire, where Taya eventually prevailed. As part of the auction, Taya signed a number of rifles. This particular rifle is signed "God Bless You! [Taya's signature] Micah 6:8" (KJV: He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?). Features a fully integrated TrackingPoint system that not only is a smart scope but is also hooked into the trigger system and bolt in such a way that the scope will inform you if the hammer is down but the bolt is forward and, in certain modes, will not allow firing if a target is not designated. Housed in a special TrackingPoint hard case with special edition sticker on front and French fitted for rifle, charger, battery, two logos, and perforated scope cover. Harris bipod, 2 Gen 3 Magpul .308 magazines. One battery. Also included is a framed set of three tickets for the event and a Crew tag. CONDITION: Excellent, showing just a few very minor handling marks. Retains virtually all of the custom finish with a few areas of rubbing at high points, mostly visible at magazine well. Signature clear and legible. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is excellent, bright and shiny with crisp rifling. Scope works appropriately and cycles through modes appropriately. Case is fine, sticker has some scuff marks. Accessories are fine. Lewis Machine and Tool provide very fine rifles, TrackingPoint proves revolutionary optics, and the association with Taya Kyle pushes this wonderful set over the top. EW 5,000 - 8,000

Barrel Length: 24”
FFL Status: Modern

Browning Model “BBR” short stroke bolt action rifle made in Japan by Miroku in 1985. Rifle is an amazing feat of gunsmithing stocked in “Petrified Wood”. Stock follows classic Reinhart Fajen “Aristocrat” stock architecture with semi-beavertail forearm and rollover cheekpiece. No buttplate. Gun has original blued Browning “Deerhead” logo detachable floorplate and trigger guard with gun not having a follower, so gun is essentially a single shot. Blued sightless factory barrel. CONDITION: 90% original blued finish with good bore. Some filler has been used to fit trigger guard and action securely. Gun operates by hand fine but safety does not have room to be locked on safe. Gun has fractures following rock crevasses with gun being weak at the wrist area with some movement. An interesting, one-of-a-kind firearm. Stippled ramp with dovetailed Marble’s brass bead front sight with flip-up moon sight. Ramp sides and perimeter engraved with florals on a punch dot background and a sprig pointing towards breech. Signed “”Owen” Saupuoit. N.Y” in English script midway down barrel. 1/6th length rib at rear with silver line express rear sight with 2 folding leaves and 1 standing leaf with no sight markings. Anti-glare stippling in leaves. Engraved around rib with same floral and punch dot backgrounds. Receiver engraved en suite with a Bull Moose head over fore ring. Case colored bolt stop engraved with punch lined borders and florals. “850”, possibly Owen control number, stamped in bolt cut. Lyman All-Weather Alaskan in blued Paul Jaeger QD mount. Bolt with 8 panel checkered handle, engraved en suite with rest of gun, and with engine turned body. Floorplate is wonderfully engraved likely by Kornbrath with a forested scene depicting a snarling bear and a standing elk separated by well cut floral scroll. Custom stock with with horn forearm tip, forearm with a mixture of wave and point pattern checkering with decorative smooth tendrils through checkering. Bottom metal and trigger guard engraved with floral scroll en suite with floor plate and gold inlaid initials, looks to be “EPP”. Case colored pistol grip cap with well cut scroll. Shadowline cheekpiece. Sling swivel at toe of stock and soldered to underside of barrel. Metal buttplate with fine checkering and lined borders. Vacant trap in butt where sling screw is visible. CONDITION: Very good, retaining much of an appropriate blue finish that would have been applied when converted from a 1903. There are a few minor marks from handling and operation and a few minor spots of silvering under the forearm. Receiver has a few old pits under the blue beneath the stock line. Stock is very good with some normal wear marks but nothing significant. One extremely minor chip at butt that has been repaired with wood fill. Case colors have largely faded but there are still flashes of color in a few areas. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is clean with good rifling, glass is clear. A lovely early American custom rifle by one of the foremost makers. EW 5,000 - 8,000

Barrel Length: 28”
FFL Status: Antique
Length of Pull: 14 - 3/8”
Drop at Heel: 2 - 1/4”
Drop at Comb: 1 - 1/2”

Manufactured 1879. Silver tipped blade front sight on smooth, straight, solid, matte rib with interrupting smooth portion with “J. Purdey, 314 - 1/2, Oxford Street, London.” Rear sight is an express sight with one standing leaf for 70 yards with white pointer and anti-glare serrations, folding sight for 200 yards with express silver line. Bottom of barrels have serial numbers, barrel flats with appropriate London proofs. Sling eye soldered onto bottom rib. Breeches are relieved for sideclips. Small splinter forend with Anson release, checkered in point pattern. Exterior are engraved with tight scroll work. Interior of iron with serial number. Underlever rotary opener. Lever and receiver engraved in traditional English rose and scroll. Top of fences signed “Patent” between strikers. Action flats with appropriate British proofing. Fish form hammers on backaction locks engraved en suite with English style push on safeties. Lock signed “J. Purdey and Sons.” Serial number on full length pistol grip tang which terminates with a metal engraved buttplate. Sling eye and gold oval along belly. Shadowline cheekpiece. Three quarters checkered buttplate with charge data on back indicating a 3 7/8 dram charge of No. 6 powder. Weight of rifle is 8 Lbs. 12 oz. Housed in a leg of mutton case. CONDITION: Very good as partly rehabilitated. Barrels retain much of a good, quality rebrown with some minor handling marks. A few spots of silvering and a few pings both above and beneath finish. Forearm is very good, with some abrasions to checkering and marks throughout. A few good dings to checkering. Receiver and action are very good, case colors have all but completely faded with a few of the most minor flashes in the most protected areas. Lever, trigger guard, and hammers are reblued and retain most of that rebluing with a few minor marks. Stock is very good with marks from use throughout including a few good dents on right side. An added layer of oil or other preservative has smoothed out checkering somewhat. Buttplate has sharp checkering and retains most of what appears to be with its original blue mixing with some patina mostly towards top. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand. Bores are very good although there is significant softness to the edges of the lands. As caliber is unmarked, a chamber cast will need to be completed before firing to determine precise caliber. Leg of mutton case with several areas of scuffing and bruising, with tenderness to cover where it flexes during opening; exercise caution when using. Strap and handle are good. Brass buckle with mottling on face. A neat lot that is sure to have been together for quite some time. EW/CP 8,000 - 12,000

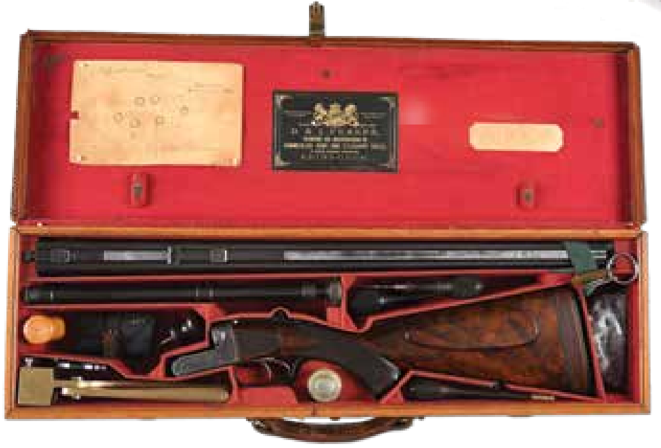
Drop at Comb: (Approx) 1 - 7/8”



Circa 1888. Nicely blacked 26 Inch steel dovetail lump barrels with third fastener dolls head extension, partially file cut matted full length rib reading “D & J FRASER / 4 LEITH STREET TERRACE / EDINBURGH” in smooth area, raised island for tipped bead front sight, and small sprigs of scroll coming off of matting. Scope mounts for mounting a Fraser scope with soft eye piece that is mounted with a compressible spring to prevent scope eye by an inexperienced shooter. Tube engraved “D & J Fraser / GUN & RIFLE MAKERS / EDINBURGH” and “SOLE PATENTEES & MANUFACTURERS”. Double thin duplex reticle, likely regulated for 100 and 200 yards. Inside of dovetail mount with “1637”, matching serial number of rifle. High visibility deluxe express sight with fixed 100 yard standing sight with triangle that appears may possibly be ivory and folding silver lined 200 yard sight. Light line engraving at breeches. Barrel and action flats with London proofs, action flats also has the Anson & Deeley patent use number of 7661. Friction fit forend with point pattern checkering and lightly engraved metal inset at tip, serrated for easier finger placement. Boxlock action engraved with well executed scrolls and vintage case colored hardened on sides, maker’s name in banner on both sides, engraved scrolls on blued action bottom. Well executed lined borders. Matching engraved fences. Double triggers, both with checkered blades, in a blued flat profile trigger guard with long tang running to dark pistol grip cap, disk set strikers and bolted automatic safety. English walnut stock with checkered side panels. Pistol grip with point pattern checkering. Toe line of stock with inlaid heraldic shield with “EBA” initials. Stock terminates in a spliced horn buttstock with red rubber recoil pad between the two halves with insert of “spear” at heel. Cheekpiece on left side of buttstock. Sling eyes at toe line and soldered to bottom rib. Housed in a leather case with Fraser trade label in lid, cartridge information, and a test target signed by Fraser but unnumbered and dated 1890. Accessories comprise reloading tools, cleaning tools, and a small bag of recently cast lead hollow point bullets. Weight: 7 lbs 12 oz without scope, 8 lbs 9 oz with scope. CONDITION: Very Good. Barrels retain 85-90% of their blacking with minor marks from handling and operation. Forend with a 7/8” sliver missing at checkering bordered line and some minor handling marks. Action is very good with crisp engraving and vibrant colors that are starting to fade. Stock is very good with some slight marking throughout and one distinct pressure mark on right side of stock; there are two chips missing at the underside of the stock near trigger plate. Rubber recoil pad has crystallized. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, is tight on face, bores are very good with bright rifling. Case is very good with some scuffs and rubs to exterior (straps missing). Accessories are very good to fine with some evidence of use. Fraser is widely regarded as one of the foremost rifle makers of his time and this example is no exception! CP 12,500 - 17,500

Weight: 7 lbs. 5 oz.

Chopper lump barrels with brass bead-on-post front sight on island with light floral bordering around proximity, smooth slope to a stippled spearpoint. Smooth concave rib inlaid in gold “KARL Hauptmann - Ferlach”. Approximately 1/3rd length rear right with stippled spearpoint, rear sight with single gold express line and anti-glare matting. QD scope mount with starbursts, rib engraved with sprigs of florals with gold accents, which extends over breeches, which also sport a gold line. Rib of breech with more starburst. Barrel flats with Belgian proofs, 233216 serial number, and “COT”. Forend with Deely release engraved at release and exterior of iron with acanthus scroll and roses on a blackened stippled ground, with gold accents throughout. Disc set strikers. Reinforced scalloped back boxlock action with engraved with gold accented acanthus scroll on a blackened stippled ground. Non-automatic safety with top tang running over comb. Gold washed double triggers, front set, in a flat profile trigger guard with long tang running to skeleton buttcap engraved en suite. Left side of trigger guard with engravers signature “armin bundschuh”. Skeleton grip cap with centrally set gold oval engraved “EA” on stippled ground. Wonderful Turkish walnut stock terminates in Hauptmann black recoil pad. Sling swivels on underside of rib and belly of stock. Mounted with a Swarovski 1-6x SFP scope with illuminated reticle with two power settings for daytime and nightime use. Scope rings clearly engraved by the same hand who did the rifle, with identical gold accented pattern. Housed in a cobblestone pattern Hauptmann case with blue lining and trade label in lid. French fitted to hold gun and accessories with comprise pulllthrough, Swarovski cap and cap turn. Paperwork in case included Swarovski manual, Swarovski glass cleaning kit, Hauptmann laminated target, catalog, and invoice dated June 30th, 2016 for rifle and 400 rounds. CONDITION: Very good. Barrels retain virtually all of their bluing with one distinct area under the forearm where some kind of chemical wormed it’s way in, as there is an area of discoloration and roughness that is mirrored on the interior of iron; some minor handling marks. Forearm is very good with some pressure marks and handling marks. Receiver is excellent, engraving is crisp and highly attractive. Stock is very good with some handling marks, mostly towards rear, including a few deeper dings on left side of stock, a miniscule chip along belly, rub at toe. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bores are excellent with strong rifling. Glass is clear, throws smoothly, and illumination works appropriately. Case is fine. A wonderful double rifle in a great caliber. EW

FFL Status: Curio & Relic
Length of Pull: 14 - 1/2"
Drop at Heel: Approx 2 - 9/16"
Drop at Comb: Approx. 1 - 7/8"
Weight: 7 lbs.

Extremely late production, with patent number 972, within the very last (third before the end) of these rifles produced. Jonathan Kirton, one of the foremost researchers on single shot rifles discusses this rifle in some length in "The British Falling Block Breech Loading Rifle from 1865", pgs. 136-138. Kirton shares details from factory ledger on production of rifle, which included over 670 hours before engraving. Additionally, it is known that this rifle was made for J. Hamilton Leigh, shipped August 25, 1910; Kirton also owned this particular rifle, and it is one of the progenitors of his research. Sleeved on front sight with fire blued sight cover on a bead front sight. Sling eye soldered on underside of barrel. Sleeved on silver line rear sight with one standing sight with no range indicator, two folding leaves for 300 and 500 yards. Forearm checkered with point pattern. Top of barrel with "George Gibbs, Bristol / & 35 Saville Row, London, W.". Classic Farquharson falling block action with two screws visible and case colored with extensive well cut medium sized scroll engraving and lined florals. Birmingham Nitro proofs for 280. Single checkered trigger. Unusual on a Gibbs Farquaharson, automatic tang safety with "SAFE" inlaid in gold. Receiver ring with 972 patent use number, serial number is located just behind trigger guard, 20204. Metal pistol grip cap with trap and "13 / 845" (Africa registry number) stamped into wood behind. Wrist checkered in point pattern. Nicely marbled and lightly figured stock with sling eye and vacant oval escutcheon along belly. Tacked on leather cheekpiece, believed to have been added by Leigh during his Kenya trip, as another gun known to have accompanied him, patent number 970, has a similar pad installed. Orange recoil pad has crystallized. Canvas wrapped case with brass corners and leather lining and wine colored interior and accessories comprising cleaning rod with head, sling, original case strap, 2 snap caps, Lightwood square oil bottle, two screw drivers, bone cylinder marked on bottom with ".280 / No 972" with extra front sights and screws, combination wrench and pin depresser, small leather wallet with ".280 // Rarquharson / Sporting Rif;e / No 972" with two spare firing pins (1 tip broken) mainspring, link, and a wrapped empty ammo box of Kynoch .280 Flanged NE rounds with "From Greener Collection" on rear of box. Small piece of paper with what appears to be bullet data on it. Gibbs trade label in lid. CONDITION: Very good with some honest wear areas. Heavily silvered at the balance point where gun would have been carried. Some silvering to high edges. Some spotting to metal. Receiver retains the majority of case coloring with crisp engraving, some losses on perimeter of metal with more case colors retained at protected areas. Wood is very good with similar marks from a life of use but no discernible cracks or splits; 2 good sized dents on right side of butt near heel. Checkering somewhat smoothened. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bore is excellent, bright and shiny, with crisp rifling. Accessories are very good with marks commensurate with gun. Case is very good with some scuffs and edge wear. Straps replaced, handle very good with tenderness at loops; exercise caution. A lovely gun with plenty of condition and a lifetime of use! Manufacturer: T.H. Bourke
Model: Single Barrel Shotgun
Barrel Length: 21”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 16 GA

Extremely intriguing swing out shotgun with the only marking being “T.H. Bourke” on right and left sides of gun. T.H. Bourke can neither be found or located as a gunsmith. Gun is a one of a kind shotgun with swing out Damascus barrel with large silver machine type screw as sight. Gun also has tube under barrel which houses a triangular bayonet that pushes forward and latches in place with a spring loaded latch. Case hardened frame with hammer shaped like a rabbit. Swingout mechanism is controlled by a lever at the front of the trigger guard. Walnut checkered pistol grip stock with smooth steel buttplate and brass “OWL” grip cap. CONDITION: 40% trace of Damascus barrel scene with other metal parts fading to a silvery patina. Wood has trace of original finish with light handling marks. Pitted bore with good mechanics. An extremely interesting piece. DLM 3,000 - 5,000

Serial number 21158. Caliber 12 gauge, 12 gauge X 8x75R, 8x75R X 8x75R. 28-1/4" over/under shotgun barrels, 25-1/2" rifle/shotgun barrels, and 26" double rifle barrels, are all of demi-bloc construction, Bohler steel, and are engraved "Gebruder Merkel Suhl" and "Suhler Waffenwerk" on breech ends, with some floral engraving. All are stamped with Suhl nitro proofs with date of August 1933. Rear lumps are stamped with Merkel logos. Double shotgun and rifle/shotgun barrels have full length solid matted ribs, and double rifle barrels have matted quarter rib and matted front sight base. Quarter rib of rifle barrels are fitted with three claw scope bases and a single standing U-notch rear sight. Rifle/shotgun barrels have two claw bases and a rear sight which can be flipped up for rifle use. Sling loops are soldered to bottoms of bottom barrels. Coin finished ogee backed Blitz double Kersten over/under action features non-automatic top tang safety (S inlaid in gold), pin type cocking indicators, and double triggers (front set). Action is engraved with near full coverage nicely cut simple scroll with some floral highlights on bottom surrounding well rendered game scenes as typical quarry for this combination gun; a roaring stag and two hinds in woodland are on left, with a roe deer and doe in foreground on right side; a pair of mallards flush from marsh in background. Reinforcing bolsters are exceptionally well relief engraved in acorn and oak leaves. Bottom of action is engraved "SUHLER WAFFENWERK" "D. R. P" "GEBRUDER MERKEL SUHL". Steel trigger guard has more scroll on bow surrounding semi-relief engraved vignette of auerhahn calling while perched on branch. Serial number is on tang. Well marbled and lightly fiddle figured European walnut round knob pistol grip buttstock measures 14-3/8" over beaded rib embossed horn buttplate with Merkel logo. Forends are of three piece design, with one bottom piece with ejector and Deeley release, servicing all three barrel sets. Bottom rear of this forend has inlet silver circle with high relief rendering of Goering's well known crest, having raised mailed fist holding a ring. This is surmounted by a knight's helm with surrounding acanthus scroll. Above the helm is another mailed fist flanked by wings signifying the Luftwaffe. Although not specified on ledger page, this crest plate has been in place for a very long time, as the amount of wear visible including continuation of scratches, grime, etc. is entirely commensurate with the remainder of gun. OU Shotgun: Bore diameter: top -.729, bottom – .729. Bore restrictions: top – .042 (full), bottom – .027 (mod). Wall thickness: top – .024, bottom – .021. Drop at heel: 3-1/16", drop at comb: 1-9/16". Cast 1/4" off. Weight: 6 lbs. 8 oz. LOP: 14-3/8". Rifle/ Shotgun BBLS: Bore diameter: top -.728. Bore restrictions: top – .046 (extra full)). Wall thickness: top – .023. Drop at heel: approx 3-3/16", drop at comb: approx 1-3/4". Weight: 7 lbs. 6 oz. LOP: 14-3/8". DBL RIFLE BBLS: Drop at heel: approx 3-1/4", drop at comb: approx 1-3/4". Weight without scope: 8 lbs. 4 oz. LOP: 14-3/8". This system comes with three scopes, all by Zeiss, with a 2-1/2 X Zielmar with crosshair and post reticle fitted to the rifle/shotgun barrels; with a Zielvier with three post and small central dot reticle, as well as a Zielsechs with same reticle fitted to double rifle barrels. It is interesting to note that the Zielvier is the only scope mentioned on the ledger page, and is listed by serial number. (There are some indecipherable later notes relating to telescopes.) Brown leather case with riveted on brass corners and central brass rectangle is lined in bluish green cloth, and has leather Merkel label in lid, and has correct partitions for each barrel set, action, and all three telescopes. Accessories include high quality green canvas and leather sling, and some cleaning brushes. There is also a yellow box of DWM 8x57R cartridges. PROVENANCE: Color scan of original ledger page with original specifications with red ink notation "Herman Goering" and with date 1933 outlined in red. Letter from Dick A. King, Col USA Retd to Mr. A. J. Flood in which he states "Mr. Grover Wilson of the Zellerbach Paper Co, Spokane, Wash. who was G-2 of the 3rd Infantry Division and I, as G-4, obtained all of Herman Goering's guns in his home in the village of Berchtesgaden. It was quite an experience as Emma, Herman's wife was there at the time. Since Grover was more interested in his cameras, liquor, etc; I naturally spent my time with the guns. I gave two to Maj. Gen Iron Mike O-Daniel commanding the division, Wilson has two, Iron Mike gave one to Gen. Eisenhower and one to Lt Gen Ham Haislip. I gave one to Charles E. Johnson who was chief of staff, and I kept the best 5." "This combination was the only one with the English box leather fitted case, and by far the most valuable, as well as being Herman Goering's favorite." Orig "Certificate" relating to shipping of this combination gun and scopes back to US. Description of this rifle and appraisal value by R. L. Wilson. Various invoices and auction listings pertaining to this gun. Hand written note from past owner Hunter Von Leer relating his knowledge of the history of this gun, as well as a GUNS magazine article entitled "The Guns of Hunter Von Leer" where this gun is pictured and described. Encyclopedia Britannica information on Herman Goering, and a picture of Herman Goering carrying a rifle similar to this one. Various photographs of this rifle and some background information of Hunter Von Leer. Ex collections: Lt. Col. Dick A. King to Mr. A. J. Flood to Hunter Von Leer to Cherry's to Richard "Stretch" Kennedy and through Amoskeag Auction Co to present consignor? CONDITION: Excellent, original, as found. Barrels retain over 90% original blue, with most wear noticeable on double rifle barrels. Action retains most of its original French grey, pleasingly silvered on high edges. Top lever retains over 90% of its blue, silvered on checkered thumbpiece. Trigger guard retains 30–40% of its original blue, silvered and thinned on bow, considerably so on tang. Stocks retain most of their original hand rubbed oil finish with some dings and marks, some fairly deep, checkering somewhat worn, especially on left side of forend, undoubtedly from when rifle was carried slung over one shoulder. All bores are excellent. Action is tight. Ejectors work well, as does set trigger. Scopes are fine retaining approx 70% of their original blue. Zielmar is a bit better. Optics are relatively clear. Case leather has some stains and many marks along with some tape marks. Strap and handle are good, but a bit tender. Interior cloth has many compressions and rubs, some through in barrel channels. One or two partitions have been restored with bright green cloth. Leather label is considerably rubbed at bottom left. Accessories are good. 75,000 - 100,000

Internal Bore Diameter: .672
Weight: 7 lbs. 9 0z

Pre-war beautifully engraved full sidelock “Neptune Grade” Krieghoff Double Rifle Drilling built by Sempert & Krieghoff, Suhl, Germany in 1930 for Arthur Seyss-Inquart. Seyss-Inquart is best remembered for being a prominent Nazi politician, assigned as the Chancellor of Austria prior to the Anschluss, after which he became the governor of the newly formed Ostmark. In May of 1940, Seyss-Inquart was moved to the Netherlands, where he was appointed Reichskommisar. In the Netherlands Seyss-Inquart ruled with an iron fist, forcing over a half million Dutch citizens into forced labor, the expulsion of Jews from the government (including deportation to Buchenwald and Auschwitz). Seyss-Inquart was obviously well thought of as a Nazi and a politician because after Hitler’s suicide, his last will and testament names Seyss-Inquart as the new Foreign Minister. Inquart was captured in 1945 by two Royal Welsh Fusiliers, after which was tried at Nuremberg and hanged for war crimes. Gun features Krupp Steel barrels in rare double rifle with 16 gauge shotgun barrel configuration with rare offset same caliber rifle barrels with rifle barrels at 3:00 and 6:00 o’clock positions. Gun marked with import stamp “Simpson LTD G’thsburg, ILL.”. Barrels are of rare shorter than normal length being 21-5/8” long. Barrels have raised matted rib with fine bead blade front sight with fixed notched rear sight and rib is notched for clamp mount scope. Coin finished game scene and floral chisel engraved sidelock receiver with game birds and deer and side clips. Gun has barrel selector switch on left side to switch from rifle to shotgun. Blued external cocking lever on left side with double triggers, front being a set trigger. Gun has cocking indicators with opening lever having “S I” in gold for Seyss-Inquart. European walnut fine checkered pistol grip stock with Bakelite grip cap and buttplate. Stock has floral pattern engraved bullet trap with push-button opening lever. Walnut fine checkered splinter forearm with ebony inlay and engraved latch release. PROVENANCE: Gun comes with complete biography of Arthur Seyss-Inquart and documentation from The Royal Netherlands Army & Arms Museum, Netherlands, of gun being on display there in an exhibit of several personal items of Seyss-Inquart’s. CONDITION: Overall good with 90% original blue 90% action finish with 80%+ hand-rubbed finish with some handling marks and dings. Good bores and mechanics. Gun should be checked by trained gunsmith to confirm exact caliber. DLM 10,000 - 20,000

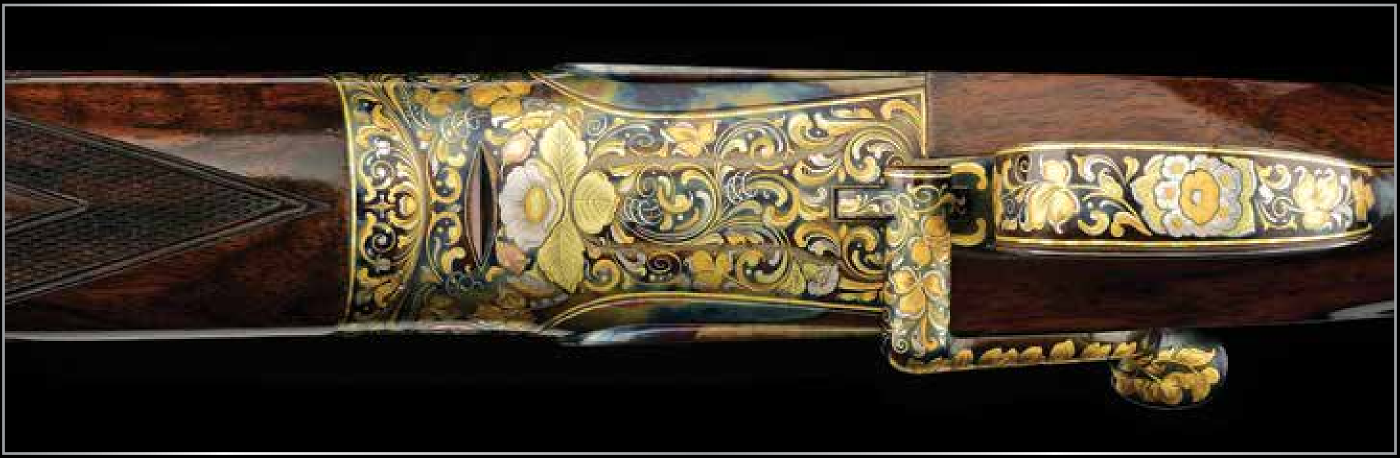
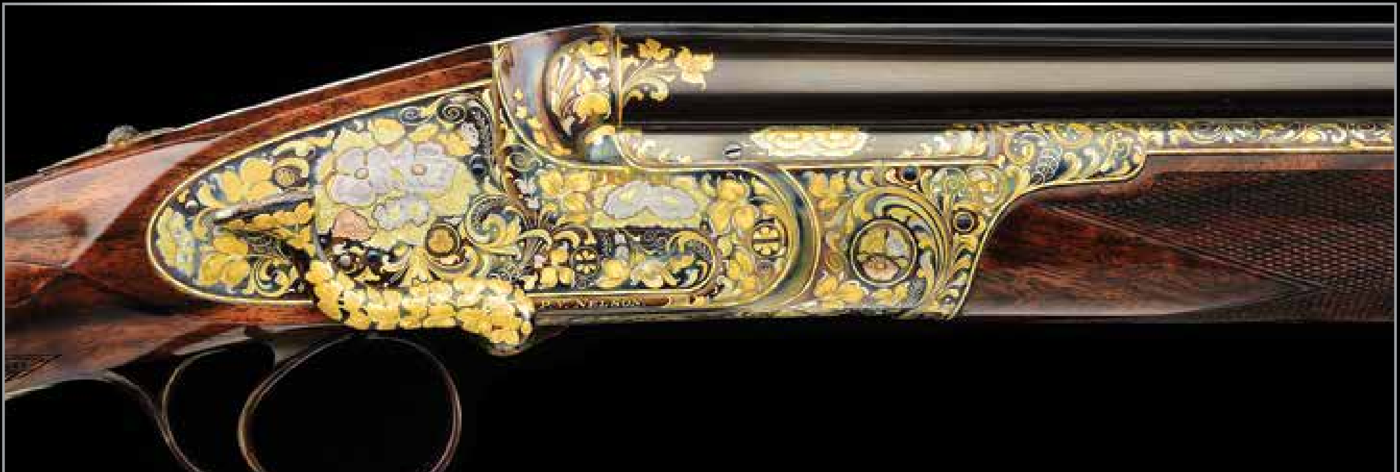
Weight: 5 lbs. 14 oz.





This extraordinary example of art in craftsmanship is made by Peter V. Nelson, who is known to be one of the U.K.'s greatest gunmakers. This amazing shotgun was built for the Queen's Golden Jubilee with London proofs in 1999 and built with 28" demi-bloc blackened steel over and under barrels with 2 - 3/4" chambers and ejectors. These barrels have a narrow and smooth tapered rib with dolls head, round brass bead, and adorned with elegant floral gold inlay at breech as well as just behind its front sight bead. The muzzles also have thin gold inlay bands around both barrels. The slender top rib reads in gold "TO COMMEMORATE QUEEN ELIZABETH II GOLDEN JUBILEE, JUNE 2002. BUILT BY P.V. NELSON, ENGLAND.". The bottom of the under barrel reads "THE FIRST AND LAST SIDELEVER." along with the guns serial number. The handsome and beautifully figured European oiled walnut buttstock with rich smoky figuring has a length of pull of 14 - 3/4" and is nicely complimented by drop points, golden floral adorned shield, sharp checkered English straight hand grip and a three quarter checkered butt. The signed "P. Coggan." case hardened floral scroll engraved side lever action is intricately inlaid with precious metals such as silver, gold, rose gold, and white gold. The beautiful sidelock action is signed "P.V. NELSON." on both left and right lock plates. The gun is built with a checkered auto safe slide which is also engraved and bears gold inlays. The smooth single mechanical trigger is case colored and guarded by a cast off rolled trigger guard connected to a long bottom strap (both engraved with gold inlay). The gun's game forend with Boss style wings is engraved with matching floral gold inlay and an Anson release, has sharp checkering, gold floral accents on forend escutcheon, diamond, and turnscrew. This incredible gun's original case has unfortunately been separated from the gun, and it is now housed in an associated oak and leather case that simply protects the case as stands. CONDITION: Excellent. 95%+ color on barrels. Stock and forend with light handling marks and sharp checkering. Action and hardware is excellent. Oak and leather case is also in good condition. Side note: This is very likely to be the only P.V. Nelson Sidelever Over & Under. Stunning & beautiful gun! CP 75,000 - 100,000

Circa 1990 with London proof 1989. A special pair from the house of Asprey with 28” barrels, ventilated filed game ribs, steel round front bead sight and ejectors. Top barrel on left reads “ASPREY” in gold. Top barrel on right reads “NEW BOND STREET, LONDON.”. Both sets of barrels have “1” and “2” in gold on rib at breech. Gold wire and fine scroll at breech on bolster bar. Chokes for all barrels are Improved Cylinder. European walnut stocks are configured with pistol grips, diamond point checkering, drop points, gold ovals with initials “SDH” in fancy script and checkered butts. Matching European walnut game forends with special design engraved and checkered slide release. Forend metal blued with serials numbers in gold on interior. Exterior with scrolls, gold inlay with gold crosses and the guns gold inlaid number “1” and “2”. The guns sidelock actions are case color hardened with gold inlay of cross board field, “ASPREY” in gold, fine scroll around borders, knuckle, and fences. Action bottoms with fine scroll, matching gold inlays and “ASPREY” in gold with gold inlay fancy underscore. Guns are auto-safe with “SAFE” in gold, blued single mechanical triggers. Triggers are protected by blued trigger guards with long straps and gold inlay that matches sidelock plates. Straps with fine scroll, serial numbers in gold and gold inlay border line. Top levers are blued, have fine scroll and numbered “1” and “2” in gold. Guns are accompanied by a double leather luggage case complete with leather “ASPREY” case label, gold washed oil bottle, snap caps, striker pot and horn handled turnscrews. CONDITION: Very good. (A/1) Barrels retain 97% black with slight muzzle wear and rub under forend. Stock with various but slight handling marks and a bit of finish rub on right coming off of comb. Forend with light handling marks. Action is mechanically sound, tight on face, trigger is crisp and ejectors are timed well. (B/2) Barrels retain 97% black with slight handling marks. Stock with light handling marks. Forend with light handling marks. Action is mechanically sound with barrels slightly loose. Both sets of barrel flats are stamped “A&S” which gives the idea that at least the barrels were made in Italy in the white and then finished in London. Trigger is crisp and ejectors are timed well. Case is good with some scuffing. CP 50,000 - 70,000

Internal Bore Diameter: (O) .632 (U) .630
Weight: 6 lbs. 9 oz.

30” monobloc barrels with brass bead front sight on partially vented file cut rib. Barrels marked “Alex Martin” on left sight, “Continental” on right. Marked with appropriate Italian diagnostic proofs for a 3” 20 gauge with Armi stamp and script WR. Forearm with Deely release engraved with scroll and floral petals and checkered throughout in a point pattern. Receiver is engraved with nearly 100% coverage of well executed acanthus engraving with occasional beaded scroll on a stippled ground; even the gullets are engraved in a simple line pattern and underneath the lever is engraved en suite with balance of gun. Detachable trigger plate with action mounted inside. Trigger place is largely bare with simple border. Single mechanical trigger. Automatic safety. Long trigger tang running almost to uncapped pistol grip with point pattern checkering at wrist. Spliced in buttplate with checkered butt. Housed in a leather wrapped Nizzoli case with no accessories. CONDITION: Very good as partly rehabilitated. Barrel blue has been redone forward of the monobloc, with a distinct pluming behind. There are a few handling marks throughout, including a few very minor spots of silvering. Wood is very good with a few minor marks, forearm has shrunk somewhat away from iron. Receiver is very good, engraving is very attractive. Action works appropriately, ejectors are slightly out of time, bores are excellent, bright and shiny. Rear wooden buttplate has a heavy application of varnish that has softened the checkering. Case has some scuffs and rubs to exterior, interior is very good but there is a distinct area in lid where a trade label was removed at one time. A lovely engraved Scottish shotgun. EW 5,000 - 7,000

A smoky piece of European walnut is fitted with a Prince of Wales grip (semi-pistol), closely separated fine point checkering, steel engraved grip cap, gold oval with initials “JRS” at belly, checkered butt with beautifully engraved heel and toe plates. A matching game forend with tightly spaced fine checkering has an Anson style push button release with engraved escutcheon and an engraved styled forend iron screw. The forend is fitted with “Boss” styled ejector springs. Coin finished action is well appointed and signed by Master Engraver “KEN HUNT”. The seven pin left lockplate is engraved with four grouse with sky and clouds over head flying over a barb wire fence in a field with foliate scroll at back of lock plate. The seven pin right lockplate is engraved with three pheasants flying through a field and over a post and beam fence, sky and clouds overhead and foliate scroll at rear of lockplate. The rest of the action frame is engraved slightly deeper with lovely floral scroll. Bottom action is also adorned with a gold inlay of a hunting dog with a duck hanging form its mouth and a bit of golden wheat grass just beneath it. Just above this reads “WATSON BROS LONDON - ENGLAND” in small gold inlay. The non auto safety with “Safe” in gold action; single mechanical trigger. Trigger is protected by a cast off rolled edged trigger guard which extends itself to a full length engraved strap. This fine gun is accompanied by a leather makers case with canvas outer, snap caps and oil bottle. CONDITION: Very good, barrels retain 98% black with very slight handling marks. Stock and forend in very good condition with a few minor handling marks. Action is mechanically sound with strong ejectors, is on face and trigger is crisp. Engraving is excellent. Case is also very good. Lovely gun. CP 30,000 - 50,000

(1925) 29" chopper lump barrels are engraved with Dickson's name and Edinburgh address on narrow swamped game ribs. Rear portions of ribs are gold inlaid "1" and "2" which also appears on top levers, and forend tips denoting a true pair. These guns are also listed as a pair in "John Dickson & Son; The Round Action Gunmaker" by Donald Dallas. Barrel flats are stamped with London nitro proofs along with 1989 London re-proofs at .736 and 2 - 1/2" chambers. Round bodied trigger plate case hardened actions (patent use numbers 1616 and 1617) feature automatic safeties (SAFE inlaid in gold), pivoting third fasteners, and double triggers. Actions are engraved with 90% coverage classic rose and scroll, with very fine shading and detail as done by the Sumner engravers of London. Maker's name is on each side of action, and bottoms are engraved "DICKSON'S PATENT". Blued trigger guards with rose and scroll on bows have serial numbers in semi-relief on tangs. Somewhat matched European walnut straight grip buttstocks are classically styled with point pattern checkering at grips and gold ovals on toe lines engraved "L. N. R." Gun "1" is of fiddle figured and well marbled European walnut, and measures 14 - 5/8" over ribbed wood butt on 5/8" extension. Gun no. "2" is of lightly marbled and figured European walnut measures 14 - 3/4" over checkered wood butt with no extension. Matching splinter forends have Anson releases. On round action guns the ejector mechanism is housed and tripped within the action body itself. The Dickson ejector system is very strong and reliable and was copied by Ruger for use in their "Gold Label" guns. When acting only as extractors, unfired cartridges are lifted 1/2" from chambers. Guns are housed in what appears to be their original two-gun leather case embossed "L. NEIL ROBERTSON" on central rectangle. Interior is lined in blue green velvet, and has blue printed paper Dickson & Son 63 Princes Street label in lid (used from 1920 - 1928). Bottom compartment is separated by dust flap, and has space for both guns and barrels, and contains a brass and ebony two piece cleaning rod, Dickson marked square oil bottle, and two old hinge pins. CONDITION: Very good, as refurbished, most likely at time of re-proof. Barrels retain over 95% "best" re-black, engraving on ribs almost unreadable. Actions retain traces of original case hardening color where protected, around fences, and on trigger plates, balance a fine pewter gray, all engraving remains clear. Top levers and trigger guards re-blued and retain nearly all of that blue, engraving is somewhat softened. Stocks retain nearly all of a hand rubbed oil finish over some old marks, and with a few subsequent nicks and dings. Checkering is somewhat worn, dirty, and does not appear to have been re-cut, except for a "repair" to a dent on forend of gun "2". Bores are excellent. Actions are tight. Barrels are on face. Ejectors are strong and slightly out of time on both guns. Case leather is still relatively light in color, and has quite a few bumps and rubs on edges. Straps and handle are good, but losing top grain. Interior cloth is very good to fine with some bumps, rubs, and cuts. Label is very fine with some light foxing toward top. Partitions are good. Dust flap has cloth worn through and piping missing at edges. Accessories are good. 20,000 - 30,000

(ca 1905) 28” Dovetailed barrels. Barrels of gun no. “1” are unmarked. Barrel flats are stamped with Birmingham nitro proofs for 2 - 1/2” chambers. Bottoms of barrels are stamped “MADE IN ENGLAND”. Barrels of gun no. “2” are engraved “Joseph Lang & Son 102 New Bond Street London” on narrow, swamped, game rib. Rear portion of rib is engraved “2”. Barrel flats are stamped with London nitro proofs for 1 - 1/8 oz of shot. Guns were originally made as a true pair, with numbers also engraved on top levers and forend tips. Case hardened sidelock actions are stocked to the fences, and feature automatic safeties (SAFE inlaid in gold), deeply engraved line tumbler end cocking indicators, pivoting third fasteners, and double triggers. Action and locks are engraved with about 60% coverage well cut, varying sized scroll. “Joseph Lang & Son” is on each lockplate. Scroll engraved top levers and trigger guards are blued. Serial numbers are on short tangs. Fairly well matched, nicely streaked European walnut straight grip buttstocks measure 14 - 1/8” over ribbed wood butts, and feature classic drop points, flat top point pattern checkering, and vacant gold ovals on toe lines. Matching splinter ejector forends have Anson releases. What may be original makers two gun oak and leather case with brass corners, is lined in green cloth, and has gold embossed reddish brown leather Lang label in lid. Case contains two piece walnut and brass cleaning rod with mop and jag in black morocco wallet, with another wallet containing pull through cleaning kit. CONDITION: Good. Newer barrels of gun “1” retain most of their original blue with considerable silvering from normal hand wear. Barrels of gun “2” retain approx 60% of an old re-blue, engraving considerably thinned. Actions retain slight traces of their original case hardening color where protected, but are nearly all pewter gray, engraving still clear. Stocks retain most of an old oil refinish, sharp edges rounded, checkering worn. Bores are excellent, with some light striations in gun “2”. Actions are tight. Barrels of gun “1” are on face, “2” very slightly off face. Ejectors are strong and in time. Case leather is very dark, and scuffed, with some rubs through. One strap is missing. Replacement strap and handle are good. Interior cloth is very good. 10,000 - 20,000

A remarkable Italian gun made circa 2006 with blued steel 28” side by side chopper lump barrels with cross hatched cut concave tapered game rib and round brass front bead. Barrels are built with automatic ejectors. Top of the left barrel reads “Flli BERTUZZI ITALY”. Bottom of barrels with normal identification marks of origin, proof marks, and weight. This lovely gun is appropriately fitted with a marbled honey colored stock, finely checkered English style straight hand grip, fully fine checkered butt and with a LOP of 14 - 7/8”. This “Gullwing” full sidelock game gun is engraved with fine and beautiful Bulino engraving of game dogs and game birds surrounded by full coverage ornamental scroll. This incredible gun’s engraving is by the master engraving house of “Torcoli Inc.” and signed by “G. Ferraglio”. The double triggers with front being articulated are guarded by a fully engraved cast off rolled trigger guard with long bottom strap. The action is supported by a fully engraved/stippled top lever and a stippled non-auto safe slide which is also the operating mechanism for the “Gullwing” feature. The lovely engraved action bottom abuts the guns finely checkered and matching splinter forend which carries an Anson styled release as well as the gold “Flli Bertuzzi” crest.
This handsome gun comes with the makers case by Nizzoli. CONDITION: Excellent. Barrels retain 95%+ blue with a couple of small abrasions. Stock and forend with some handling marks, overall very good. The guns case shows some wear and handling marks, but overall is in very good condition. Overall an incredible gun. CP 60,000 - 90,000

Circa 1976 with London proofs in ‘75. A very rare matched set. This is a set of four 12 bore sidelock ejector side by side game guns with consecutive serial numbers which all have 28” chopper lump blacked steel barrels with smooth concave tapered game ribs and round steel bead front sights. Ribs read “J. PURDEY & SONS. AUDLEY HOUSE. SOUTH AUDLEY STREET . LONDON. ENGLAND.”. Barrels are numbered on rib at breech in gold 1, 2, 3, and 4; all have 2 - 3/4 inch chambers. Chokes: (1/A) L .010 - IC, R .006 - Skeet (2/B) L: .010 - IC, R: .006 - Skeet (3/C) L: .018 - Modified R: .005 - Skeet (4/D) L: .018 - Modified R: .006 - Skeet. Bottom on all sets of barrels have their individual serial numbers, loop (tube) numbers, “A.H” is also stamped on bottom of the barrels. All sets of barrel flats are stamped with the appropriate London proof marks, nitro proof, chamber size 2 - 3/4”, gauge 12 in diamond and 3 - 1/4 tons. The guns are built on the Patent Beesley stocked to the fences actions with handsome case colors, disc set strikers, bladed tumbler cocking indicators, auto safe (SAFE in gold), double case colored triggers, top levers with gold numbers and Purdey assisted opening. All four guns with nicely figured French walnut stocks, English straight grips, drop points, fine 26 line per inch checkering, gold ovals and checkered butts. Matching splinter forends with Anson push button releases and gold numbered escutcheons compliment these handsome gun stocks. The sidelock actions and hardware are handsomely case colored with full coverage traditional rose and scroll engraving, J. Purdey & Sons name is engraved on the bottom of each lock plate as well as on the action bottom. These four guns are housed in two J. Purdey & Sons motor cases with canvas outer covers, cleaning rods, selvyt cloth, striker key, and J. Purdey & Sons cleaning accessories. As an added benefit for those rainy days this incredible set also comes with an additional set of 4 custom 29” chopper lump steel barrels made by the Spanish maker Armas Garbi and come in their very own travel case. All built with 2 - 3/4 inch chambers and choke dimensions of: (A/1) L: .013 - IC, R:.005 - Skeet (B/2) L: .014 - IC, R:.005 - Skeet, (C/3) L:.026 - IM, R:.012 - IC (D/4) L:.026 - IM, R:.013 - IC. In addition to this there is an extra leather case which holds all four guns. CONDITION: Very good. Barrels: (1/A) 85 percent black remaining with some age and usage wear. (2/B) 90 percent black remaining with some freckling, usage and age wear. Purdey barrel sets A & B are slightly off face. (3/C) 85 percent black remaining with some usage and age wear. (4/D) 90 percent black remaining with some usage and age wear. Purdey C & D barrel sets in good working order. All stocks and forends are in fine shape with some slightly visible handling marks. Additional barrels: 90 percent blue and have some visible signs of age and usage. All sets in good working order. Cases: Makers leather double motor cases are both in very good condition with some slight visible usage marks to the outer canvas covers. The extra barrels travel case is good with visible usage and storage marks. The extra leather case holding all four guns is in very good condition with light handling marks. Very nice and rare set. CP. 60,000 - 90,000

Circa 1922. A handsome pair of vintage and historical shotguns built for General Lord Horne then gifted to The Duke of Hamilton, Lord Steward of the Household to His Majesty King George VI and to the present Queen, who then made these his own primary game guns. These guns were built with 29” chopper lump blacked steel barrels with ejectors, smooth, tapered concave game ribs, round brass front bead sights and are numbered “1” and “2” in gold near breech. The ribs read “J. PURDEY & SONS AUDLEY HOUSE SOUTH AUDLEY STREET LONDON.” “MADE OF SIR JOSEPH WHITWORTHS FLUID PRESSED STEEL.” Bottoms of barrels are marked with their individual tube numbers “53376/53377” and “53378/53379”, “SS” (Sam Simons) the barrel maker, serial numbers and marked choke just ahead of the barrel flats on left barrel. Current chokes being Quarter (Left) and Improved Cylinder (Right). Barrel flats are marked appropriately with London Nitro Proof marks, gauge (12) and load. Barrels are supported by nicely checkered splinter walnut forend grips with Anson styled push button releases and their escutcheons are numbered “1” and “2” in gold. Exterior blacked forend iron metal on both engraved with scroll. Interiors are stamped with appropriate serial numbers, “1” and “2” and actioners initials “P.W.” for the number “1” gun and “M” for the number two gun. Patent Beasley actions with silver gray patinas, are engraved with nicely cut Purdey house style rose and scroll, as originated in the 1890’s. “J. Purdey & Sons.” is on each lockplate as well as on bottom of action over “London”. Shiny actions are built with disc set strikers, cocking indicators, auto-safes “SAFE” in gold, blacked engraved top levers numbered “1” and “2” in gold and fine checkering which wrap over wrists. Double triggers with the front being long and articulated are protected by the blacked trigger guards which have serial numbers on tangs, and extends through the English styled checkered grip. 14 - 3/4” deep smoky and marbled European walnut stocks with traditional drop points, ovals with faded engraved crests and checkered butts. Guns are accompanied by their canvas covered oak and leather trunk case and accessories of cleaning, four turnscrews, striker pot with extra strikers, J. Purdey and Sons round nickel oil bottle, 4 nickel snaps caps, cleaning tools, charge card and J. Purdey paper case label. CONDITION: Good. Barrels have 98% new black and have been “Teague” choked. The number 1 barrel’s right ejector trips upon opening. The stock and forend on the number one gun with handling marks, most being at butt of stock. The number two gun with slightly fewer handling marks, again more at butt. Butt stocks most likely have been restocked as stocks are long and figure is modern for the brace’s age. Actions are mechanically sound and triggers are crisp. Some slight wear to a few screw head slots. Case and outer cover are in good condition with some age and storage marks. Good pair of guns with a nice bit of provenance. CP 50,000 - 60,000

Circa 1908. This vintage brace consecutive numbered guns are built with 29” blacked steel barrels (dovetail lump - A/1, chopper lump - B/2) and with ejectors, smooth game concave ribs, and brass round front bead sights. Ribs are marked “1” and “2” in gold near breech and read “BOSS & CO. 13/14 CORK STREET LONDON W1”. Chokes on the (A/1) gun are Improved Cylinder and Improved Cylinder and on the (B/2) barrels are Half and Half. The bright finished sidelock ejector actions with single triggers (A/1 triple release pull), auto-safe and gold lined cocking indicators are engraved in the traditional Boss Rose bouquets and scrolls with “Boss’s Patent” just above “Boss & Co” in banner on lockplates forward of engraved and blacked trigger guards with rolled right edge and long tangs. In front of the trigger guard is engraved “Boss’s Patent / No 11278”. Top levers are marked “1” and “2” in gold on top lever and the word SAFE also in gold. Reddish brown European walnut stocks with strong straight grain have traditional straight hand grip, drop points, point pattern checkering, checkered butt and engraved gold oval. Splinter style forend with Anson style push button release. Oak & leather trunk case with outer canvas cover. The case includes the following accessories: 2 piece wooden cleaning rod, 2 Boss cleaning cloths, 4 nickel plated snap caps, and cleaning tools. The lid displays a vintage Boss paper trade label. CONDITION: Barrels benefit from reblackening and lettering on ribs are recut. Barrels retain (A/1) 93% black and (B/2) 90% black. Bores are bright. Stocks have slight handling marks, the forend tips are slightly reshaped and also have slight handling marks. Actions have crisp triggers and the ejectors are well timed. The case is in good overall condition showing handling, use and storage marks. A pair of nice guns from a London Best gunmaker. CP 50,000 - 60,000

(B/2) Improved Modified and Improved Cylinder. The shiny blacked trigger guards have serial number on long tang. Attractive, marbled/smoky flame figured European walnut cast off stocks with finely checkered English straight grips. Buttstock measures 15” over checkered wood butt. Classic drop points are behind locks, and the closely spaced point pattern checkering wraps over top of grips. Gold initial oval which is engraved “DD” in fancy shaded script. Matching splinter forend with Anson release has actioner’s initials “M.T” (believed to be Maurice Timbers). Case colored although now gray patina actions are engraved with nicely cut Purdey house style rose and scroll, as originated in the 1890’s by James Lucas. “J. Purdey & Sons” is on each lockplate as well as on bottom of action over “London”. Actions are built with set disc strikers, cocking indicators, blacked top levers numbered “1” and “2”, slide safe “SAFE” in gold and double triggers. Guns come in a very nice Purdey makers oak and leather case with oil bottle and turnscrews. CONDITION: Very good. (A/1) Barrels retain 95% black most likely benefiting from a prior reblack. Barrels with some light handling marks. Stock in fine condition with some handling and rub marks (small impression on top left horn) perhaps benefiting from a prior restock. Forend with several light handling marks. Action has lost much of its original case colors and now shows approximately 30/40% colors. Action is mechanically sound being tight on face, crisp triggers and ejectors are well timed. (B/2) Barrels retain 95% black most likely benefiting from a prior reblack. There is some visible wear at muzzle, under forend, and some minor marks from usage. Stock is very good with some slight handling marks. The stocks current configuration and condition shows that it could be benefiting from a properly executed restock. Forend is very good with slight handling marks. Action has lost most of its case coloring and is now down to approximately 10% of its original color. Action is mechanically fine with ejectors timed well, crisp triggers and is on face. Case is in fine condition with some wear from storage. Very nice set. CP 30,000 - 40,000

Exterior iron engraved with scrolls. Interior with serial number. Sidelock action engraved with bordered engraving that has sprigs of scroll and scattered sprigs of scroll on lockplates. Both plates signed “THOMAS BLAND & SONS”. Bottom plate also engraved with scrolls. Double triggers. Trigger guard also engraved with scrolls. Automatic safety. Classic dropoints behind locks. Streaked and lightly fiddleback figure straight English style stock checkered at the wrist in point pattern with vacant silver oval at belly and terminating in a rubber recoil pad. Stock is cast off. Housed in a leather case with “JJC” on brass oval on lid and Bland trade label in lid. Accessories comprise two snap caps, oil bottle, mop, brush, screw tip head, and two spent shells for use as snap caps. CONDITION: Very good as partly rehabilitated. Barrel retain the vast majority of a top quality re-bluing job, likely done at time of reproof. Barrels have a few minor marks from handling and use since re-blue, and there are a few minor areas of roughage under the blue, primarily where forend would have connected. Ghosts in rib. Forend is very good, with exterior metal polished, resulting in a softening to engraving; wood is very good with a few very minor marks. Action is very good with a few flashes of case color in protected areas such as behind recoil shields. Trigger guard is very good with crisp engraving. Stock is very good with a few minor marks and an extremely well-executed splice repair along length of spine, with an extra layer of varnish. Butt pad partly crystallized. Action works appropriately when cycled by hand, bores are very good, bright and shiny. Ejectors are in time. Case is very good with some scuffs to exterior from use and some compressions of lining. Accessories are very good with some light evidence of use. Trade label replaced. EW/CP

1464 - SHOT SHELL FELT CANVASBACK UMC.
Counter Felt, "UMC SHOT SHELLS ARE STEEL LINED" approximately 11-1/4" x 13-1/2" felt (wool) mat. Here is a counter felt made for advertising cartridges by the Union Metallic Cartridge Co. These felts would be in gun shops, country stores and the likes, on the glass countertops where... when customers were looking at guns or other items to purchase the felts would serve a dual purpose. 1) Most important to UMC, it was advertising of their products. 2) To protect the glass countertops from being scratched. The canvasback is one of the rarest images to find on these felts. This cataloger knows of five or less that exist. To find the wool felts in this condition is difficult at best, most likely when used, these were thrown away. UMC was purchased by Remington in 1912, however, operations had been underway for many years prior to the combination of the two companies, maybe as early as 1902. Therefore this felt is most likely pre-1912 and could be much older, possibly pre turn of the century. "The Reproduction Company" (cartouche on back of felt) was a company that produced these felts around the turn of the century for advertising. A good early turn of the century (1900) mark. You can Google "Reproduction Company 29 W 34th St New York" and a book from Cornell University Library System (The Magazine of Business) from 1909 has an ad from the "Reproduction Company (1909) stating how to advance your sales by using their felt mats and reproducing "Your Company's Images on Mats in Full Color". They state "Don't hang on to old unprofitable methods of keeping your goods before the public. Reproduce your advertisement on one of our felt mats." This fantastic colorful art in a rare gun/ammunition advertisement from turn of the century, example of early rare UMC advertising. 2,000 - 4,000

LIMITED GUARANTEE

MORPHY'S makes every effort to accurately describe all items offered in its sales. The descriptions carry a limited guarantee. It is a guarantee to protect you against major discrepancies that would have a major effect upon the value of the item. Under no circumstances do we guarantee against anything less than a major discrepancy that would have less than a major effect upon value. This limited guarantee covers authenticity, major restoration or repair not described, counterfeits, reproductions or major fabrications not disclosed in the description. Examples of what we do not guarantee against, imperfections, slight damages, handling marks, natural imperfections, undisclosed blemishes, finish differences, wood-to-metal fit issues, surface cracks or chips in wood, dings and dents, bore condition, and other similar differences that are inherent in the antiques and collectible industry. All items are sold for display purposes. If electrical, mechanical, or other working parts are inoperable, even if working at the time of sale, we are not liable due to the inherent nature of the age of these antiques and items. It is the bidder's responsibility (present or absentee bidders) to determine by inspection by themselves or a hired professional the exact condition of each item prior to bidding on the item. Should MORPHY'S deny an authenticity issue dispute of the buyer, and the buyer is not satisfied, the buyer may, at his or her own expense, obtain the written opinion of two mutually agreed upon recognized experts in the field of the disputed item. The final decision of those experts will determine any refund consideration. This limited guarantee is only available to the buyer of record. Please also refer to POST SALE RETURN POLICY at end of terms.

Except as stated in the limited guarantee above, MORPHY'S will not be held responsible for typographical errors. Neither we nor the consignor, make any guarantees, warranties, or representation, expressed, or implied, in regard to the property or the correctness of the catalog or other description of the authenticity of authorship, physical condition, size, quality, rarity, importance, provenance, exhibition, literature or historic relevance of the property or otherwise.. It is the bidder's responsibility to initiate contact with MORPHY'S in request for additional information regarding the items. Submit all questions regarding upcoming auction items at least 48 hours prior to the date of auction. We will make every effort to answer all submitted questions in a timely manner. We will do our best, but cannot promise that questions submitted within 48 hours of the auction date will be answered prior to the auction. The consigner and we make no representation or warranty as to whether the buyer acquires any reproduction rights in the property. All items will be available for preview approximately one (1) month prior to the auction.

TIMING

There will be no options for refunds of any type beyond 35 calendar days from the auction date. Paying late and thus receiving items late will not change the limitation on the dates above for refund consideration. Please also refer to POST SALE RETURN POLICY at end of terms.

  - o ^:Modern firearm imported from Canada, will have an unassuming marking that contains at least "BV LYNDEN WA" and any of the following not already marked on the firearm: serial number, caliber, country of manufacture, manufacturer name and model. Marking letters are 1/16" tall and just over 0.003" deep. Buyers must consider this in their bidding. Marking will not appear on antique firearms imported from Canada.

- Checkout and pickup at our location:
  - o The same person to whom the bidder number is registered must be the person to pick up the firearm(s) at the conclusion of the sale – Federal Law disallows anyone else from accepting the transfer.
  - o Licensed bidders, i.e. Federal Firearms licensees or Curios & Relics license holders must present a current signed copy of their license. C&R licensee purchases must conform to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (BATF) C&R requirements.
  - o Non-Residents of Pennsylvania
    - may not pickup modern or curio and firearms without a valid FFL or C & R license
  - o Residents of Pennsylvania
    - Modern firearms sales to non-licensed Pennsylvania bidders who are picking up guns at our location will require the completion of a form 4473 background check.
    - Handgun purchases also require an additional PICS form/background check for each handgun purchased. This process to fill out forms and obtain a response may take 5-10 minutes. Any applicable state fees associated with these checks will be added to the customer's invoice.
    - If you are "Denied" by FBI / PICS background check you will not be able to take possession of the firearm and the firearm will be consigned to the next available firearm auction. Dealers and Individuals that bid on and win items own the items and are fully responsible for payment within terms regardless of whether the FBI / PICS approves their taking physical possession of the items. MORPHY'S will not cancel the sale due to disapproval for any reason.

• If you are appealing a "Denied" decision, we will hold the firearm only if you pay in full.

- Shipping
  - o Any firearms being shipped are legally required to be shipped to a BATF licensed FFL dealer within your state of residence for transfer and pickup. For states that allow shipment of C& R firearms to the C&R license holder, MORPHY's reserves the right to ship those C&R firearms to the address listed on C&R license. You will be responsible for all shipping and transfer costs incurred.
  - o Modern handguns are required to be shipped via FedEx 2-Day Air.
  - o Modern long guns are shipped via FedEx ground to the FFL dealer.
  - o Upon receipt of the invoice, buyer is to confirm the FFL validity and ship to address on the invoice. If not already on the invoice or it is changing, contact a licensed dealer to send their FFL to firearms@morphyauctions.com with the paid invoice number notated in the subject field.
  - o MORPHY'S will not be responsible for exporting modern firearms, weapon or any ammunition. Please see INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING below for additional shipping information. Buyer may contact a third-party provider. We recommend making contact with an exporter prior to bidding for pricing, process and timeline information.

- National Firearms Act (NFA) Class 3 Weapons and Destructive Devices (DD) Processing
  - o Dealers: Buyer must provide MORPHY'S with a copy of their active FFL and either their SOT or DD license, whatever applies. Estimated time for processing and approval of the required Form 3 normally takes two months, dealer to dealer via E-File is usually less than a week.
  - o Individuals: Law requires a completed Form 4, or Form 5 for deactivated guns. MORPHY'S will prepare and sign the front of the applicable transfer form, and send to the individual buyer. Individual is responsible for completing requirements for fingerprints, photo, and a fee of $200 per item, as well as completing applicable portions of the reverse side of the form. Estimated time for processing and approval of Form 4 is 9-12 months.
  - o Dealers and Individuals that bid on and win NFA or DD items own the items and are fully responsible for payment within terms regardless of whether the BATF approves their taking physical possession of the items. MORPHY'S will not cancel the sale due to BATF disapproval for any reason.
- Long guns will only be sold to persons 18 years of age, or older. Handguns will only be sold to those persons 21 years of age, or older. Dealers are bound by these minimum age requirements.
- Since all firearms sold are "collectible" items, MORPHY'S does not test the safety or warrant functionality of these firearms. All firearm purchases should be examined by a certified gunsmith prior to shooting.
- MORPHY'S reserves the right to deny the sale of a firearm to any buyer.

GOODS MADE FROM OR CONTAINING MATERIALS FROM PROTECTED SPECIES - MORPHY'S does not accept any responsibility or liability for the sale of items containing materials from protected species or for any omission in marking or labeling goods as containing materials from protected species. Such material includes, but is not limited to, ivory from elephants and walruses, tortoise shell, crocodile skin, whalebone, rhinoceros horn, some species of coral and certain woods. Restrictions on the importation, exportation, sale, transfer, and/or possession of goods containing materials from protected species derive from international, federal, and state laws and regulations promulgated thereunder. Laws include, but are not limited to, the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Flora and Fauna (CITES), the Endangered Species Act (ESA) and the Marine Mammals Protection Act (MMPA). States currently restricting trade of protected species include, but are not limited to, California, New York and New Jersey.

Prospective buyers are on notice that several countries completely prohibit importation of property made, all or in part, of protected materials. Some countries require special permits, such as a CITES permit, from the relevant regulating authority in the countries of exportation and importation as well. Potential buyers intending to import the property into another country should be familiar with the relevant customs laws and regulations prior to bidding on goods containing material from protected species. Regulations may vary as the U.S. generally prohibits importation of articles containing material(s) from species it has designated endangered or threatened if the articles are less than 100 years old, subject to certain exceptions.

It shall be the potential buyer's sole responsibility to research and satisfy the requirements of any laws and regulations that apply to the import and export of property as described in the aforementioned paragraphs. All buyers agree to comply with any and all domestic and international restrictions on the trade of protected species as a condition of the sale. Please note that the ability to obtain an export license or certificate does not ensure the ability to obtain an import license or certificate in another country, and vice versa. It is the buyer's responsibility to obtain any export or import licenses and/or certificates as well as any other required documentation. MORPHY'S is not able to assist the buyer in attempting to obtain the appropriate licenses and/or certificates, and there is no assurance that an export license or certificate can be obtained. The inability or delay in obtaining permits, licenses or other permissions to import or export goods containing material from protected species will not constitute a basis for rescission or cancellation of the sale of said goods or the delay in payment of purchased items in accordance with these Bidder Terms and Conditions.

BIDDING
RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

The auctioneer will determine the highest bidder. The auctioneer alone has the right to reopen the bidding of an item if deemed necessary due to a dispute. If there is a tie bid between the floor and Internet or absentee bid, the floor bid takes precedence. MORPHY'S and its representatives reserve the right to remove those attendees who impede preview and/or the auction. Title to all merchandise shall pass to the highest bidder at the fall of the auctioneer's hammer. The buyer will then assume all risk and full responsibility of the lot purchased once ownership has changed. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. MORPHY'S is not responsible for any errors in bids, omissions of bids, or failure to execute bids and shall have no liability to any bidder for any technical or other failure associated with the internet, absentee bidding, or telephone bidding.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

- ABSENTEE BIDDING - MORPHY'S will accept absentee bids if pre-authorized by mail, fax or through www.morphyauctions.com online. Absentee bidders must use the absentee bid form and clearly mark the lot number, title and maximum bid amount. Absentee bidding forms may be accessed online at www.morphyauctions.com. If there are two (2) identical bids placed on the same item, priority will be given to the first bid received. All bids must be left in increments as explained on our bid form. If a bid is "out of increment," the auctioneer has the right to round the bid up to the next correct increment. Bidders may preview, register and place bids online through our website, www.morphyauctions.com. Absentee and online bids placed through www.morphyauctions.com will be auto charged to the credit card entered 48 hours after the end of the sale. If you wish to pay by another method please contact us within 48 hours after the sale. Seller(s) agree to allow the Auctioneer to accept and execute absentee bids in a competitive manner for potential buyers and under the MORPHY'S absentee bidding terms and conditions. During the live sale, the auctioneer will execute your absentee bid competitively up to the maximum amount you have indicated.
- ONLINE BIDDING - Online bidding through www.morphyauctions.com, Live Auctioneers, Bidsquare, Proxibid, or other bidding platforms may be available; all Terms and Conditions still apply. A surcharge may be added for third party online platforms. Refer to your bidding platform of choice for the final buyer's premium. If there is a tie bid between the internet bidding venues and the floor, the floor bid takes precedence. If a credit card has been provided to one of the online bidding platforms, MORPHY'S reserves the right to use and charge the credit card if the winning bidder has not paid via another method by the 7 day term in Payment Terms below. Due to our fast paced auctions and bids coming from floor bidders, phone bidders, internet bidders and absentee bids, the auctioneer has the final word on all item(s) sold. You (the bidder) assume the risk of winning an item online and not having the item actually sell to you. This is due to the final call of the auctioneer and the operator not being able to re-open that lot. Online bidders are fully responsible for accidental bidding as if they bid normally.
- BID RESULTS – MORPHY'S will only contact successful bidders. Please allow 24-48 hours post auction to receive your official invoice from MORPHY'S. The invoice will include item, hammer price, premium, packing and handling, shipping, insurance, and any other charges that apply. Please hold phone inquiries regarding bid success until after receiving your invoice. For verifications, MORPHY'S cannot provide winning bid information until the second business day after the auction. MORPHY'S will not provide bidder information to any outside sources.
- TELEPHONE BIDDING - Requests for phone lines must be received at least three (3) days prior to the auction date. MORPHY'S cannot guarantee phone lines but will make every attempt to accommodate those who wish to participate through that method. Phone lines are provided on a first come first served basis. Please visit www.morphyauctions.com or call 877-968-8880 to request a call from our representatives during the live auction.

BID INCREMENTS

Bid increments listed are a general guideline. Actual increments are at the auctioneer's discretion. If a lot does not receive a bid of 50% of the low estimate, the lot will be passed by the auctioneer.

$0 - $500	$25
$500 - $1,000	$50
$1,000 - $2,000	$100
$2,000 - $5,000	$250
$5,000 - $10,000	$500
$10,000 +	Auctioneer's discretion

RESERVES

The majority of our items are unreserved, but occasionally items may carry a moderate reserve. Please note that when a lot carries a reserve, the reserve is usually somewhere below our low estimate. In the case of a reserved item, the seller has authorized the auctioneer to bid on their behalf until the reserve price is reached.

BUYER'S PREMIUM

A 20% buyer's premium will be added to all successful bids and is payable by the buyer as part of the total purchase cost. A 3% merchant fee is also automatically applied to all invoices but can be discounted upon payment by cash, check, money order or wire transfer that is received within 7 days from the receipt of the invoice. If the type of payment is split, invoice will reflect the 3% charge for merchant fees on the entire invoice. In addition, a surcharge will be added for certain third party online bidding platforms the bidder utilizes. Refer to your bidding platform of choice for the final buyer's premium.

SALES TAX

MORPHY"S is required to collect sales tax where our company established nexus in the previous year. It is the bidder's responsibility to know the sales and use tax law in their locality and know what sales and use tax will be due upon their purchase. Lots are subject to all applicable state and local taxes, unless appropriate permits are on file with MORPHY'S including lots delivered to you, or your representative. Bidder agrees to pay MORPHY'S the actual amount of tax due in the event that sales tax is not properly collected due to: 1) an expired, inaccurate, or inappropriate tax certificate or declaration, 2) an incorrect interpretation of the applicable statute, 3) or any other reason. The appropriate form or certificate must be on file at and verified by MORPHY'S five days prior to Auction, or tax must be paid; only if such form or certificate is received by MORPHY'S within 4 days after the Auction can a refund of tax paid be made. Lots from different auctions may not be aggregated for sales tax purposes.

PAYMENT, INTEREST & STORAGE FEES

Any invoice totaling more than $100,000 must be paid within three (3) days. All other merchandise must be paid in full within seven (7) days of the date of the invoice. Payments can be made by going to your account online at www.morphyauctions.com, call 877-968-8880 or mail payment to: Dan Morphy Auctions LLC 2000 N Reading Rd, Denver, PA 17517. Upon payment in full, it is the bidder's responsibility to submit any additional information necessary, including an FFL, to initiate transfer and shipping. Interest will be charged on all balances not paid at the rate of 1-1/2% monthly (18% APR) effective 30 days from the invoice date. All goods not retrieved by Buyer within 30 days after the invoice date, shall be subject to a storage fee of $50 per regular sized item per month or $100 per oversized item per month. Buyer authorizes

BIDDER
TERMS & CONDITIONS

MORPHY's to sell, at their standard commission and consignment contract terms, any goods not retrieved after a 90 day period in any manner deemed appropriate by MORPHY's and the proceeds will be applied to any outstanding balance due from the buyer.

Invoices will be auto charged to the credit card on file within 48 hours after the end of the sale. If you wish to pay by another method please contact us within 48 hours after the sale.

We accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, personal checks, certified checks, wire transfers, money orders, and cash.

- CREDIT CARD – If a credit card is used as any form of total payment, invoice will reflect a 3% surcharge on the entire invoice. This charge is automatically added, but will be discounted if payment is received by cash, check, money order or wire transfer. MORPHY's reserves the right to refuse to ship to a different address than the billing address on the credit card being used.
- CHECK - There will be a $30.00 service charge for returned checks. Make checks payable to: Dan Morphy Auctions LLC. MORPHY'S reserves the right to hold items paid for by personal or company check until said check clears (14 days). MORPHY'S has the right to hold all checks over $2,000. Customers who have an established successful buying history with MORPHY'S may be exempt from this requirement. We will accept a personal or company check >$2,000 from a first time buyer if you provide a Bank Letter of Credit, available on our website, www.morphyauctions.com.
- WIRE TRANSFERS – There will be a $30 charge added to all wire transfers less than $2,000. Please add this amount to your invoice total before sending a wire transfer.

In the few situations where a successful bidder does not remit payment when due, MORPHY'S will proceed with the legal steps necessary to protect its interests and will block the bidder from future auction participation.

PACKING/SHIPPING

- It is the bidder's responsibility to take shipping, handling, and insurance costs into consideration when bidding on items.
- BIDDERS PRESENT AND TAKING ITEMS AFTER AUCTION – Since item liability transfers upon a successful bid, items paid for must be packed, transported and/or removed by the buyer at his/her own risk after the close of the sale. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. If any employee or agent of MORPHY'S shall pack or transport the merchandise, it is fully at the risk and responsibility and expense of the buyer. MORPHY'S shall not be held liable for any loss or damage that may be caused by the said agent or employee.
- ITEMS NOT PICKED UP THE DAY OF THE SALE – Packaging, shipping, and insurance on all items that MORPHY'S agrees to ship to locations that can accept shipments will be made available as an added courtesy and at an additional cost. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. All applicable charges will be applied to the invoice. Shipping will be based on actual costs via FedEx, USPS, or other carriers required based upon the contents of the shipment. Packaging and insurance will vary in cost depending on the items on each invoice. All packages will be shipped with insurance. Standard items packed internally by MORPHY's will ship approximately seven to fourteen (7-14) business days after payment is received. Oversize and breakable items, which MORPHY'S will indicate on the invoice will ship based upon the buyer's arrangement with a 3rd party shipper. MORPHY's cannot combine standard item shipments with oversize and breakable item shipments. If any employee or agent of MORPHY'S shall pack or transport the merchandise, it is fully at the risk and responsibility and expense of the buyer. MORPHY'S shall not be held liable for any loss or damage that may be caused by the said agent or employee.
- SHIPPING TERMS - MORPHY'S will ship items to the buyer at the listed address via FedEx or other carriers, FOB Denver, Pennsylvania or FOB other auction locations. Any risk of loss or damage to the item(s) during transit via FedEx, or any other carrier, in excess of the insurance provided by or purchased from MORPHY'S, is at the risk of the buyer. Any additional insurance coverage should be purchased by the buyer through the carrier. Buyer releases MORPHY's from any and all claims for loss or damage to any item during transit and agrees to pay all costs of defense, including attorney's fees, for any claims brought against MORPHY'S for loss or damage occurring during transit.
- INSURANCE - Shipping insurance is automatically added, which you can decline by contacting us and providing a signed waiver of insurance form. Insurance for all 3rd party shipments must be arranged through that carrier. Insurance provided or purchased through MORPHY's applies only to shipments to the United States and Canada. Buyers must purchase their own insurance for shipments to other countries.
- INTERNATIONAL SHIPMENTS – MORPHY'S welcomes our international customers. MOPRHY'S can provide upon request a complete process and set of recommended company contacts with whom the Buyer can work to understand the steps, timing, and cost to acquire items at auction. It shall be the potential buyer's sole responsibility to research and satisfy the requirements of any laws and regulations that apply to the import and export of property and for paying all shipping costs, customs and duties on the items. By law, MORPHY'S cannot, and will not, declare lesser values for any international purchases and all shipments will include the invoice with purchase totals including the buyer's premium and shipping cost.
- 3RD PARTY SHIPPING of OVERSIZE ITEMS – Buyers will need to either pick up the items personally or arrange a 3rd party shipping service for oversize items. As a general guideline, the following will indicate which packages apply, as they are of a certain weight, length, or dimensional size.
  · Dimensional size is length (the longest measurement) + (height x 2) + (width x 2). For example a 36" x 36" x 12" package = 36 + (36 x2) + (12 x 2) = 132"
  · USA home shipments must be <70 lbs. and <108" length and <165" dimensional size
  · USA business shipments must be <150 lbs. and <108" length and <165" dimensional size
  · International shipments must be <150 lbs. and <108" length and <130" dimensional size
  · There may be certain shipments that meet these requirements that will still require 3rd party shipping, and we will communicate the reason in those cases.
- 3RD PARTY SHIPPING OF BREAKABLE ITEMS - MORPHY'S reserves the right to choose items and orders that it will pack, ship, and/or insure directly using our shipping department. Those items that MORPHY'S will not ship will require that the buyer either pick up the items personally or arrange a 3rd party shipping service. Examples of items that may apply after determination by our shipping department include but are not limited to: items with neon of any type (working or non-working), all glass display cases of any size; coin-operated, arcade and vending items with fragile parts and/or glass; signs with parts or protrusions beyond the main body of the sign, oversized vases (guideline – larger than fit in a 20" x 20" x 40" box), high value lamps and glass of all sizes, high value artwork including but not limited to paintings, statuary, sculpture, figurines, dioramas, and other intricate items; and items subject to impact by moisture and known handling issues in the supply chain. Under no circumstances will MORPHY'S be responsible for shipping damage to picture frames of any kind.

- For any buyers who wish to arrange for their own shipping, MORPHY'S must be notified at least seven (7) days prior to arrival of the shipping company name, arrival date and time. Pickup must be scheduled to begin and end within our normal business hours (9am – 4pm weekdays). Buyers must arrange weekend pickups in advance with MORPHY'S staff, and additional charges may be necessary for overtime. All 3rd party shippers must arrive with a copy of the invoice.

AGREEMENT REGARDING GOVERNING LAW, VENUE, AND LEGAL RIGHTS

I hereby understand and agree that any controversy or claim arising out of or relating to MORPHY'S Bidder Terms & Conditions, which includes this provision (hereafter referred to as "Terms & Conditions"), MORPHY'S, or the breach thereof (hereafter referred to as "Claims"), shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. I hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the appropriate court in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Claims and their enforcement, and I agree that any and all Claims must be adjudicated, heard, determined, and resolved in said court, and I hereby irrevocably waive any objection on the ground that any such action or proceeding in said court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. MORPHY'S failure to exercise or enforce any right or provision of these Terms & Conditions or any other legal rights, shall not constitute a waiver of such right or provision. Any waiver of any provision of these Terms & Conditions by MORPHY'S must be made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of MORPHY'S specifically referencing the provision(s) contained within the Terms & Conditions to be waived. Headings used in the Terms & Conditions are for convenience only and are not to be relied upon. If any provision of the Terms & Conditions is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the parties nevertheless agree that the court should endeavor to give effect to the parties' intentions as reflected in the provision, and the other provisions of the Terms & Conditions shall remain in full force and effect. These Terms & Conditions will inure to the benefit of, and are intended to be, enforceable by MORPHY'S, its parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, successors, assigns, members, directors, officers, and licensees. There are no third party beneficiaries to these Terms & Conditions; a person or entity who is not a party or signatory to these Terms & Conditions has no rights under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to rely upon or enforce any term or provision of these Terms & Conditions.

POST SALE RETURN POLICY

MORPHY'S engages knowledgeable experts to provide catalog descriptions on the merchandise we sell. Every effort is made to ensure those descriptions are accurate and that they fully disclose any exceptions to condition. Any buyer who has made their payment within the due date of 7 calendar days who wishes to report a problem must notify MORPHY'S within three calendar (3) days of receipt of their purchased item. Buyers who have not made their payment within the due date of 7 days may not return any items under any circumstances. No lots purchased by floor bidders (including those bidders acting as agents for others) may be returned. Please refer to MORPHY'S limited guarantee herein. A Return Authorization Number (RA#) must be issued by MORPHY'S before you ship anything back to our address. Any items arriving without a return authorization will not be given a refund. The item in question must be shipped with the RA# on the outside and inside of the package, with full insurance, so it arrives at MORPHY'S within one week of the aforementioned authorization.
